

SHEILA
O'NEILL

Sheila O'Neill (Mrs. Willie Hudson) has lived in sparsely populated Nevada and in teeming Chicago. Small towns and the Ozark Mountains have comprised her environment.

She has contributed verse to San Francisco publications, other large newspapers and religious magazines, is a student of the advanced short story under Thomas Blanchard and E. Greet of Columbia University at the University of California, has an administration and supervision credential in the state of California and a license to practice law in the state of Tennessee.

Poetry, all kinds of people, Irish folklore, and literature for children are the special interests which fit Mrs. Hudson to write such a distinctively Irish story as SHAUN AND SHEILA.

The effective illustrations are the work of Marjorie Crittenden, a western artist.

Shaun and Sheila in the rowboat on their way to Blasket Island, the dainty figures dancing about the fairy mound and the moon peering down at the prowling old leprechaun portray the delicate, whimsical approach of the artist in illustrating this Irish tale.

The CAXTON PRINTERS, Ltd.

Caldwell, Idaho

SHAUN AND SHEILA

by

SHEILA O'NEILL

CAXTON

SHAUN & SHEILA

by
SHEILA O'NEILL

ILLUSTRATED BY MARJORIE CRITTENDEN

$3.00

In the pleasant pages of this book young readers will live for a time in timeless Ireland among the wee good folk who bless their warmhearted believers! With Shaun and Sheila they will meet the leprechaun in the churn and the fairies under the moon; they will go to the charming island of Blasket in a little boat for Daddo's birthday.

With the twins' American cousin they will fish up seaweed for the fire, follow the flocks to the Fair, sing the old Irish songs, and listen to Father Patrick's merry tales around the hearth at night.

And when the book is put down, the children will have made friends of the delightful people who live between its covers.

Other CAXTON BOOKS for the Youngest Readers

Becker, Edna $2.00

PICKPOCKET SONGS

Droll and whimsical, shy and tender nature poems for children, Sears Frank has captured and interpreted their moods in his charming illustrations. 85 pages, 8vo, with colored frontispiece and 9 other illustrations by Sears Frank.

DeHuff, Elizabeth Willis $2.50

HOPPITY BUNNY'S HOP

An amazingly delightful story of the adventures of one small rabbit who is carried away in an airplane to the strange Southwest desert land. 116 pages, 8vo, with colored frontispiece and 33 other illustrations from drawings by Mildred Lowry Hill.

Leonard, A. Byron $2.50

RUFI

A squirrel's life is an exciting and hazardous existence as presented in this book for younger children. 89 pages, 8vo, with colored frontispiece and 7 black and white illustrations by Walter Yost.

Nesbitt, Nell Smidell $2.50

COBI CAMEL

The adventures of a camel who learns to be proud of his yellow coat. 159 pages, 8vo, with colored frontispiece and 26 black and white drawings by Mildred Gatlin Weber.