PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

It's hard to believe that it's just about time for our winter meeting--1990 sure went fast! Our meeting will be held February 7-9 in Boise (see attached announcement) and promises to be very interesting. We will be holding two panel discussions in addition to our technical session. With regard to these panels, I would like feedback from you on the following points: 1) Are they worthwhile; that is, do they provide new information, insight, and/or food for thought. 2) Should they be incorporated into our annual meeting every year. 3) If you like the idea, what other subjects could be addressed by panels.

I hope all of you will make an effort to attend our winter meeting. I've heard a number of people comment on how well biologists from different agencies get along in Idaho. Part of this relationship can be attributed to the fact that many of us get together professionally and socially at our winter meetings. These meetings provide all of us with an opportunity to get to know one another, thus enhancing our working relationships. Most of the time, conflicts and misunderstandings occur when communication breaks down. Let's use our annual meeting to not only maintain but improve inter-agency (and intra-agency) cooperation. See you in February!

CALL FOR NOMINATIONS

Einarson Award: The Einarson Award Committee seeks nominations for the Arthur S. Einarson Award to be presented at the Annual Meeting of the Northwest Section of The Wildlife Society in Seattle WA in April 1991. The award provides for recognition and commendation of outstanding work in the wildlife profession in the Northwest Section. Consider the accomplishments of individuals over their lifetime, not just those of recent years. Please send your nominations to:

Wildlife Administrator Award

This is an award designed to recognize outstanding contributions and achievements by wildlife professionals largely engaged in administrative work. These people are not directly involved in wildlife research, management or teaching. Nevertheless, their efforts are extremely important to the smooth functioning of agencies and universities. Unfortunately, their contributions often go unnoticed.

This award will be presented by the Northwest Section of The Wildlife Society at its annual meeting in Seattle WA during April 1991. Please send your nominations to:

Mr. Al Christiansen

Mule and Black-tailed Deer Award Announced

The Western Deer Group and the family of the late Dr. O.C. "Charlie" Wallmo have announced the opening of nominations for the third O.C. Wallmo Award providing for the "recognition and commendation of outstanding contributions to knowledge and improved management of mule and black-tailed deer."

Charlie Wallmo was one of North America's foremost wildlife scientists and authorities on deer at his untimely death from cancer in June 1982. His research contributions, spanning more than 35 years, were abundant and significant in advancing knowledge and improving management of mule and black-tailed deer.

The O.C. "Charlie" Wallmo Award consists of a bronze mule deer (10 inches in height) sculpted by his son Joe B. Wallmo, a wildlife artist living in Loveland CO. The award is presented biennially in conjunction with the Western Deer Workshop sponsored by the Western Association of Fish and Wildlife Agencies. The first award was presented in 1987 to Dr. Richard D. Taber and the second award in 1989 to Dr. Richard J. Mackie for their many contributions to the knowledge of mule and black-tailed deer.

Nominations for the third award, to be presented at the August 1991 workshop in Monterey CA should be sent to:

David F. Pac
Montana Dept. Fish, Wildlife & Parks
FWP Building, MSU Campus
Bozeman MT 59717-0001

Nominations, which will be accepted

through May 1, 1991, must include:

1. A brief justification and resume of the qualifications of the nominee
2. Copies of appropriate reports, publications
3. Supporting letters from at least two other individuals familiar with or capable of objective assessment of the merits of the nominee and the contributions upon which the nomination is based. Both short-term and long-term contributions will be considered. Additional information may be obtained from the Committee Chairman.
