

By early December 1980 The Wildlife Society will have its own belt buckle available for purchase by the members. The Western Heritage Company is casting and marketing them for $12.50 (bronze) and $13.50 (polished pewter), plus $1.00 for postage and handling. The buckle's front design is shown above. The back of the buckle includes a plaque displaying the Society objectives. The buckle backs are serially numbered in sequence as they are purchased.

The Idaho Chapter has nurtured the buckle from conception to birth. Therefore, the chapter will receive a 15 percent royalty from each sale. The chapter will use the royalty for numerous activities, e.g. to help support the TWS Building Fund, to provide the extra dollars for establishing the Elmer Norberg Wildlife Scholarship, to sponsor high school youngsters at environmental workshops, and similar projects.

The buckle has been approved for sale by the TWS Executive Council. It is only available for purchase from Western Heritage Company. The company guarantees that you'll be satisfied with the buckle metal and craftsmanship. Order the buckles from Western Heritage Company, P.O. Box 455, Encampment, WY 82325. Allow four weeks for delivery.

Dear Tom;

Enclosed is the buckle publicity we discussed on 11-14-80. If you have questions or need more information, call me, FTS 554-1931.

I discussed this draft with Western Heritage before finalizing it, so I believe the information to be correct. The Company will have order forms ready in December and I'll try to have one included with each TWS Bulletin.

Thanks for inviting me to put the buckle ad in the NW Sec. newsletter.

Yours truly,

Jim Nee

THE T.W.S. PORTFOLIO & NOTEBOOK

These genuine fake leather paper carrying devices were made especially for Society members in Idaho. The chapter is doing this project to raise money for the Elmer Norberg Memorial Wildlife Management Scholarship Fund. State chapters should place a combined order with a request to have their chapter name placed near the logo. Otherwise, only the T.W.S. logo will be on the article.

These unique handsome devices are brown in color with the T.W.S. logo printed in gold. The 8½ x 11 tablets neatly fit into the notebook holder, which then goes in the pouch with all your other important documents.

Allow 4 weeks for delivery, please.

THE WILDLIFE SOCIETY BUCKLE

These beautiful hand-finished buckles are available in fine pewter (resembles sterling silver in appearance) and solid bronze. Developed in cooperation with the Idaho Chapter and approved by the national office as the official Wildlife Society buckle. Made to the same high quality as the buckles we manufacture for U.S. Forest Service, Bureau of Land Management, National Park Service, U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, and other Federal and State natural resource agencies. Each buckle is serially numbered and gift boxed.

We make our own brown, 1½-inch wide, heavy 10-oz. belts from the thickest part of the best hides, tallow the edges, and hand rub to a beautiful rich finish.

If you are not completely satisfied, return merchandise in 10 days for full refund of purchase price.

Allow 4 weeks for delivery, please.

About The Wildlife Society

The Wildlife Society, founded in 1937, is a professional, nonprofit organization dedicated to the wise management and conservation of the wildlife resources of the world. Ecology is the primary scientific discipline of the wildlife profession. The interests of the Society, therefore, embrace the interactions of all organisms with their natural environments. The Society recognizes that humans, as other organisms, have a total dependency upon the environment. It is the Society's belief also that wildlife, in its myriad forms, is basic to the maintenance of a human culture that provides quality living.

The principal objectives of the Society are: to develop and promote sound stewardship of wildlife resources and of the environments upon which wildlife and humans depend; to undertake an active role in preventing human-induced environmental degradation; to increase awareness, understanding, and appreciation of wildlife values; and to seek the highest standards in all activities of the wildlife profession.

The Society's membership of nearly 10,000 is comprised of research scientists, educators, communications specialists, conservation law enforcement officers, resource managers, and administrators from more than 70 countries of the world. Its purposes are served through chapter, sectional, national and international meetings, and by publication of The Journal of Wildlife Management, Wildlife Monographs, Wildlife Society Bulletin, the Wildlifer newsletter, and selected books on scientific and professional subjects.

The Society's unique emblem features Egyptian hieroglyphics. The literal translation of the hieroglyphics, from top to bottom, is: beasts (or animals), birds, fishes, and flowering plants (or vegetation).
