Subject: Corporate Contributions Annual Meeting
Date sent: Thu, 8 Oct 1998 15:46:12 -0600

Kerry, I was wondering who is soliciting contributions from corporations and other sources for the annual meeting. I know that Idaho Power (now known to the world as IDACORP) has been contributing to the ICWS in past years and have money available for next year's meeting (I believe $250). Is somebody approaching Boise Cascade and Potlatch and perhaps some of the consulting firms (CH2MHILL)? Do we have a list of potential donors? Is this another task for the Vice-President or do we pull out the heavy guns (i.e., the President)?

Tony, I believe that the printing costs for materials for the annual meeting can at least be partly covered by IDACORP.
