Neil Bridge is an accomplished jazz pianist as well as composer, arranger and teacher in the Denver Public School System. He is actively involved in the vocal jazz activities in the Denver schools and also has several fine vocal charts published.

Bill Tole is one of the most prominent trombone players on the west coast today. He was lead trombone with the "Airmen of Note" for four years and now performs with the bands of Less Brown, Louis Bellson, Nelson Riddle and Si Zetner. TV shows in his list of credits include Pearl Bailey, Phyllis Diller, Dinah Shore, Frank Sinatra, Bob Hope, Dean Martin, and Merv Griffin. He has also played with the Pittsburgh Symphony under William Steinberg.

Mr. Tole is appearing courtesy of the King Musical Instrument Company and the University of Idaho Fine Arts Committee.
