Idaho Is Our Territory.

Horizon Air has more flights to more Northwest cities than any other airline.

From our Boise hub, we serve the Idaho cities of Sun Valley, Idaho Falls, Lewiston, Moscow/Pullman, Pocatello and Twin Falls. And there's frequent direct service to Portland, Salt Lake City, Spokane and Seattle as well. We also offer low-cost Sun Valley winter and summer vacation packages, including airfare and lodging.

So if you're bound for Idaho or anywhere in the Northwest, fly there on Horizon Air. We know the territory. For reservations, see your Travel Agent or call 1-800-547-9308.

President's Message for the 1994 Lionel Hampton Jazz Festival

Thank you for joining us for the 27th Annual Lionel Hampton Jazz Festival to "become the music until the music stops" along with the Vibes President, Lionel Hampton. We pay special tribute to Lionel Hampton for his 66 years of devotion to Jazz as he and his Giants of Jazz Trumpet Friends pay tribute to his friend Dizzy Gillespie.

Celebrating its 27th year, the Lionel Hampton Jazz Festival is proud to present jazz artists who are legends throughout the world and who come to Moscow by special invitation to share America's unique art form with us.

During the four days of the festival some twelve thousand young musicians come to the university to learn from the world's finest jazz artists, who offer master classes by day and performances by night. Each evening concert is an experience in jazz at its best.

The jazz festival vividly illustrates the University of Idaho's fulfillment of its mission to educate aspiring musicians and to open the arts to all students and the community, not just in February, but throughout the year.

Music is the voice of the soul; all who participate - musicians, learners and listeners - will be uplifted by the music of the 27th Annual Lionel Hampton Jazz Festival.

Elisabeth A. Zinser, President
University of Idaho

From the Provost to Jazz Festival Participants

Welcome to the 27th Annual Lionel Hampton Jazz Festival! We are very delighted that you are able to attend this extraordinary event.

The University of Idaho is proud of its legacy of providing a well-balanced education enriched by visiting performers, lecturers, and our own outstanding faculty. Again this year we present performances by the world's greatest jazz artists. Student participants have a unique opportunity to display their musical talents in competitions and enhance their knowledge in workshops conducted by Dr. Lionel Hampton, our "National Treasure," and other renowned guest artists and critics.

We invite all visiting students to consider attending the University of Idaho and to become a part of this rich tradition of excellence.

Thomas O. Bell, Provost
University of Idaho

LIONEL HAMPTON

vibes

Internationally acclaimed giant of the jazz world, and the undisputed "King of the Vibraphone" for well over half a century, Lionel Hampton began his phenomenal musical career at an early age when a student at the Holy Rosary Academy in Kenosha, Wisconsin, where he studied under the strict supervision of the Dominican Sisters. His first instrument was a set of drums and his idol during these early years was drummer Jimmy Bertrand whose records he treasured. Louis Armstrong soon became a major influence in Hamp's young years. It was in 1930 that Armstrong hired him to appear, on the drums, at a Los Angeles nightclub engagement. Louis was so impressed with Hampton's talents he invited him to join his big band for a recording session. During the session break, Armstrong led young Hampton to a set of vibes and asked if he knew how to play them. Lionel, who was well schooled in his keyboard studies, picked up the mallets and played. The first tune cut that day, "Memories of You," (with Lionel on vibes) became a tremendous hit and has remained a classic throughout the years.

In 1936, Benny Goodman asked Lionel to join his small group, featuring Goodman, Teddy Wilson on piano and Gene Krupa on drums.

They immediately became the legendary Benny Goodman Quartet. Musical history was being made, both for their brilliant music produced and because they were the first racially integrated group of jazz musicians. The Swing Era had begun. "Moonglow," "Dinah," and "Vibraphone Blues" were immediate hits and will always remain classics in the jazz annals. Hampton formed his own band in the early 1940's. "Sunny Side of the Street," "Central Avenue Breakdown," his signature tune, "Flying Home," and "Hamp's Boogie-Woogie" all became top-of-the-chart best-sellers upon release and the name Lionel Hampton became world famous overnight.

The Lionel Hampton Orchestra had a phenomenal array of sidemen. Among those who got their start with Hamp were: Quincy Jones, Wes Montgomery, Clark Terry, Cat Anderson, Ernie Royal, Joe Newman and Fats Navarro. Among Lionel's proteges were singers Dinah Washington, Joe Williams, Betty Carter and Aretha Franklin. Over the years, jazz giant Hampton has received innumerable prestigious awards which keep coming to the distinguished musical master. Among them: The title, American Goodwill Ambassador, bestowed by Presidents Eisenhower and Nixon, The Papal Medal from Pope Paul I, Sixteen Honorary Doctorates, and in 1992 the highly esteemed Kennedy Center Honors Award, in which he shared the musical distinction with Mstislav Rostropovich.

Reminiscing recently about his lifetime of honors and recognitions, Hampton held that the highlight of his career took place when the Music School of the University of Idaho was named the Lionel Hampton School of Music in 1987, becoming the first university music school to be named in honor of a jazz musician.

Also a celebrated composer, Hamp's original ballad, "Midnight Sun" (with Johnny Mercer and Sonny Burke) has become a beloved classic in American Jazz and popular music. His talent in the symphonic field is highly respected. Two major symphonic works, "King David Suite" and "Blues Suite" have been performed often by leading orchestras throughout the world. Now, at age 85, Lionel Hampton continues to keep an astonishing professional schedule. The energetic Hampton completely belies his venerable age. Despite the rigors of his hectic calendar, Hampton continues to amaze those in the music business with the care and time he devotes to many public service projects. A "dream" of his would be to aid in the creation of a university in Uptown New York "...where young Black kids can learn to be Doctors, Lawyers, IBM technicians, and, maybe even musicians."

Hampton divides his appearances between his exciting 17-piece orchestra (considered by critics to be the best big band of its kind in the world) and his 8-piece group of celebrated jazz artists. His long-time record label, Glad Hamp records, has released many dozens of recordings. Lionel's latest 1993 discs on the Telarc label are "Dedicated to Diz" and on the TelArchive label, "Vintage Hampton." Hamp will tell you that late February is his happiest time of the year when the University of Idaho presents THE LIONEL HAMPTON JAZZ FESTIVAL, now in its twenty-seventh year. The Festival is proud to present jazz artists from around the world who come to Moscow by special invitation. What's on Lionel's agenda following the Festival? There are a series of concerts, nightclub engagements, overseas tours, and, at Lionel's insistence, some time set aside for him to concentrate on the musical compositions he's now working on. Several TV specials are upcoming and a highly anticipated series of concerts in China are in the making for late 1994 or early 1995. Lionel Hampton would like you to know, "These octogenarian years of mine are my best years yet!"

DELLA REESE

vocals

Della began singing in church when she was six years old and throughout her formative years she was involved in gospel singing. At thirteen, Della was hired by the late Mahalia Jackson to sing with her group. Later, while attending Wayne State University, she formed her own female gospel group, "The Meditation Singers," which is listed in the Who's Who of Gospel Music. Her real break came when she was hostessing and singing at Detroit's famed "Flame Showbar," where she was exposed to the talents and styles of such music greats as Ella Fitzgerald, Billy Eckstine, Dinah Washington, Sarah Vaughn, Billie Holiday and others. Della, in turn, developed an individual style that was her springboard to national prominence. She moved to New York City and became a vocalist with the Erskine Hawkins Orchestra and signed a recording contract with Jubilee Records. After her first major hit, she was voted "The Most Promising Singer" by Billboard, Cashbox, and Variety. Della signed on with RCA records and subsequently enjoyed her biggest hit "Don't You Know" which led to performing for the next nine years on the Las Vegas Strip. In the thirty years that followed she has continued her string of recordings and she was nominated for a Grammy as "The Best Female Soloist in Gospel". Della Reese has appeared on television shows too numerous to list, and many that are now considered classics. Her most recent has been as co-star in the CBS comedy series "The Royal Family". She still performs in concert halls, nightclubs, and music festivals, in between tapings of television shows, with unanimous acclaim from critics and audiences alike. Her unique blend of jazz-blues-gospel textures and phrases makes for a sound that is unmistakably Della Reese.

THE RAY BROWN TRIO

Ray Brown

bass

Brown began his formal music training on piano when he was 8. He later learned to play bass by ear, and from then on a whole new world opened up for him. After high school, Brown went on the road with the Jimmy Hinsley Sextet and later the Snookum Russell band. Then Brown ventured off on his own to New York City where he was introduced to Dizzy Gillespie. His reputation had preceded him and he was invited to join in the next day's rehearsal. He was hired and remained with the Dizzy Gillespie band for the next two years, playing with jazz greats Charlie Parker, Max Roach, and Bud Powell. He then formed his own trio with Hank Jones on piano and Charlie Smith on drums. He met many musicians during these years, among them was the great jazz vocalist, Ella Fitzgerald whom he married. Brown became a regular member of the Jazz at the Philharmonic Group and was introduced to Oscar Peterson, resulting in a 15-year liaison of brilliant music, warm friendship and respect. Brown has made hundreds of recordings, scored motion pictures, and performed on major television shows. The current Ray Brown Trio consists of veteran drummer Jeff Hamilton and young piano sensation Benny Green.

Benny Green

piano

At 29, Benny is a New York native rapidly becoming known as one of the most precocious players around. Before launching his career as a small group leader and keyboardist with the Ray Brown Trio, Green played with both Betty Carter and the redoubtable Art Blakey, with whom he worked from 1987 to 1989. Green has made several Blue Note recordings.

Jeff Hamilton

drums

A midwesterner who got his musical start playing drum and bugle corps, drummer Jeff Hamilton is now one of the most in-demand percussionists on the West Coast. His studio credentials run the gamut from sessions with Bud Shank and George Shearing to work with Natalie Cole on her Grammy-winning album, "Unforgettable". He's toured the nation and the world, including appearances with B.B. King and Ray Charles as a member of the Philip Morris Superband.

FREDDIE HUBBARD

trumpet

Freddie began his musical studies in junior high school and was offered a college music scholarship (on the french horn), but was bounced out "for playing too much jazz". Freddie was then free to hone his talents playing with local greats Wes, Buddy and Monk Montgomery. Freddie ventured off to New York where he played with J. J. Johnson's Sextet, Max Roach, Sonny Rollins and Slide Hampton, before getting an ideal showcase with Art Blakey's Messengers in 1961, where Hubbard's playing and writing were generously featured. Miles Davis heard him and helped Freddie land a contract with Blue Note Records resulting in recordings with Herbie Hancock, Dexter Gordon, Art Blakey, John Coltrane and Ornette Coleman. Hailed by some as the successor to Clifford Brown, he has played with many of the giants of jazz and has been a regular and reliable favorite on the international festival circuit. Freddie, voted as best trumpet player in the world in the Down Beat Readers Poll, has demonstrated his talent throughout the world in concert appearances.

PAQUITO D'RIVERA

saxophone and clarinet

Born in Havana, Paquito was a child prodigy who began his musical studies at the age of five under the tutelage of his father, Tito, himself a well-known classical saxophonist and conductor in Cuba. At the age of six he was performing in public and when he was seven became the youngest artist ever to endorse a musical instrument when he signed on with Selmer. Paquito entered the Havana Conservatory to study music at the age of twelve and by nineteen, was performing as featured soloist with the Cuban National Symphony Orchestra. Paquito co-founded and conducted the renowned Orchestra Cubana de Musica Moderna for two years, then joined some of the musicians to form the group "Irakere" which created a completely new mixture of jazz, rock, classical, and traditional Cuban music. This musical movement resulted in the historic recording "Havana Jam" which received a Grammy. Dissatisfied with the constraints placed on his music in Cuba, D'Rivera sought asylum with the American Embassy. Encouraged by Dizzy Gillespie, David Amram, and others, Paquito was introduced to the jazz scene in New York and was given his first recording date. Throughout his career in the U.S. his albums have received rave reviews from critics and have hit the top of the jazz charts. His albums have shown a progression that demonstrates his extraordinary abilities in Bebop, classical and Latin/Carribbean music as well as South American music which he is presently exploring.

JAMES MOODY

multi-instrumentalist

Never less than professional, Moody is a swinger on tenor and alto saxophones, and a fleet, sweet flautist. Moody started playing the saxophone when he was 16 and showed a natural aptitude which enabled him to become quite fluent on the instrument by the time he was drafted in 1943. After the war, Moody played with Dizzy Gillespie's band, lived in Paris for two years, and throughout the 50's and early 60's, toured extensively around the U.S. In the early 70's, Moody settled in Las Vegas and played in house bands at the Flamingo and Hilton Hotels with celebrated jazzmen like Carl Fontana, Sam Noto, and Red Rodney. In recent years, Moody has frequently played European festival and club dates. A consummate musician and restless explorer of the inner resources of chord sequences, Moody sees his music as something of a religion and after 40 years as a professional musician, he still practices regularly.

ELVIN JONES

drums

Elvin Jones comes from a family of musicians, brother Hank is known as one of the finest pianists in jazz and brother Thad has become a highly successful trumpet and flugelhorn player. In inventing and perfecting his unique "polyrhythmic" technique, Elvin Jones changed the direction of jazz drumming, raising the status of rhythm to equal that of melody. He has influenced the way a generation makes and hears music. He has performed with such jazz greats as Charlie Parker, Sonny Stitt, Miles Davis, Tommy Flanagan, Kenny Burrell, Pepper Adams and Lou Hayes. Elvin first came to global prominence through his association with John Coltrane, as part of the legendary 60's quartet which also included McCoy Tyner and Jimmy Garrison. Through 1966, Elvin contributed to some of the most controversial, influential, and ultimately important music in jazz. Since that time, Elvin has been active as performer, composer, arranger, producer, and educator and has tirelessly brought his message to nearly 40 countries.

GENE HARRIS QUARTET

Gene Harris

piano

First touching a piano at the age of four, Harris was playing professionally at age seven, had his own radio show by the time he was fourteen, and appeared in nightclubs in the Midwest. Following three years in the military, Harris formed a group called the Four Sounds and recorded for more than fifteen years on the Blue Note label. Harris toured Europe as the pianist with the Ray Brown Trio and Milt Jackson-Ray Brown Quartet. In 1989, he embarked on three years of world tours billed as Gene Harris and the Philip Morris Superband. Harris has performed with famed musicians Stanley Turrentine, Benny Carter, Ray Charles, Dizzy Gillespie, Lou Rawls, and Aretha Franklin to name only a few. In 1991, his recording with B.B. King, "Live at the Apollo" won a Grammy for best traditional blues album. The Gene Harris All Star Big Band Tribute to Count Basie was nominated for a Grammy in 1989, was awarded Japan's Gold Disc by Swing Journal, and was one of Billboard's Top 25 Jazz Albums of 1988. In 1987, Harris' album, The Gene Harris Trio Plus One, was awarded the Grand Prix du Disque de Jazz, the French equivalent of the Grammy.

Paul Humphrey

Ron Eschete

Ron Eschete

guitar

Ron Eschete teaches at the Guitar Institute of Technology in Hollywood and is the author of several books on guitar methods. Ron has performed with many jazz greats including Buddy Greco, Richie Cole, Dave Griesen, Dizzy Gillespie, Mickey Roker, Conte and Pete Candoli, and Billy Higgins. In addition to Harris, he has performed and recorded with Ray Brown, Al Grey, Grady Tate, Lionel Hampton, and Milt Jackson.

Luther Hughes

Luther Hughes

bass

Harris moved Luther Hughes and his family from Ohio to California 22 years ago to work in the quartet. Since that time, Hughes has played bass with David Benoit, Horace Silver, Carmen McRae, and Jack Jones. When not performing with Harris, he plays locally in the Los Angeles area.

Paul Humphrey

drums

An extremely talented and well-respected drummer in the jazz community, Paul Humphrey has recorded and performed with Harris off and on for years. He also has played with other jazz greats including Les McCann and Freddie Hubbard. Since reuniting, the quartet has recorded two albums on the Concord Jazz label, including "Black and Blue" which won the German equivalent to the Grammy in 1992.

HERB ELLIS

guitar

Guitarist Herb Ellis creates a fully original style, playing melody with sensitivity and phrases with a horn-like conception. Given his first guitar at the age of four, Ellis has since graced the harmonious contributions of Jimmy Dorsey, Ella Fitzgerald, Julie London, Oscar Peterson, and Charlie Byrd. He won a Grammy in 1990 as a member of the Oscar Peterson Trio in the category of Best Jazz Instrumental Performance. Jazz critic Leonard Feather described the guitar duo of Ellis and Joe Pass in the 70's as "unabashed advocates of swinging improvisation, their teamwork has a relaxed living room feeling rather than a concert hall precision." Ellis uses an Aria-Pro guitar of his own design, known as the Herb Ellis Model, which boasts a special neck that makes it technically easier to play. He currently explores his instrument with the "Great Guitars," as a duo with Barney Kessel and as a featured artist in jazz concerts and night clubs.

LEW SOLOFF

trumpet

Born in New York City, Lew began trumpet studies at the Juilliard School of Music and is a graduate of the Eastman School of Music. He has played with the Thad Jones-Mel Lewis Band, Ornette Coleman, Dizzy Gillespie, Frank Sinatra, and Marianne Faithfull and was a featured member of "Blood, Sweat and Tears". Lew toured and recorded with the Gil Evans Orchestra for twenty years. He has recorded many albums and is currently on the faculties of the Manhattan School of Music, New York University, and Parsons School of Design.

OLIVER JONES

piano

Now a world figure in jazz, with appearances in Nigeria, Cuba, New Zealand, Paris, London, and New York City, where his incredible technique combined with warm audience rapport has brought Oliver rave reviews from the toughest jazz critics and audiences. Jones did not undertake a full-time jazz career until 1980 after spending two decades as accompanist and musical arranger for Jamaican vocalist, Kenny Hamilton. Jones grew up in Montreal just three blocks away from piano jazz great, Oscar Peterson and studied for 12 years with Daisy Peterson Sweeney, Oscar's sister. Leonard Feather, jazz writer for the LA Times called him "one of the best musicians I have heard ... certain to be established soon as Canada's greatest gift to jazz since Peterson himself."

BRIAN BROMBERG

bass

Growing up in a family of musicians where both his dad and brother played drums, Brian Bromberg began his career at the very young age of thirteen, as a drummer. At fourteen, Brian began his classical training on bass. Only a few years later, he was one of the most respected and talked about musicians in the business. By age nineteen, Brian was touring the world with Stan Getz, performed at Carnegie Hall, and has since played and recorded with many jazz greats including Horace Silver, Monty Alexander, Dave Grusin, Dizzy Gillespie, Richie Cole, Joe Farrell, Lee Ritenour, and Freddie Hubbard. A gifted musician, composer, arranger, producer, and performer, Brian reaches unprecedented melodic and technical heights with a variety of acoustic and electric basses including fretted, fretless, piccolo, upright, and synth. Brian's popularity is rapidly increasing and he is being recognized as one of the finest lead bass players of this generation.

BUDDY DEFRANCO

clarinet

Buddy DeFranco has the unprecedented distinction of winning twenty Down Beat Magazine Awards, nine Metronome Magazine Awards, and sixteen Playboy All-Stars Awards as the number one jazz clarinetist in the world. Buddy is generally credited with leading the way for jazz clarinetists from the era of swing to the age of bop, being the first jazz clarinetist to play in the modern idiom of the greats, Charlie Parker and Dizzy Gillespie. He has made both concert and recording appearances with such stars as Gene Krupa, Charlie Barnet, Tommy Dorsey, Count Basie, Stan Getz, Oscar Peterson, and Billie Holiday, to name only a few. Buddy was appointed leader of the Glenn Miller Orchestra 1966-74. Since then he has resumed his jazz career and is performing and presenting countless clinics around the country. Buddy plays with technical brilliance, improvisational virtuosity and creative warmth. He is one of the most imaginative clarinetists playing today.

CARL FONTANA

trombone

Carl Fontana is considered by musicians and educators as one of the world's supreme jazz artists. His improvisational virtuosity and contemporary style have been the major influence of virtually every trombonist on the scene today. He has travelled with road bands such as Woody Herman, Hal McIntyre, and Stan Kenton and has appeared in Las Vegas showbands with such notables as Paul Anka, Wayne Newton, Frank Sinatra, Sammy Davis, Jr., Merv Griffin, and Benny Goodman. His personal appearances have seen standing-room-only audiences at jazz clubs in Los Angeles and New York. Periodically, Carl has recorded as a special guest artist with Louis Bellson, Supersax, and the World's Greatest Jazz Band. In 1976, his own album received a Grammy nomination as well as tremendous public acceptance that has allowed him to pursue a continuous schedule of personal appearances with his trio throughout the world.

PETE CANDOLI

trumpet and flugelhorn

Within the music world, Pete Candoli is regarded as one of the most precise and eloquent interpreters of jazz. A trumpet player of major importance, Pete has played with over 27 of the top name bands, including Tommy Dorsey, Glenn Miller, Woody Herman, Charlie Barnet, Stan Kenton, Les Brown, and Count Basie. He has composed and arranged music for Judy Garland, Ella Fitzgerald, and Peggy Lee, and made recordings with over fifty top recording artists, including Henry Mancini, Igor Stravinsky, Nelson Riddle, and Quincy Jones. Pete was named outstanding trumpet player by both Down Beat and Metronome Magazine, the two most prestigious publications in the music business. When Pete is not playing a jazz festival, concert or nightclub, he is active conducting college music seminars.

CONTE CANDOLI

trumpet

Now recognized as an international Jazz Giant of the trumpet, Conte began blowing his horn at the age of sixteen, working his way around the major big bands of the time, Woody Herman, Stan Kenton, Charlie Barnet, Benny Goodman, and Jimmy Dorsey. He has played with many of the smaller best known jazz ensembles such as Super Sax, Charlie Ventura, Shelly Manne, Howard Rumsey's Lighthouse All Stars, and many others. Renowned as one of the world's top studio musicians, Conte Candoli probably works on more recording sessions than any other living trumpet player. He has recorded with Frank Sinatra, Bing Crosby, John Lennon, Chicago and other contemporary artists as well as on his own. He has been highly visible as part of the brass section of the NBC Tonight Show Band for many years.

CLAUDIO RODITI

trumpet

Roditi began his musical studies when he was just five years old. By the time he was 12, he had already become a serious jazz listener. Eight years later, he was named a finalist in the International Jazz Competition in Vienna. Claudio studied music at the Berklee School of Music in Boston and later joined the faculty of the School of Contemporary Music, all the while continuing to perform at clubs and concerts. In 1976, Claudio moved to New York where he has performed and/or recorded with Charlie Rouse, Herbie Mann, Slide Hampton, and Paquito D'Rivera, among others. Claudio integrates post-bop elements and Brazilian rhythmic concepts with ease and plays with power and lyricism. This versatility keeps him in demand as a leader, a studio musician and a sideman. He is also a composer and arranger and has five critically-acclaimed albums. Currently he leads his own band and frequently travels as a member of Dizzy Gillespie's United Nations Orchestra.

BILL WATROUS

trombone

A jazz trombonist who is among the best on his instrument, Bill Watrous has played with Quincy Jones, Woody Herman, Count Basie and was a member of the group "Ten Wheel Drive". He has recorded with many top name artists, including Frank Sinatra, Quincy Jones, Ella Fitzgerald, Peggy Lee, and Ray Charles, to name only a few. Bill was a staff musician for CBS and a member of the bands for the Dick Cavett and Merv Griffin Shows. He has been named number one jazz trombonist for seven consecutive years in Down Beat's Reader's Poll and won the magazine's Critics Awards twice. Bill is an active performer and has recorded nine albums his second was nominated for a Grammy.

WALLACE RONEY

trumpet

Wallace was four when he began toying with the trumpet and five when he began theory and piano lessons. By nine Wallace was studying advanced trumpet with Sigmund Haring of the Philadelphia Orchestra, his hometown band. By thirteen Wallace had his own band and a year later he recorded with poet/activist Haki Madhubuti. In 1979, he won Down Beat Magazine's "Best Young Jazz Musician of the Year" award announcing him to be one of the most important "future people" in jazz. After attending Howard University and the Berklee College of Music, he joined Art Blakey's Jazz Messengers and later was offered the Music Director's chair by Blakey. At the same time, drummer Tony Williams requested Wallace's horn in the front line. He toured with both bands and his reputation grew, winning Down Beat's Critics Poll as Talent Deserving Wider Recognition in 1990. (No less than Dizzy Gillespie listed him as a personal favorite.) In 1991, Miles Davis invited Wallace to perform with him in the Montreux Jazz Festival and in 1992 a special band in tribute to Miles Davis was formed. Featuring Wayne Shorter, Herbie Hancock, Ron Carter, Tony Williams and Wallace Roney as starring trumpeter, the band began a world tour in 1992. When asked about his musical direction, Wallace replied that he strives to "push music as far as it can go. We're dealing with polychords and polyharmonies. The way you can superimpose chords over chords has become very intriguing to me."

IAN McDOUGALL

trombone

Born in Calgary, Canada, Ian grew up in Victoria, leaving there in 1960 to tour in England with the John Dankworth Band. He returned to Canada in 1962 and began a lengthy career as a freelance player, composer and arranger in Vancouver and in Toronto where, until 1986, he was also the lead and solo trombonist with Rob McConnell and the "Boss Brass" and the "Brass Connection". He now resides in Victoria and teaches trombone and jazz studies at the University of Victoria.

GREG ABATE

saxophone

Greg Abate has played professionally for twenty-two years. Upon completion of his studies at Berklee College of Music, his credits include lead alto saxophone with the Ray Charles Orchestra 1972 and 1973, tenor saxophone with Dick Johnson and the Artie Shaw Orchestra 1985 through 1987 and, when available, a member of the Duke Belaire Orchestra since 1980. Since leaving the Artie Shaw Orchestra, Greg has launched his career as a Bebop player touring the United States, Europe, and Canada. He has recently recorded "Straight Ahead" with Claudio Roditi, Hilton Ruiz, George Mraz, and Kenny Washington.

JEFF UUSITALO

trombone

Probably the finest and most "on call" trombonist in the Northwest, Jeff Uusitalo has made his international mark from his base in Portland, Oregon for over twenty years. He toured with the Stan Kenton band from 1975 to 1976. He has performed with well known jazz artists such as Carl Fontana, George Cables, Billy Higgins, Barney McClure, Bobby Shew, John Heard, Rob McConnell, and many more. Jeff has toured throughout the United States, Canada, Europe, and Japan. He recently performed on a one-hour television special called "The Jazz Summit" which is being aired on Public Broadcast stations nationally. Jeff is currently a faculty member of the Mount Hood Jazz Festival Workshop and teaches privately in Vancouver, Washington.

GUEST ARTIST BIOGRAPHIES

DAVID WIDLOCK

and

MATTHEW BRUBECK

cello

The Brubeck & Widlock duo perform music that can be best described as contemporary chamber jazz. "Contemporary" because the duo draws on a repertoire that includes original material with bop, funk, classical, Latin, African, Middle Eastern, and Balkan influences as well as performing standards and jazz classics. "Chamber" because the interplay of cello and guitar offers the highly personal, intimate, and acoustic character of chamber music. "Jazz" because the intricate arrangements serve as the departure point for flights of inventive, spontaneous improvisation. Both musicians compose for the duo and both instruments are capable of playing themes, soloing, and providing accompaniment. The duo was formed in 1988 when Matthew and David were both playing in the Bay Area Jazz Composers Orchestra. Since then the duo has performed in many concerts, festivals, club dates, clinics, released two albums, and toured Europe.

NEW YORK VOICES

vocals

Four members of this five-voice ensemble became acquainted at Ithaca College between 1978 and 86: saxophone major Damon Meader, piano majors Peter Eldridge and Caprice Fox and theater major Kim Nazarian. During 1986 they toured Europe as a singing group. The following year, New York Voices was officially inaugurated with the addition of Sara Krieger, a former club and session soloist. The multi-talented Laura Kinham now replaces Sara Krieger who has left the quintet (with their blessing) to fly solo. The group has been together only a short time, but they move and blend as if they have been together a lifetime. Their flawless harmony paves the way for smooth transitions in style. The Voices' sound could be compared to Manhattan Transfer in originality; however when it comes to style, they cannot be limited to one or two categories because of their multiple levels of diversity - a combination of classical, jazz, pop, Latin, and R&B elements. On the road, the quintet adds a jazz rhythm section, keyboards, drums, and bass to fill out their sound. Never taking themselves too seriously, yet meticulous about their art and artistry, New York Voices demonstrate camaraderie, audience appreciation, and sheer good cheer.

DEE DANIELS

vocals

To embody a song, one must have the right "equipment". Dee Daniels proves time and again that she does - with a four octave range that began by wrapping itself around the gospel music in her father's church choir in Oakland, California. Her talent made its mark at a very young age and she continued to develop her love for music as she entered the University of Montana where she founded, directed, wrote arrangements for and accompanied the University's noted Black Ensemble Gospel Choir. In 1972, she joined "Dynamite," an established group in the Seattle area, and introduced her gospel roots to the more commercial areas of rhythm and blues, soul, and rock. The next years saw regular club appearances and a growing audience throughout the Pacific Northwest. By 1974, Dee's reputation had extended to California where she was invited to appear at a popular Hollywood nightclub. She stayed for one year, performing at other clubs, playing concerts, and branching into recording backing vocals for many artists, as well as jingles for national products and companies. Dee returned to Seattle and during the next four years she captivated capacity crowds while fronting trios, quartets, big bands, and performing solo. She enjoyed regular radio and television exposure and was honored with several civic and national awards for her music. By 1979, Dee was beginning to be recognized as a "jazz singer" by the public and critics alike. In 1982, she began a five-year stint in Europe where she performed with many of the jazz greats, including Ernestine Anderson and the late Sarah Vaughn. Today, Dee Daniels makes her home in Vancouver, B.C. and her voice and presence continue to make an international statement while she performs around the world where every performance ends with a standing ovation.

KITTY MARGOLIS

vocals

Kitty grew up in the San Francisco Peninsula listening to the sounds of Nat King Cole, Ella Fitzgerald, Billie Holiday, and Duke Ellington. Kitty first began performing publicly in Boston with a western swing band while attending Harvard. She continued her education at San Francisco State where she studied with jazz great John Handy, had her own radio show, and began her commitment to jazz. Margolis has a rich, deep voice and she couples it with extraordinary scatting abilities. After her debut album, Kitty has proven she is an accomplished, full-blown jazz singer. Besides her constant Bay Area appearances, she makes yearly forays to East Coast clubs, has done several European tours, has performed on the S.S. Norway's Floating Jazz Festival in the Virgin Islands (in a line-up that included Dizzy Gillespie), and completed a three-week tour of Japan. As Jazz Forum magazine proclaimed, "Kitty Margolis has emerged as one of the top jazz singers of the 1990's."

JOHN STOWELL

Guitar

Guitarist John Stowell calls Portland, Oregon home but he's also at home on stages and in studios from Seattle and San Francisco to Berlin and Leningrad. Of Stowell's playing, noted jazz critic Nat Hentoff says he can, "make an electric guitar sound like a singing voice." He has teamed with noted bassist David Friesen for six albums, including Through The Looking Glass, which was named one of the ten best jazz recordings of the decade by the Los Angeles Examiner. When not in the studio or appearing with such artists as Milt Jackson, Art Farmer and Bill Watrous, Stowell spends much of the year doing clinics and workshops at colleges and universities. He is an adjunct faculty member at Portland's Marylhurst College.

LEONARD FEATHER

Jazz Critic

Long established as the world's foremost and most respected writer on jazz, Leonard Feather is the author of the famous "Encyclopedia of Jazz" reference books, his personal memoir "The Jazz Years," the collection of essays entitled "From Satchmo to Miles," and nine other books on jazz. The most honored historian in his field, Feather received the first journalism Grammy award ever given by NARAS (the Recording Academy) for his 1964 liner notes on "The Ellington Era." In 1971 he was nominated for an Emmy as producer of "The Jazz Show," a series seen on KNBC, Los Angeles. In 1981 he received a citation from Mayor Tom Bradley and the L.A. City Council at a banquet to establish Leonard Feather Scholarships at the Duke Ellington School of the Arts in Washington, D.C. He won Down Beat Magazine's Lifetime Achievement award in 1981 and was awarded an honorary Doctorate of Music at the Berklee College of Music in Boston in 1984. Born in London, Feather lived in New York for many years before moving to California. In New York he composed music and/or lyrics for some 225 works, recorded by Andre Previn, Louis Armstrong, George Shearing, Duke Ellington, Ella Fitzgerald and countless others. As a producer he was the first to record Shearing, Sarah Vaughan, Dinah Washington and many more; he produced some 200 sessions with most of the leading jazz artists. His biggest hit songs were "How Blue Can You Get," a three million seller for B.B. King, and several chart toppers for Dinah Washington such as "Evil Gal Blues," "Salty Papa Blues" and "Baby Get Lost." As a lecturer, Feather has given History of Jazz Courses at UCLA, UC Riverside, Loyola-Marymount and Cal State Northridge. He has appeared on many TV documentaries devoted to Billie Holiday, Charlie Parker, Duke Ellington and Benny Carter among others.

IRA GITLER

Jazz Critic

Ira Gitler is a New York-based writer, concert producer and educator. He is the author of Jazz Masters of the '40s, and co-author of The Encyclopedia of Jazz in the '70's, and the Biographical Encyclopedia of Jazz with Leonard Feather is currently in progress for Oxford University Press. He was previously Professor of Jazz History and Artist-in-Residence at City College, CUNY; since 1986 he has taught jazz history at the New School of Social Research's Jazz and Contemporary Music program. In the fall of 1992, he began an association with the Manhattan School of Music, teaching Titans of the Tenor Saxophone. He has participated in jazz clinics and festivals internationally, including those at Stanford University, University of Calgary and Siena Jazz Seminars (Italy) as a jazz historian. He was a Guggenheim Fellow in 1974. A former New York editor of Down Beat magazine, 1963-4 and 1967-70, he currently writes for Jazz Times, Swing Journal (Japan), and Musica Jazz (Italy). Gitler has annotated LP's and CD's for record companies since 1951, when he first worked for Prestige Records. Between 1951-4, he produced sessions for the company with Sonny Rollins, Miles Davis, the Modern Jazz Quartet, Thelonious Monk, Stan Getz and Art Farmer. He has since produced concerts for the Newport Jazz Festival-New York and its successors, Kool and JVC, 1980-93; he has also served as host of his own radio shows on WNCN and WBAI in New York City, and in Colorado on KDAX.

CHIP DEFFAA

Jazz Critic

Chip Deffaa is the ASCAP-Deems Taylor Award-winning jazz critic of the New York Post and a regular contributor to Entertainment Weekly. He has written about music for magazines worldwide, including England's Crescendo, Canada's Coda, Japan's Swing Journal, and America's Down Beat, Living Blues, and JazzTimes. He also contributed to the landmark New Grove Dictionary of Jazz. At Princeton University, Deffaa was a student of distinguished Ferris Professor of Journalism Irving Dilliard. He is a trustee of The Princeton Tiger magazine today. In addition, Deffaa has been a radio host, and, in partnership with his sister, Deborah, a cable television producer. He is the author of such books about jazz (all of which are currently in print) as Voices of the Jazz Age (published in the United States by the University of Illinois Press and in Great Britain by the Bayou Press), which was a finalist for the Excellence in Recorded Sound Research Award of the American Association for Recorded Sound Collections; and Swing Legacy, Traditionalists and Revivalists in Jazz, and In the Mainstream, (published in the United States and Great Britain by the Scarecrow Press). His specialty is preserving the oral histories of veteran jazz artists.

PRIMO KIM QUARTET

Primo Kim

vocals

A dynamic jazz vocalist and pianist, Primo Kim has performed throughout the United States and has appeared with Louis Armstrong and Roger Williams. As a headliner for the Tropicana, Sands, and Frontier Hotels in Las Vegas, Primo established himself as a top rated entertainer and has been a featured performer at the Latin Quarter in New York City. He has been a mainstay in the Seattle music scene for over 20 years and has performed in every major concert hall in the city. A versatile entertainer, Primo creates an "easy listening" atmosphere as a nightclub performer or captures the audience with a swinging big band style.

Andy Zadrozny

bass

Seattle based bassist and teacher, Andy Zadrozny played with the Seattle Symphony, James Newton, and Rashid Ali.

Michael Slivka

drums

Michael started playing drums at the age of two and continued through high school and four years of service in the Navy. He played in numerous bands and clubs in San Diego and in the Mid-West during the 70's. Michael settled in Lansing, Michigan where he worked with various jazz and blues groups and became an instructor of drums at Lansing Community College. In 1985 he made his first trip to Japan working as a jazz musician in a variety of bands. He is currently living in Seattle playing clubs and teaching privately.

Jim Day

ARKADY SHILKLOPER

horn

Russian performer, Arkady Shilkloper is considered by many critics to be the world's premiere jazz french hornist. He was recently honored with a premiere performance for the International Horn Society here in the U.S. Arkady appeared at the Lionel Hampton Jazz Festival in 1990 where he was presented with his very own french horn - a gift from Chevron Corporation. Arkady quickly became a favorite at the Festival, displaying his one-of-a-kind musical talent.

ALEXANDRE OUZONOFF

bassoon

Determined not to become an orchestra musician, but a chamber music player, Alexandre created the OZI TRIO and won the Diploma of International Competition in 1978. Wishing to give a new boom to the bassoon, Alexandre dove undaunted into "contemporary creation" (a Research Grant delivered by the french Ministry of Culture in 1983). After receiving wide recognition at many prestigious festivals in Europe, he decided to fulfill his insatiable musical inquisitiveness by practising improvisation. In 1991, he joined two musicians, Gyorgy Kurtag (keyboards) and Sebastian Quesada (drums) to form the KOQ TRIO, a genuine ground of exchanges where his own compositions are combined with improvisation. He has been requested by the French Ministry of Culture to run educational music training courses and for ten years has been on the faculty at the Ecole Nationale de Musique d'Evereux.

HITOSHI MAEDA

Inventor of the Sanukitaphone

In 1979, Hitoshi Maeda attended a conference of the Japanese Archaeological Society, where he learned that the eastern slope of Mount Kanayama (the mountain on which he lives) had been the source of materials employed in the production of stone implements from the Palaeolithic era. Mr. Maeda had known of the existence of a type of volcanic rock called "sanukite", and that it had been used in ancient times for the production of spearheads and axes, but had no idea that he was living right on top of this rock! He began the production of stone musical instruments with the idea of bringing back to life the mysterious qualities of this rock. Experiments carried out in an anechoic chamber have astonished the specialists. Normally the sound will be completely different in an anechoic room, people's voices sound as though they are speaking under water, however the sound from the sanukite is not affected. And on the oscillograph, clear wave forms appear systematically. Even the experts are puzzled by this phenomenon. Seeking guidance from specialists in this field, he began his own studies of stone instruments, and created the first "petrophone", an instrument similar in shape to a xylophone and consisting of thirty stone keys covering a range of two and a half octaves. He has continued his own analyses into the specific vibrational properties and wave forms of sanukite while benefiting from a wealth of scholarly advice from composers, leading musicians, geologists, archaeologists, oscillation engineers, religious scholars, and artists in the creation of these instruments.

TOMOAKI SAKURA

Japanese Percussionist

Will be performing on a newly created instrument called the Sanukitaphone, a special Japanese vibraphone made of a rock (sanukite) found only one place in the world. Sanukite was used thousands of years ago as a tool of healing because of its incredible resonance.

MUTSUKO FUJII

Japanese Percussionist Lecturer

A renowned Japanese lecturer, will be discussing the newly created Japanese Vibes made from the rock, Sanukite, a highly resonant rock that when struck creates a beautiful, clear, vibrant tone.

GUEST ARTIST BIOGRAPHIES

VIRGINIA WICKS

International Publicist

Virginia's career as a publicist began the day Nat Cole said he wanted to record a song she'd written. She met the star and his manager, who suggested she might enjoy doing record promotion for Nat and his other clients. Knowing nothing of the field, but thrilled with the prospect of representing Nat Cole, Wicks opened a small one room office, and her career in public relations began. In the the thirty-five plus years that followed, she represented hundreds of clients including: Benny Goodman, Artie Shaw, Ella Fitzgerald, Ray Brown, Rock Hudson, Shari Lewis, Eartha Kitt, Cornel Wilde, Theo Bikel, Jayne Mansfield, Marilyn Monroe, Mel Torme, Peggy Lee, Stan Kenton, Dizzy Gillespie, Harry Belafonte, Jean Pierre Aumont, Grace Kelly, The Hi Lo's, Art Tatum, John Ireland, George Shearing, Charlie Parker, The Clara Ward Singers, Charlie Bernet, Dorothy Dandridge, Polly Bergen, The Modern Jazz Quartet, Joel Grey, Julie London, Salvador Dali, Josh White, producer/director Herb Ross, Diahann Carroll, jazz critic and author Leonard Feather, Pat Carroll, Oscar Peterson, Orson Bean, Howard Keel Arlene Dahl, and Red Buttons. Currently, Virginia represents Lionel Hampton and the annual Lionel Hampton Jazz Festival. A black and white photograph of Joe Lovano, a man with a goatee and sunglasses, wearing a patterned shirt. He is holding a saxophone and a Shure microphone is positioned near the instrument. The background is a brick wall.

Lovano

When Joe Lovano's saxophone speaks, it comes from the soul. And to guarantee that no part of his diverse musical message goes unfelt, Joe relies exclusively on Shure microphones, wireless systems and horn mounting hardware. They offer him the natural sound quality, convenience and dependability that could only come from Shure. So when flying over musical landmarks at the rate Joe does, it pays to speak with the sound of the professionals—Shure.
