President's Message for Jazz Festival 1989

The program for the twenty-second annual Lionel Hampton/Chevron Jazz Festival is truly outstanding. This year's celebrity performers are among the greats in the jazz world. Of course, our own Lionel Hampton will again be joining us with his big band.

The 1988-89 school year is a great one for the University of Idaho. On January 30, we marked our 100th birthday. Music has always been an important part of our long tradition.

Enjoy the performances. "America's Music" is enjoying great popularity. The Lionel Hampton School of Music at the University of Idaho is proud to be part of our musical heritage. By participating in this year's festival you become part of that heritage.

Best wishes to all participants, teachers, and to those who have worked so hard to produce this year's extravaganza. We are looking forward to a fantastic Festival '89.

Sincerely,

Richard D. Gibb
President

From the Dean:

It is entirely appropriate that this year's Lionel Hampton/Chevron Jazz Festival should be the best ever, because we are celebrating the university's one-hundredth birthday and because music ranks as one of the greatest of the University of Idaho's traditions. Our musical tradition, moreover, has always emphasized lots of participation and spontaneity—two important characteristics of jazz. It is a thrill to see how the interest in music at UI has grown from the days of pick-up groups and songfests to these days, when we are joined by the stellar greats of Jazz and when our School of Music proudly bears the name of Lionel Hampton. We especially welcome the many high school musicians, who have come to perform their music, and we hope that you will give serious thought to returning, as UI students, to become a part of the great UI musical tradition.

Lionel Hampton

His grandmother thought she was giving him good advice when she said, "Boy, quit beatin' on those glasses and dishes with those spoons and go and dry them right! Put that silliness out of your head."

The little five-year-old drummer told his grandmother, "Mamma, I might be able to put drummin' out of my head, but I just can't seem to put it out of my heart!"

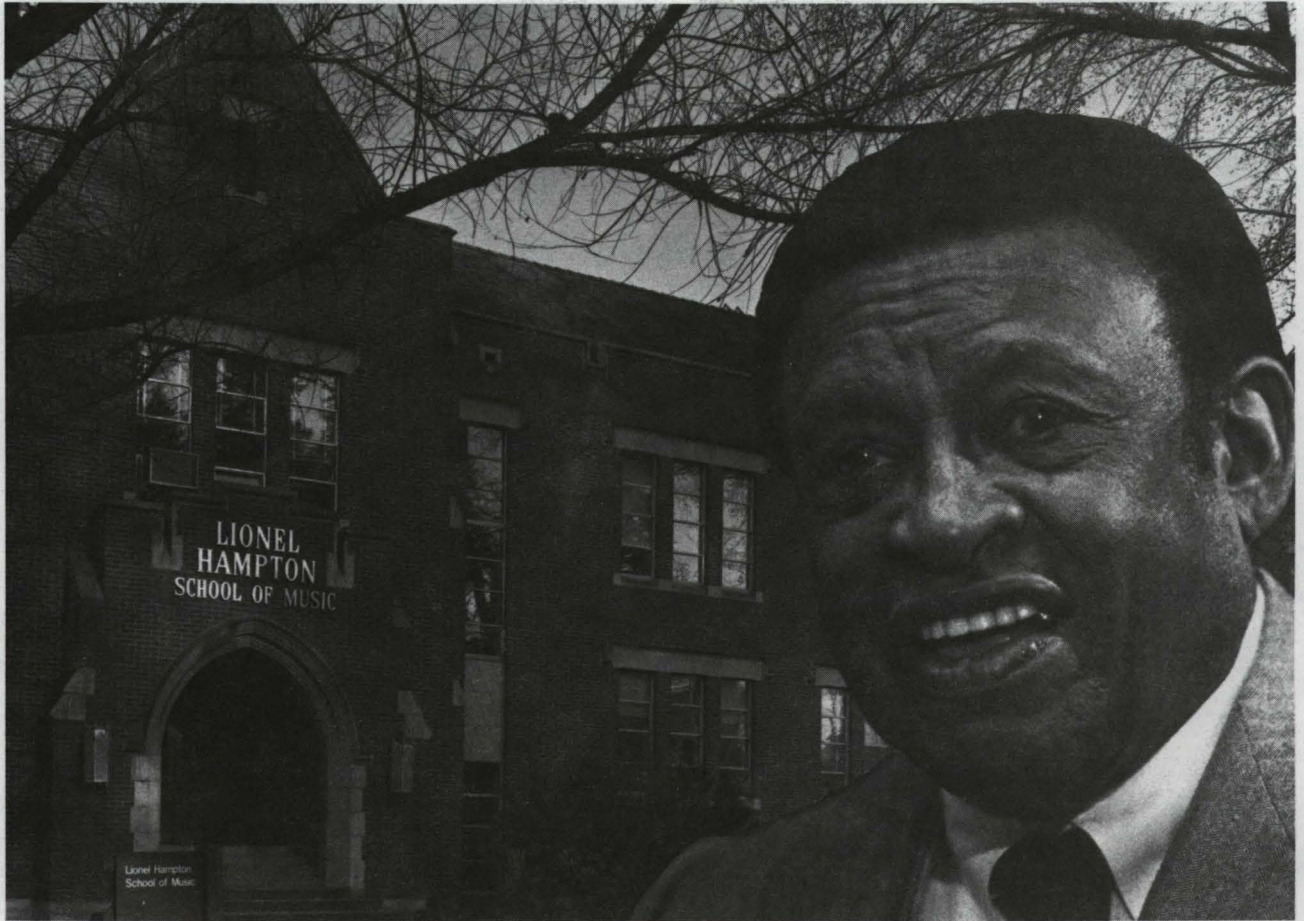

What his grandmother didn't know was that he would someday be "Master of the Drums" and "King of the Vibes".

Hampton began playing for a new band organized by Les Hite, playing backup to Louis Armstrong in the famous Cotton Club. Armstrong called on Hampton to join in a recording session with him and, during a break, he wandered over to a vibraharp in the corner. Until then the vibraharp was played for the "pretty sounds" it created, not as a jazz melodic instrument. Hampton played a number on the vibraharp for Armstrong and it became a hit. From then on, Hampton was known as the "King of the Vibes".

His honors range from receiving a statehood award in Israel, being made a goodwill ambassador by the U.S. State Department, and chosen as the only male to be made an honorary member of Hadassah.

Hampton continues to amaze people with his enthusiasm and his concern for all people, raising millions of dollars for a Catholic Boys Home in Indianapolis, a Red Cross Hospital in Israel, and has held benefits to help send talented youngsters through school.

Luckily for his many fans around the world, he never did manage to put drumming out of his head or his heart.

Lionel Hampton

Wynton Marsalis

In 1980, at the age of 19, Wynton Marsalis literally exploded on the jazz scene. Excited fans rushed to hear this new trumpet artist in his performances with Art Blakey's Jazz Messengers and Herbie Hancock's band, V.S.O.P. Critics have described him as "outspoken", "brash", "fiery", and "uncompromising". Wynton has integrity—he plays JAZZ—never understating the importance of his mentors: Louis Armstrong, Fats Navarro, Dizzy Gillespie, Miles Davis, Clifford Brown, and many others. In 1984 he won two Grammy Awards for both his jazz and classical performances. Nat Hentoff, in an article in the Wall Street Journal, describes Wynton's music as "undiluted jazz... The sounds of his trumpet are mostly mellow and singing, his lines are unfailingly clear, cohesive, and subtly surprising... and he swings fluidly, like a bicyclist riding with his hands in his pockets."

Wynton will be featured with the Ray Brown Trio.

Carmen McRae

Carmen McRae has been described as "an explorer of melody", "a superb craftsman", "a singer's singer", "a dramatic actress." She has performed at all the major festivals and has entertained at nightclubs and concert halls throughout the world. During the 1940's, Carmen worked intermittently as a band vocalist with Count Basie, Benny Carter, and Mercer Ellington. Carmen performed as an intermission pianist/singer at Minton's—a club where Max Roach, Dizzy Gillespie, Bird, and Monk were experimenting with "be bop". By the early 1950's Carmen began her ascent as one of the best known vocalists in jazz. An article from "Stereo Review" says it best, "McRae has long since transcended being categorized by some critics and even some of her public as Billie Holiday's successor." She's much more than that, an artist and musician in her own right, unique and unchallenged.

Stan Getz

Stan Getz achieved fame early in his career with a solo on Ralph Burns' "Early Autumn". At this time he was one of the famous "Four Brothers" on Woody Herman's Second Herd. Critics agree that Stan Getz, along with Miles Davis, Gerry Mulligan, Lennie Tristano, and others, played an influential role in the development of the "cool" sound in the early 1950's. In 1962, Getz, with guitarist Charlie Byrd, introduced the bossa nova music of Antonio Carlos Jobim to American jazz listeners. Recently he was featured on Huey Lewis' recording and video "Small World". He is a master of the tenor saxophone—his tone is one of the loveliest in jazz—and certainly one of the great interpreters of ballad material.

Heard with Stan Getz will be Kenny Barron, piano; Victor Lewis, bass; and Anthony Cox, drums.

Doc Cheatham

Doc Cheatham celebrates nearly seventy years as a jazz performer. Influences early in his career included Freddie Keppard, "King" Oliver, and Louis Armstrong. He spent many years in the "trenches" playing lead trumpet with numerous big bands. He is known for his beautiful tone and creative ideas and he looks to the future with optimism. When asked about his best recording, he replies, "My best record? I think it may be the next one".

Kenny Burrell

As a child in Detroit, Michigan, Kenny Burrell remembers being surrounded by music and love. "I came from a very loving family where everyone played an instrument and tried to sing." Kenny has studied classical guitar with the eminent Joseph Fava, and received his jazz "education" through playing with other Detroiters like Tommy Flanagan, Yusef Lateef, Elvin Jones and Pepper Adams. He has made over sixty recordings as a leader and has recorded as a side man with about every major jazz artist in the last twenty years, including John Coltrane, Stan Getz, Dizzy Gillespie, Sonny Rollins, Miles Davis, and Gil Evans.

Ray Brown

Ray Brown was born in Pittsburgh and his first formal training was on piano at the age of eight. He later learned to play bass by ear and from then on a new world opened up for him.

After graduating from high school at the age of 17, he went on the "road" with a number of groups. Later he left and went to New York, where his reputation as an accomplished musician had already preceded him. He had not been in New York more than four hours when he was introduced to Dizzy Gillespie. Dizzy asked the young bass player to drop by for the following day's rehearsal. He was hired and remained with Dizzy for the next two years. He had, indeed, been introduced to "the big time": Charlie Parker, Bud Powell, Max Roach, and Dizzy. He departed Dizzy's band and formed his own trio with Hank Jones on piano and Charlie Smith on drums.

Soon he was discovered by Norman Granz and, as a result, was introduced to Oscar Peterson, with whom there resulted a fifteen-year liaison of brilliant music, a warm friendship, a musical understanding, and respect.

Ray won innumerable awards, played on major TV shows, scored motion pictures, and has made hundreds of recordings.

Brown's current trio includes pianist Gene Harris of Boise, Idaho, and Jeff Hamilton on drums.

Al Grey

Al Grey, master of the plunger mute, began his career with Benny Carter, Jimmie Lunceford, Lionel Hampton, and Dizzy Gillespie. It was with Hampton's band where he first used the plunger behind blues singer Sonny Parker. He is best known for his trombone artistry with the late Count Basie's Band. He was recently chosen by Quincy Jones to perform on the soundtrack for the movie "The Color Purple."

Phyllis Hyman

Although Phyllis Hyman recalls her vocal instructor saying that she had "inherent musicality", she credits radio for much of her musical education. Two of her early influences were James Brown and Nancy Wilson. Moving to New York in 1975, Phyllis quickly established herself as a talent to be reckoned with. Her albums include Phyllis Hyman, Somewhere in My Lifetime, Can't We Fall in Love Again? and recently Living all Alone.

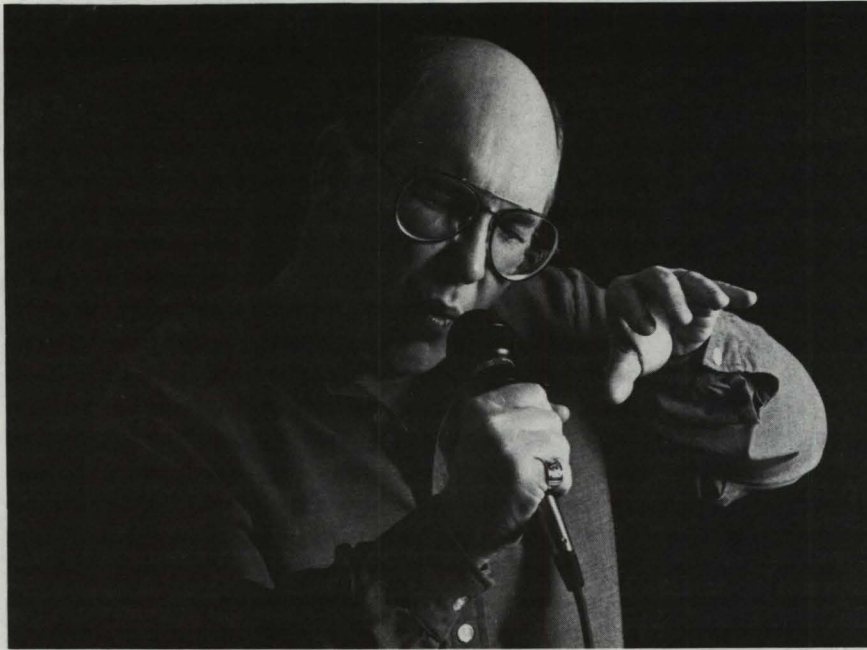

Rob McConnell

Rob McConnell is best known for his recordings with the Boss Brass, a twenty-two piece big band originally from Canada. Among other things he is a first call studio player, a master arranger in styles ranging from symphonic music to jingles, and a leader of jazz groups of all sizes. He now resides in California and is active as a clinician and guest artist throughout the United States and Canada.

Don Lanphere

There are few saxophonists more talented than Don Lanphere. In 1949, barely 21, he found himself in a New York recording studio with Fats Navarro and Max Roach. For the last twenty years he has been playing music full time in Seattle where he is something of a legend. A series of new recordings on the Hep label illustrate his beautiful sound, fluency, inspiration, and technique.

Ron McCroby

Ron McCroby burst on the music scene at the Monterey Jazz Festival in 1982. His instrument is the "puccolo", a cross between a pucker and a piccolo. He has been featured on the Tonight Show, Merv Griffin, P.M. Magazine, and CBS News. His repertoire ranges from baroque to be bop, creating a one of a kind sound that must be heard to be believed.

Lembit Saarsalu and Leonid Vintskevich

Lembit Saarsalu and Leonid Vintskevich are two of the Soviet Union's top jazz musicians. They have performed at numerous national and international jazz festivals in Europe. In the 1988 Soviet Jazz Critics Poll Lembit was declared the top tenor saxophonist and Leonid won a silver award in piano. Their repertoire includes Russian-Estonian dialogues, jazz standards, and their own original compositions.

"A Touch of Blue"

The Air Force Band of the Pacific Northwest "A Touch of Blue" is made up of professional, full-time musicians who perform extensively throughout the Northwestern United States. The band presents all styles: blues, traditional jazz, modern jazz, and rock, as well as original compositions by band members.

Barbara McCroby

Barbara McCroby began her career as an engineer for Ford Motor Company. She later turned to consulting and developed procedures, training programs and layouts for plant extensions. Now she devotes the major portion of her time to lecturing on combining right-brain creativity with left-brain practicality, placing the concept of the whole brain within the grasp of everyone.

July 23-30 Port Townsend, WA

The workshop is designed for intermediate to advanced jazz students—those who have a technical command of their instrument and who have basic improvisational or music theory skills. Collegiate and post-collegiate players represent the majority of participants. Outstanding high school players have successfully participated in the past; students 17 and under will be admitted only after review of a performance cassette (new applicants) and parental permission.

Tuition $225. Dorm Room & Board $155, other housing options available. To save a place in the workshops, send a $35 deposit and five minute solo (or combo) cassette (new applicants).

For more information: CENTRUM, P.O. Box 1158, Port Townsend, WA 98368 / (206) 385-3102

"The amalgamation of faculty and students (of all ages) makes this workshop unique. I have attended twice and thoroughly enjoyed both times, and they were both very different."

LEWISTON RV CENTER

WE ARE PLEASED TO BE A PART OF THE LIONEL HAMPTON/CHEVRON JAZZ FESTIVAL AND WISH ALL PARTICIPANTS AND GUESTS THE BEST IN JAZZ EXPERIENCE AS WE ALL "SALUTE" IDAHO'S BEST FRIEND LIONEL HAMPTON.

WINNEBAGO IS HERE.

All of the other RV dealers come and go—but Lewiston RV is in our 7th year (oldest in the area) and we have the most complete RV parts and service. (In fact, we are insurance company approved.)

THE 27' WINNEBAGO SUPER CHIEF

More storage capacity, more features, and more quality. The perfect way to get the storage capacity you need.

No Tax to out-of state buyers.

THE 23' WINNEBAGO CHIEFTAIN

The best value you will find in a motor-home. A lot of motorhome for not a lot of money. Your dollars go a long way.

WE DON'T CARRY 25 BRANDS—JUST THE BEST. OUR VOLUME SALES OF QUALITY PRODUCTS GIVE YOU THE LOWEST PRICES.

THE 26' WINNEBAGO "MINNIE WINNIE"

Travel first class without the big price tag! We have big deals on little Winnebagos.

With credit approval you can buy with some cash or trade - or both. Your payments can be as low as you want them. Use 12% financing, 12 year terms, plus tax and license. No tax to out-of-state buyers. Let's talk. We will work it out!
