Music From Around the World!

University of Idaho

This Land Is Our Land.

From the majestic mountains of Montana to the charming streets of Victoria, B.C., from the lush vineyards of Sonoma County to the golden fields of the Palouse, from the towering California redwoods to the sparkling Puget Sound waters, from the breathtaking Canadian Rockies to the awe-inspiring Grand Canyon, no airline serves this land, and more, like Horizon Air.

On your way to our land, enjoy those famous Horizon extras—including premium Jones Soda, Starbucks® coffee, and wines and microbrews at no extra charge. And if your journeys take you beyond our land, our partner Alaska Airlines also covers the West, including Mexico, Alaska, Hawaii, and the East Coast.

To get started, go to horizonair.com, where you'll always find the lowest fares on Horizon and Alaska and there is never a booking fee. Or give us a call at 800.547.9308.

Welcome to the Festival and the University of Idaho!

Dear Fellow Jazz Lovers,

Dianne and I are pleased to welcome you to one of the University of Idaho's signature events: the Lionel Hampton International Jazz Festival.

This year marks the Festival's 42nd season and promises to be another exciting year of culture and jazz. The Festival has earned praise and acclaim, including the National Medal of Arts, which is our nation's highest honor for artistic excellence and outstanding contributions to the growth, support and availability of the arts. You will find those award-winning characteristics are integrally woven into the Festival.

This year, the Jazz Festival's four days will feature workshops, clinics, and student performances in keeping with its tradition of music education. We are proud to have educational opportunities for more than 10,000 students who attend clinics and workshops as well as perform. Our Jazz in the Schools program takes University of Idaho faculty and students to schools in the region where they perform in front of more than 9,000 students each year. The crowning jewel each evening during the Festival is the main stage performance that brings the world's best jazz musicians to the Palouse. The evening performances will be infused with a new feel in the line-up from world-renowned musicians. Among the new rhythms you'll hear are those from Brazil and the Caribbean, so anticipate a tremendous fusion of jazz and international energy.

Dianne and I invite you to explore the range of offerings during the 2009 Lionel Hampton International Jazz Festival and to enjoy your time with us here at the University of Idaho. It is a delight for us to welcome you for this unique and inspirational celebration of the American art form of jazz.

Sincerely,

Steven B. Daley-Laursen, President

Dear Friends,

I'm so glad you have joined us for the 2009 Lionel Hampton International Jazz Festival! I know that you will be as excited as I am with the inspiring combination of both the student and professional opportunities we will offer you. With adjudicated student performances, artist and educator workshops and clinics, student concerts and world-class professional concerts you will be amazed by what can be presented in four short days.

This year, we have a new wave of opportunities at the Festival, as we commemorate the honor of being a recipient of the National Medal of Arts, celebrate student achievement and truly embrace our international side.

Understanding education as the primary goal of our festival, our adjudicators will continue to invite select students to perform and/or be awarded for their performances. Plus, workshop opportunities will be plentiful throughout our music celebration.

We have new music, new artists and new jazz education opportunities in store for 2009. More good news: an early set on the Hamp's Club stage has been added an hour before each evenings' concert! Hamp's Club will continue after the Thursday, Friday and Saturday Concerts. Also in 2009, national and international artists are ready to bring you a mix of music that includes Latin Jazz and Salsa, all the way from the Caribbean. Plus, a dance floor will be down on both Wednesday and Saturday to let you groove to the beats!

This year, the celebration is at the Lionel Hampton International Jazz Festival, and you won't want to miss it! I am happy you are here to share these wonderful moments together.

Your fan,

John Clayton, Artistic Director

The International Jazz Collections

The International Jazz Collections of the University of Idaho Library was established in 1992 with the donation of historical materials from jazz legend Lionel Hampton. The Collections are a growing repository dedicated to the preservation, promotion, and study of one of the world's great art forms.

Now the primary historical jazz archive in the Pacific Northwest, the Collections include the papers of jazz critic Leonard Feather, trombonist Al Grey, and trumpeter Conte Candoli. Other jazz performers represented include vocalists Ella Fitzgerald, Joe Williams, and Lee Morse; trumpeters Dizzy Gillespie and Doc Cheatham; pianists Roland Hanna and Jane Jarvis; sax players Gerry Mulligan and Buddy Tate; publisher and collector Neil McCaffrey; and band leader Stan Kenton. The Collections also serve as the official archive of the Lionel Hampton International Jazz Festival.

Access to the International Jazz Collections is through the Special Collections & Archives at the University of Idaho Library. More information is available at www.ijc.uidaho.edu/, or by calling 208/885-7951. Hours are 8:00 am to 4:45 pm Monday through Friday during the academic year, and 7:30 am to 4:15 pm over the summer.

The University of Idaho Lionel Hampton School of Music is an accredited institutional member of the National Association of Schools of Music.

University of Idaho
A LEGACY OF LEADING

A History on Hamp and his Festival...

As a National Medal of Arts recipient the Lionel Hampton International Jazz Festival is following some very big shoes, including the footsteps of Lionel Hampton who was awarded the medal in 1996. The National Medal of Arts, the nation's most prestigious arts award, was awarded to the Festival in November of 2007 by President George W. Bush.

The University of Idaho is the first public university to receive the award since it was created by Congress in 1984.

The first University of Idaho Jazz Festival took place in 1967, with a dozen student groups and one guest artist, Buddy Brisboe. The Festival continued to grow from there, erupting onto the national stage in 1981, when students and spectators packed in to hear Ella Fitzgerald.

In 1984, the Festival's most important relationship took shape when Lionel Hampton joined the excitement in Moscow. Inspired by the enthusiasm of the students, Hamp pledged his support to the Festival. This was the beginning of a long standing partnership between Hampton, Emeritus Executive Director Dr. Lynn J. Skinner and the Festival. In 1985, the Festival took on Hampton's name, becoming the first and only jazz festival named for an African-American jazz musician.

Lionel Hampton was one of the most extraordinary musicians of the 20th century and his artistic achievements symbolize the impact jazz music has had on our culture in the 21st century. Given his first drum lessons by a Dominican nun at the Holy Rosary Academy of Wisconsin, Lionel Hampton evolved into a well-respected and well-developed musician.

In 1930, Hampton was called to a recording session with Louie Armstrong, and during a break Hampton walked over to a vibraphone and started to play. He ended up playing the vibes on a song during the session and the song became a hit. Hampton had introduced a new voice to jazz and he soon became the "King of the Vibes."

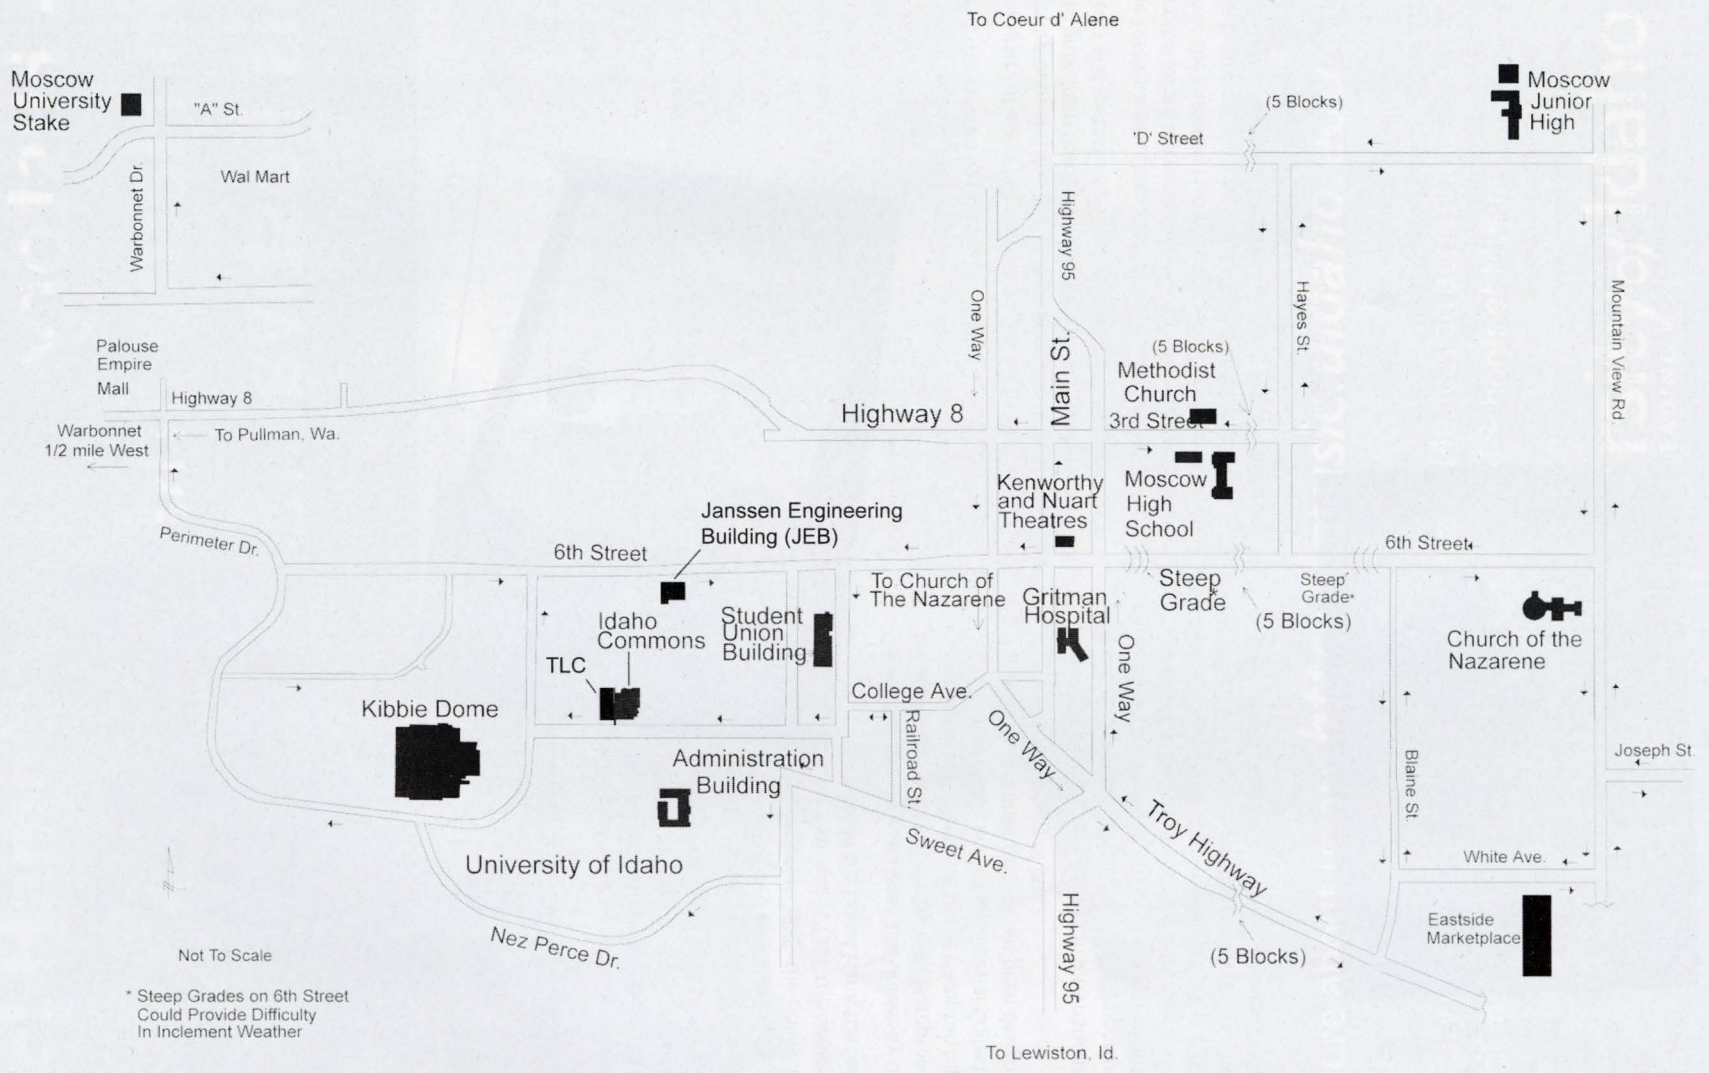

Hampton went on to create more than 200 works, including the jazz standards "Flying Home," "Evil Gal Blues," and "Midnight Sun." He also composed the major symphonic work, "King David Suite."

Hampton began working with University of Idaho in the early 1980s to establish his dream for the future of music education. In 1985, the University named its jazz festival for him, and in 1987 the University's music school was named the Lionel Hampton School of Music.

More than twenty years later, the University of Idaho has developed an unprecedented relationship with Hampton by ensuring that his vision lives on through the Lionel Hampton International Jazz Festival, its School of Music, and its Jazz Special Collections. Each piece of the University's jazz arrangement has been designed to help teach and preserve the heritage of jazz.

For 42 years, the Lionel Hampton International Jazz Festival has been dedicated to enhancing musical opportunities and educational experiences for young artists. It strives toward a bright future by connecting students to professional masters in the music industry. Adjudicated student performances, artist and educator workshops and clinics, online educational opportunities and resources, and the Jazz in the Schools program (see page 54) combine to bring the mission of the Festival to life.

The University of Idaho Lionel Hampton International Jazz Festival is dedicated to celebrating and maintaining jazz music for future generations. We inspire students, educators, artists and audiences of all ages to enhance their appreciation, understanding and performance of jazz through educational programming and inspirational performances.

Byron Stripling

With a contagious smile and captivating charm, trumpet virtuoso, Byron Stripling, has ignited audiences internationally. As soloist with the Boston Pops Orchestra, Byron has performed frequently under the baton of Keith Lockhart, as well as being featured soloist on the PBS television special, "Evening at Pops," with conductors John Williams and Mr. Lockhart. Currently, Byron serves as artistic director and conductor of the highly acclaimed Columbus Jazz Orchestra.

Since his Carnegie Hall debut with Skitch Henderson and the New York Pops, Byron has become a pops orchestra favorite throughout the country.

An accomplished actor and singer, Byron was chosen, following a world wide search, to star in the lead role of the Broadway bound musical, "Satchmo." Many will remember his featured cameo performance in the television movie, "The Young Indiana Jones Chronicles."

Byron earned his stripes as lead trumpeter and soloist with the Count Basie Orchestra under the direction of Thad Jones and Frank Foster. He has also played and recorded extensively with the bands of Dizzy Gillespie, Woody Herman, Dave Brubeck, Lionel Hampton, Clark Terry, Louis Bellson, and Buck Clayton in addition to The Lincoln Center Jazz Orchestra, The Carnegie Hall Jazz Band, and The GRP All Star Big Band.

Byron enjoys conducting seminars and master classes at colleges, universities, conservatories, and high schools. His informative talks, combined with his incomparable wit and charm, make him a favorite guest speaker to groups of all ages.

Jon Faddis

Jon Faddis is a complete and consummate musician, conductor, composer, and educator. Marked by both intense integrity and humor, Faddis earned accolades from his close friend and mentor "Dizzy" Gillespie, who declared of Faddis, "He's the best ever, including me!" As a trumpeter, Faddis possesses a virtually unparalleled range and full command of his instrument, making the practically impossible seem effortless.

Born in 1953, Faddis began playing at age seven, inspired by an appearance by Louis Armstrong on television. Meeting Dizzy Gillespie at 15 proved to be a pivotal beginning of a unique friendship that spanned almost three decades. Shortly before his 18th birthday, Faddis joined Lionel Hampton's band, moving from Oakland, CA to New York. Faddis worked as lead trumpet for the Thad Jones/Mel Lewis Orchestra at the Village, formed his own quartet, and soon began directing orchestras, including the Grammy-winning United Nation Orchestra, the Dizzy Gillespie Alumni All-Stars, the Carnegie Hall Centennial Big Band and the Jon Faddis Jazz Orchestra of New York. The Chicago Jazz Ensemble named Faddis as its Artistic Director in August 2004. Faddis will continue to conduct both the JFJONY and the CJE in the future. Faddis has also served as guest conductor and featured guest with the Lincoln Center Jazz Orchestra.

Faddis remains true to the tradition of honoring mentors, regularly leading master classes and clinics worldwide, and also teaching as a full-time faculty member at the Conservatory of Music, Purchase College-SUNY and as guest lecturer at Columbia College Chicago.

James Moody

For nearly four decades, saxophone master James Moody has been serenading lovers with his signature song, "Moody's Mood For Love," an improvisation of "I'm In The Mood For Love."

Born in Georgia on March 26, 1925, and raised in Newark, New Jersey, Moody took up the alto sax, a gift from his uncle, at the age of 16. Within a few years, he fell under the spell of the deeper, more full-bodied tenor saxophone.

He launched his career in the late 1940's with Dizzy Gillespie's big band. In 1948 he recorded his first lead album, James Moody and His Bop Men for Blue Note Records. In 1949 he moved to Europe where he recorded Moody's Mood for Love, which became a huge hit in the States. In 1963 he rejoined Gillespie and performed in the trumpeter's quartet until the early 1970s, when he began a 10-year stint in the Las Vegas Hilton Orchestra.

He resumed recording in 1985 and received a Grammy nomination for his playing on Manhattan Transfer's Vocalese album. In 1990 Moody and Gillespie received a Grammy nomination for their rendition of Gillespie's "Get the Booty." Moody's latest recording is Moody's Party, celebrating his 70th birthday at the Blue Note on Telarc Jazz.

Moody plays the soprano, alto, tenor and flute with a respect for tradition, but delights in discovering new musical paths, making him one of the most expressive and enduring figures in modern jazz.

Claudio Roditi

Integrating post-bop elements and Brazilian rhythmic concepts into his palette with ease, Claudio Roditi plays with power and lyricism. This versatility keeps the trumpeter/flugelhornist in demand as a leader, a studio musician and a sideman.

Born in 1946 in Rio de Janeiro, Brazil, Roditi began his musical studies when he was just five years old. By the time he was 12, he had already become a serious jazz listener. Eight years later, he was named a finalist in the International Jazz Competition in Vienna, and the following year, he moved to Mexico City where he was active on the contemporary music scene.

Roditi relocated to Boston in 1970 and studied at Berklee College of Music. Later he joined the faculty of the School of Contemporary Music and rounded out his schedule with club and concert performances. In 1976, Roditi finally made the move to the jazz mecca of the world, New York, which between tours and worldwide performances, he continues to call home.

Jose Rizo's All Stars

Jose Rizo's "Jazz on the Latin Side All Stars" is a 15-piece ensemble made up of legendary figures, world-class studio musicians, great jazz artists, and popular bandleaders. This tight ensemble was formed a few months after a big jam session at B.B. King's on the Universal City Walk in the Los Angeles area.

Bandleader/jazz radio announcer Jose Rizo named the band after his Latin jazz radio program "Jazz on the Latin Side" on KKJZ 88.1 FM (KJazz) in Long Beach, California. The "Jazz on the Latin Side All Stars" proudly represent KJazz where ever they perform.

Ensemble members and rotating members include, Justo Almarino (tenor sax), Marvin "Smitty" Smith (drums), Danilo Lozano (flute/musical director), Francisco Aguabella (congas), Poncho Sanchez (congas), Alex Acuna (drums), Freddie Crespo (lead vocals/timbales), Francisco Torres (trombone/prime arranger), Rene Camacho (bass), Bijon Watson (trumpet), Sal Cracchiolo (trumpet), Robert Incelli (alto sax), Scott Martin (baritone sax), Gilbert Castellanos (trumpet), Eric Jorgensen (trombone), Jimmy Branly (timbales), Joe Rotondi (piano), and Luis Eric Gonzalez (trumpet).

"The Last Bullfighter," their first recording as an ensemble, reached #10 on the national jazz charts (Jazz Week). Their new CD "Tambolero" is steadily climbing the national top-50 jazz charts (Jazz Week), debuting at #29. The "Jazz on the Latin Side All Stars" have recently performed at the Hollywood Bowl, Central Avenue Jazz Festival, Yoshi's, John Anson Ford Amphitheatre, The Jazz Bakery, Catalina Jazz Club, Steamer's Jazz Club, Latin Grammy After Party and Santa Monica Pier Concerts.

Jackie Ryan

Any jazz singer who can claim praise from the likes of Clark Terry, Jon Hendricks and Terry Gibbs deserves careful consideration. Among the many jazz greats Jackie has sung, recorded, or toured with are: Clark Terry, Toots Thielemans, Cyrus Chestnut, Red Holloway, Jon Mayer, and Jon Hendricks.

Jackie has been blessed with a three and a half octave range. Add to that her remarkable vocal attributes: a timbre that reaches from whiskey-and-honey chest notes to clear-as-air head tones; the capacity to slip and slide with ease across everything from gospel melismas to blues belting; and a sense of phrasing that manages the difficult feat of telling a lyrical story.

Her mother, who was Mexican, crooned Spanish folk songs to her when she was a child (Jackie often includes a Spanish song on her CDs as a tribute to her mom). Her father, who is Irish, is a classically-trained baritone who sang in several languages. So it is not by accident that her appeal "bridges the gap between both geography and generations," as BILLBOARD so aptly put it.

Jackie's newest CD, "You And The Night And The Music," released in the fall of 2007, was #1 nationwide on Jazzweek's industry standard chart and topped the charts in the USA for seven solid months! It features Red Holloway and is backed by the Jeff Hamilton Trio. www.jackieryan.com

Ambrose Akinmusire

Ambrose's conceptual extension into a new musical language is never to the exclusion of beauty. As one who listens intently, he values the fertility of a pause, of communication, and tension. Ambrose began conceptualizing early as a musician, theorizing and experimenting as a catalyst for development. He seeks other genres of music to analyze and expose, drawing inspiration from such musicians as Bjork and Chopin.

Ambrose's music restructures accepted notions of jazz in a way that reflects his ability to recognize nuances, multiplicities, and patterns. First playing piano at the age of three, his familiarity with music began long before putting his mouth to a trumpet. He is relentlessly opposed to stagnation, seeking movement in both his music and his life.

Before he was eighteen, Ambrose had already performed with such famed musicians as Joe Henderson, Joshua Redman, Steve Coleman, and Billy Higgins. After graduating Berkeley High School, he moved to New York to begin a scholarship at the Manhattan School of Music.

Throughout his studies, Ambrose continued to tether audiences to his concepts and his sound. His exposure to dynamic modes of playing and to musicians with accumulated experiences only promoted the development of his own distinct musical style.

Ambrose is a recent graduate of the Masters program at USC, and also the Monk Institute. Most recently Ambrose is the winner of both the 2007 Carmine Caruso International Jazz Trumpet Solo Competition and 2007 Thelonious Monk International Jazz Competition. www.ambroseakinmusire.com

GROOVES FROM BRAZIL AND THE CARIBBEAN

Presented by Horizon Air at 8 p.m.

Monty Alexander's "Jazz and Roots" Project

Kenny Barron's "Canta Brazil" with Trio da Paz and Anne Drummond, flute

The Anthony Wilson/Chico Pinheiro band

Anne Drummond

From an early age Anne studied both jazz piano and classical flute. Drummond began garnering complimentary reviews from age sixteen, winning several awards for her piano, flute and trombone playing. She scored multiple honors at the famed Lionel Hampton Jazz Festival in Moscow, Idaho, as well as at Jazz at Lincoln Center's Essentially Ellington Competition.

In 1999, Drummond moved to New York and studied piano with Kenny Barron at the Manhattan School of Music. At one of her practice sessions with Barron, Drummond brought along a flute she had just purchased. Unaware that she was fluent on the instrument, Barron asked her to play. He was immediately impressed and asked her to join him in the studio for an experimental project and later to join his group Canta Brasil. That band included the top-notch Brazilian group Trio da Paz.

Drummond appeared on Barron's 2002 CD, "Canta Brasil" leading her to be named a Rising Star in Downbeat's 2003 Critic's Poll, and on his 2004 CD "Images." At Manhattan School of Music, she met Stefon Harris, who also took her under his wing. She was invited to record on two of his CDs, the Grammy nominated "The Grand Unification Theory" and "Evolution" (BlueNote).

Whether performing Brazilian, classical or straight-ahead, as a composer, leader, or sideman, Anne Drummond is committed to distinguishing the sound of the flute and will undoubtedly leave a unique and beautiful mark on the face of music.

Trio da Paz

Featuring three of Brazil's most in-demand musicians, Trio da Paz updates the infectious spirit of jazz-oriented Brazilian music. Formed in 1990 by Romero Lubambo, Nilson Matta and Duduka da Fonseca, the Trio redefines Brazilian Jazz with their harmonically adventurous interactions, daring improvisations and dazzling rhythms.

Nilson has long been considered one of Brazil's best players. Since his arrival in New York in 1985, he has become the first call of many of the top US musicians. Nilson studied bass at the Federal University of Rio de Janeiro (UFRJ) with Sandrino Santoro, Brazil's premier classical bass player. In 1985 he moved to New York City.

Romero was born in Rio de Janeiro in 1955, and studied classical piano and music theory as a young boy. From the time he played his first notes on the guitar at age thirteen, he devoted himself to that instrument. In 1985 he left Brazil for New York, where he became very much in demand not only for his authentic Brazilian sound, but also for his command of a variety of styles.

Duduka was born in Rio de Janeiro, Brazil. Duduka began playing the drums at the age of thirteen. By fifteen he was appearing on television, and also performing and recording with top Brazilian musicians. In 1975 Duduka moved to New York establishing numerous Brazilian Jazz Groups. From 1984 to 1999 Duduka was a member of the faculty at the Drummer's Collective in NYC, conducting workshops and private lessons.

Kenny Barron

Born in 1943 in Philadelphia, Barron was the younger brother of saxophonist Bill Barron, and played in his bands, and in Mel Melvin's R&B band in his hometown before heading to New York in 1961. After successful turns as a sideman with Roy Haynes, Lou Donaldson and Lee Morgan, Barron landed influential gigs with Dizzy Gillespie (1962-66), Freddie Hubbard (1966-70), and Yusef Lateef (1970-75). In the late eighties, Barron teamed up with Stan Getz, resulting in the Grammy nominated legendary duo recording, "People Time" (Verve). Barron went on to garner eight additional Grammy nods for his work as a bandleader. In addition to his work as a leader, Barron worked as a sideman to a wide range of artists, from Ron Carter, James Moody and Milt Jackson, to Buddy Rich and violinist Regina Carter.

Barron also enjoys a successful career as an educator. He was a full-time instructor at Rutgers University and now teaches at The Julliard School and Manhattan School of Music. In April 2005, Jazz at Lincoln Center hosted a three-week Kenny Barron Festival, during which time he was inducted into the American Jazz Hall of Fame. In addition he has been named Best Pianist multiple times by Downbeat Critics' Poll and Readers' Poll, Jazz Times, Jazz Iz and the Jazz Journalist Association.

Monty Alexander

By grafting the traditions of American jazz to his authentic Jamaican roots, pianist Monty Alexander has spent a lifetime exploring the rich depths of musical and cultural diversity. In a career spanning four decades, he has performed and/or recorded with artists from every corner of the musical universe: Frank Sinatra, Ray Brown, Dizzy Gillespie, Sonny Rollins, Quincy Jones and many more.

Born and raised in Kingston, Jamaica, he took his first piano lessons at age six. During his teen years, he enjoyed the performances of Louis Armstrong and Nat "King" Cole at the Carib Theater in Jamaica.

Alexander came to the United States at the end of 1961. Less than two years later, he landed a gig with Art Mooney's orchestra in Las Vegas, where he caught the eye of New York City club owner Jilly Rizzo and his friend, Frank Sinatra. Rizzo hired the young pianist to work in his club, where he accompanied many well-known performers, including Sinatra. Before long he was working with Dizzy Gillespie, Clark Terry, and Sonny Rollins.

To date, Monty Alexander has recorded over 60 albums as a leader. Separate and apart from being the best musician he can be, "My goal is to uplift," says Alexander. "The piano, to me, is a vehicle for connecting to other human beings. I'm very open to all forms of music. I'm not a bebop musician, I'm not a calypso musician, I'm not a reggae musician. I'm a musician who loves it all."

Chico Pinheiro

One of the leading figures in modern Brazilian music, guitarist/composer/arranger Chico Pinheiro was born in São Paulo. Self-taught, Pinheiro started playing the guitar and the piano when he was 7 years old. After starting to perform professionally at age 15, he rounded out his musical education with a stay in Boston, where he received his music degree from Berklee College of Music (Summa cum laude), studying with legendary teachers Mick Goodrick and Hal Crook and winning several academic/ musical prizes there during his studies.

Not only an exceptional guitarist with a wonderful sound and great fluidity, Chico Pinheiro is a unique composer of originality and maturity.

Today, Chico is already a remarkable presence in - and outside the Brazilian music scene, who has distinguished himself as a guitarist, composer and arranger. He has performed and recorded with the "cream of the crop" of Brazilian artists such as Rosa Passos, Chico César, Dori and Danilo Caymmi, João Donato, Johny Alf, Luciana Souza, César Camargo Mariano, while also making his mark internationally, recording and playing with Roberto Fonseca, Cachaito Lopez, Fleurine, Mark Turner, Chris Potter, Brad Mehldau, Eddie Gomez, Claudio Roditi, Duduka da Fonseca, Anthony Wilson, Victor Mendoza and Giovani Hidalgo among others.

Anthony Wilson

Grammy-nominated guitarist/composer/arranger Anthony Wilson is one of the leading jazz musicians of his generation. He has recorded six solo albums since 1997. The most recent, "Power of Nine," (2006, Groove Note) was included in The New Yorker's roundup of the top ten jazz recordings of the year.

A sensitive and gifted accompanist as well as a formidable soloist, Anthony Wilson has been an indispensable member of Diana Krall's band since he joined her in 2001 for a series of performances at Paris' Olympia Theater. The performances were collected on the Grammy-winning CD/DVD "Live In Paris" already widely considered a classic. Recent recordings and live appearances with Madeleine Peyroux, Al Jarreau and Aaron Neville have served to spotlight Wilson's growing artistry, musical flexibility and improvisational authority. Bennie Wallace, Larry Goldings, Joe Henry, Harold Land, Chris Botti, the Clayton-Hamilton Jazz Orchestra, and his father, legendary composer/arranger/bandleader Gerald Wilson, are just a few of the well-respected musicians with whom Anthony Wilson has forged fruitful, lasting partnerships.

A skilled, inspired composer and arranger with a deep understanding of tradition and an equal willingness to take risks, Wilson won the Thelonious Monk Institute International Composers' Competition in 1995, and has received numerous commissions for small- and large-scale original works. Every year since 2000, Anthony Wilson's considerable talents as a "triple-threat" guitarist/composer/arranger have landed him at the top levels of all three of those categories in Downbeat magazine's International Critics' poll.

John Clayton

Excitement, inspiration and education – those are the hallmarks of the Lionel Hampton International Jazz Festival. Since he was named the Festival's artistic director in 2008, John Clayton has brought an extraordinary new level of excitement, inspiration and education to the Festival. The legacy of Lionel Hampton and Professor Lynn (Doc) Skinner is something John keeps close to his heart and their love of jazz and the Festival continue to influence the Festival's plans, designs and actions.

John is a major force in the jazz world as a bassist, arranger, bandleader, educator, articulate spokesman for the music and as artistic director to festivals and summer camps.

As the Festival's Artistic Director, John shapes the vision and themes of the concerts. He reaches into the jazz world to bring the finest groups and musical collaborations to the main stage. His passion and experience shape the educational programming the Festival presents in collaboration with the Lionel Hampton School of Music. His influence is evident in everything, from the Web site, to the adjudicated student performances, clinics and workshops, the Young Artist Concerts, the Jazz in the Schools program and Hamp's Club. John spends time with University of Idaho students, faculty and staff to discuss jazz, works with student ensembles and combos, and inspires each individual to become a better player, listener, contributor and fan.

John is co-leader, along with Jeff Hamilton and his brother, Jeff Clayton, of the acclaimed Clayton-Hamilton Jazz Orchestra. He is a key member of the Clayton Brothers Quintet, is the education director for the Vail Jazz Foundation, director of the Port Townsend Jazz Festival, has been nominated for six Grammy's, and was awarded his first Grammy award in 2008 for his arrangement of "I'm Going to Live Til I Die" featured on Queen Latifah's CD entitled "Travlin Light." He recently produced recordings for Regina Carter, Sachal Vansandani and Sara Gazarek, he arranges for Michael Buble, Quincy Jones and Natalie Cole, and has recorded and played with Gladys Knight, John Pizzarelli, Diana Krall, and many more. He is a past president of the International Society of Bassists and serves as president of the American Society of Music Arrangers and Composers.

Did you know that John Clayton was born in Venice, California in 1952 as the oldest of nine children? John remembers, "My mother played the earliest role in my introduction to music. She played piano and organ for our Baptist church and conducted the choirs."

He began playing the piano around the age of eight and says his mother inspired both he and his brother, Jeff, to play. When John was 13, he was allowed to choose an art/music elective at junior high school. He chose music and walked into the band room where Mr. Wallace, the band director, asked him what instrument he wanted to play. He first selected a neat, nice and big, complex instrument across the room – the tuba. When leaving the room, he saw four gorgeous brown things standing in a rack. He asked if he could play that instrument instead, so Mr. Wallace crossed off tuba and wrote down John's destiny... bass.

What about the bass continues to appeal to him?

"The supportive role of the bass fits my personality. Everything is built on what the bass contributes in 95 percent of the situations I can think of. Secondly, it's the vibrations of the bass that just feel so good."

In his high school years, John began working with local jazz pianist Eddie Mitchell, and soon took lessons from Ray Brown.

We encourage you to take the time to learn more about this remarkable man, our Artistic Director, John Clayton.

Bobby McFerrin

The Monty Alexander Trio with John Clayton, bass, and Jeff Hamilton, drums

Jeff Hamilton

When you want originality and versatility, you want Jeff Hamilton. It is the reason why he is in demand as one of today's top drummers, whether recording or performing with his trio, Oscar Peterson, Diana Krall, the Clayton Brothers or the Clayton/Hamilton Jazz Orchestra. As well as recording and performing throughout the world, Jeff teaches, arranges and composes."

Leonard Feather described Jeff's work with Oscar Peterson as "the drummer whose intelligent backing and spirited solo work met Peterson's high standards."

Born in Richmond, Ind., Jeff grew up listening to his parents' big band records and at the age of eight, began playing drums to Oscar Peterson records. He attended Indiana University and later studied with John Von Ohlen.

In 1974, he joined the New Tommy Dorsey Orchestra; the Lionel Hampton Big Band in '75; and then, with bassist John Clayton, the Monty Alexander Trio. He attained a childhood goal when he joined Woody Herman and the Thundering Herd. He was then invited by Ray Brown to join the LA4, replacing Shelly Manne. From 1983 to 1987, Jeff performed with Ella Fitzgerald, the Count Basie Orchestra, Rosemary Clooney and Monty Alexander. Jeff began his association with the Ray Brown Trio at the Lionel Hampton Jazz Festival in 1988 and in 1995, began concentrating on his own trio. Jeff was named the #1 mainstream jazz drummer by readers of Modern Drummer magazine in 2004, 2006 and 2007. www.hamiltonjazz.com

Bobby McFerrin is one of the natural wonders of the music world. A ten-time Grammy Award winner, he is one of the world's best-known vocal innovators and improvisers and a passionate spokesman for music education. His recordings have sold over 20 million copies, and his collaborations including those with Yo-Yo Ma, Chick Corea, and Herbie Hancock have established him as an ambassador of both the classical and jazz worlds.

With a four-octave range and a vast array of vocal techniques, McFerrin is no mere singer; he is music's last true Renaissance man, a vocal explorer who has combined jazz, folk and a multitude of world music influences - choral, a cappella and classical music - with his own ingredients.

"Unconventional" is a good way to describe the career of Bobby McFerrin. Those familiar with McFerrin's shows, whether as a conductor or a vocalist, know that each one is a unique event that resonates with the unexpected. As one of the foremost guardians of music's rich heritage, he remains at the vanguard with his natural, beautiful and timeless music that transcends all borders and embraces all cultures.

The Friday night performance will feature Bobby McFerrin and John Clayton collaborating together to create a unique tailored performance for the audience of the Lionel Hampton International Jazz Festival. It will be designed for the students and the casual concert goers, and will provide them an experience that could happen in no other place and at no other time.

EVERYBODY DANCE: MOVING TO SOUNDS OF YESTERDAY AND TOMORROW

Presented by Avista at 8:30 p.m.

Enjoy a dance floor during the second half (supported by Gritman Medical Center)

Piano prodigy Eldar Djangiroy

Vocalist Gretchen Parlato

The Lionel Hampton New York Big Band with Joe Locke, vibes, and special guests Ed Shaughnessy, drums, and tap dancer Andrew J. Nemr

Eldar Djangiroy

Hard bop/post-bop pianist Eldar Djangiroy has accomplished something that the vast majority of jazz artists – pianists or otherwise – will never accomplish: he landed a contract with a major label and received a Grammy nomination before he could legally have a drink. Eldar has recorded five albums including three with Sony Classical including the most recent Grammy nominated album, "Re-Imagination."

Eldar came to the US from Kyrgyzstan in the former Soviet Union when he was nine. His first performance appearance in the US was at the Interlochen Center for the Arts in Michigan. He quickly moved up the ranks and was featured on Marian McPartland's NPR Piano Jazz radio show at the age of 11.

Eldar has appeared at many festivals including IAJE, Lionel Hampton, Jakarta, SXSW, and CMJ, and has toured throughout North America, Europe and Asia. He has performed at venues ranging from the Hollywood Bowl to Carnegie Hall and has played at the most notable jazz venues in the world including Blue Note (NY, Japan, Italy), the Vanguard, Dizzy's, Yoshi's, Jazz Alley, and more. Eldar has been seen on national TV including the 2000 and 2008 Grammy's, Conan O'Brien, The CBS Saturday Early Show and Jimmy Kimmel Live.

2008 is a banner year for Eldar including a 2008 Grammy Nomination for Best Contemporary Jazz Album. Eldar currently lives in New York City. www.eldarjazz.com

Gretchen Parlato

"The first thing you notice about Gretchen Parlato is that she's a singer with a deep, almost magical connection to the music," says jazz legend Herbie Hancock. "She takes a lot of chances with her understated style, and it works. Every note is expressive, powerful, and pretty. And most important, her heart is in the right place."

Gretchen's artistic leanings became a full-time vocation when she entered the Los Angeles County High School for the Arts. At 16, she was selected for a solo role in an L.A. Opera production and solo performance at the John Cage Retrospective at MoCA, where music was transformed from fun hobby into the early stages of an artistic career. During these years at LACHSA, her love for jazz and Brazilian music blossomed.

Her African percussion courses cultivated a facility for rhythm that led Gretchen to attend UCLA, earning a Bachelor of Arts in Jazz Studies. She continued her study and performance of Brazilian music as well as the Portuguese language, and deepened her study of jazz with Kenny Burrell, Gerald Wilson and vocalist Tierney Sutton, studying and performing music and dance of Ghana with Kobla Ladzekpo.

In 2001, Gretchen was the first vocalist to be accepted into the Thelonious Monk Institute of Jazz Performance. In 2004, Gretchen won the prestigious Thelonious Monk Competition. In the Fall of 2003 Gretchen moved to New York, where she quickly created a buzz, working with some of the top musicians on the scene.

Move to the Grooves!

This year, the Lionel Hampton International Jazz Festival invites you to pick up your feet and dance! On both Wednesday and Saturday night the evenings' attendees are invited to dance the night away to the sounds and rhythms of internationally acclaimed artists.

On Wednesday evening the Festival is presenting a two-part concert. The first half will feature a tribute to Dizzy Gillespie with an all-star trumpeting blowout by Jon Faddis, Byron Stripling, Claudio Roditi and Ambrose Akinmusire. Then the Latin grooves and the dancing begin with artists including James Moody, Jose Rizzo and his All Stars and Jackie Ryan.

Saturday the house will experience the youthful sounds of Grammy nominated pianist, Eldar Djangirov, and Brazilian vocalist Gretchen Parlato. Also on stage will be the famous Lionel Hampton New York Big Band, energizing everyone with music inspired by the late King of the Vibes.

All ticket holders for Wednesday and Saturday's concerts will be allowed to bust a move on the Kibbie Dome's dance floors. One hundred people will be allowed on each floor at a time, with rotations made every two songs. Due to the high demand for dancing last year, guided lines will allow orderly entrance onto the floors.

If you are interested in touching up your footwork, we are offering free lessons with the University's Dance Department. Clinics will be held on each day of the festival in the Physical Education Building. See the workshop and clinic schedule for full details.

Come out and move to the groove this year at the Lionel Hampton International Jazz Festival, where you don't just hear the jazz, you experience it!

The 2009 dance floors are supported by Gritman Medical Center.

Saturday Artists

Lionel Hampton Big Band

Lionel Hampton had an uncanny ability to turn brilliant musicians into world-class performers. Hampton discovered, nurtured and trained some of the most talented young jazz musicians of the past 60 years. Many of these artists have become stars in their own right.

The personnel in the band changed over the years, but his last group, most of whom had loyally remained with him for much of their professional lives, is currently touring the world and displaying the same verve and excitement Lionel and his band members always brought to every concert stage, club engagement, festival and recording session.

Currently under the direction of Cleave Guyton, Jr. on alto saxophone and flute, with arrangements by tenor saxophone ace Lance Bryant and high note trumpet star Claudio Tony Barrero, the rollicking Hampton Big Band continually displays the same exuberance that kept Lionel and his musicians performing all over the world since the band first debuted more than 60 years ago.

Combining fine musicianship with a flair for entertainment, the Lionel Hampton New York Big Band will continue performing as it has in the past, keeping alive the memory and music of the late "King of the Vibes."

Joe Locke

Joe Locke is considered by many to be the most gifted vibraphonist of his generation. His international reputation as a player, composer, band leader and conceptualist has been further enhanced recently by the accolades he has received for the creative output of his touring and recording projects.

He has been voted the #1 vibist in Down-Beat Magazine's Critic's Poll (TDWR) and Brazil's International Jazz Poll, was honored with the "Mallet Player of the Year" Award by the Jazz Journalists Association (JJA) in 2006, and has received two Golden Ear

"Concert of the Year" Awards — in 2005 with the Joe Locke / Geoffrey Keezer Group for their concert at the Ballard Jazz Festival, released on CD as "Live in Seattle" on the Origin Label, and 2007 for his performance at the Port Townsend Jazz Festival.

Locke's recording "Re-velation," a tribute to vibes master Milt Jackson, stayed at number one on Jazz Week's national radio chart for an unprecedented 8 weeks in 2005 / 2006. Joe Locke has released more than 25 recordings as a band leader, and appeared on almost 100 albums as a guest artist.

A list of the artists Joe has performed and recorded with exhibits his diversity as an artist. That list includes Eddie Henderson, Cecil Taylor, Kenny Barron, Ron Carter, Jimmy Scott, Rod Stewart, Hiram Bullock, Bob Berg and Jeff "Tain" Watts, to name only a few.

Andrew J. Nemr

An experienced soloist, Andrew has performed in various venues nationally and internationally including the Blue Note Jazz Club, NY, Town Hall Theatre, NY, The Duke Theatre, NY, and the Bloomsbury Theatre, London, England. Andrew was featured alongside jazz greats Clark Terry, Jimmy Heath, Hank Jones, James Carter, and John Faddis in A Great Night in Harlem at the Apollo Theatre, NY, in support of the Jazz Foundation of America and, additionally on Harry Connick Jr.'s Only You Tour at Proctors Theatre, Schenectady, NY. He most recently has been the featured tap dancer with the Duke Ellington Orchestra presenting Duke Ellington: The Sacred Concerts.

In his efforts to continue to champion the art form of tap dance, Andrew co-founded, along with Gregory Hines, the Tap Legacy™ Foundation, Inc., which produces The Annual Finger Lakes Tap Dance Festival. Andrew is an Advisory Board member of the New York Committee to Celebrate National Tap Dance Day.

Andrew has been blessed to receive the guidance of many of the great tap dancers including Eddie Brown, Harold Cromer, Dr. Bunny Briggs, Dr. Jimmy Slyde, Dr. James "Buster" Brown, LeRoy Myers, Ernest "Brownie" Brown, Henry "Phace" Roberts, Dr. Henry LeTang, Dianne Walker, Savion Glover, and Gregory Hines.

Andrew holds a BFA in Computer Art from the School of Visuals Arts and is certified in the Active-Isolated Flexibility System by the Wharton Performance Group. Andrew performs regularly with the legendary Les Paul at the Iridium Jazz Club, NYC, and is on the faculty of Steps on Broadway, NYC.

Benny Green

Born in New York in 1963, Benny Green grew up in Berkeley, California, and began classical piano studies at the age of seven. Influenced by his father, a tenor saxophonist, his attention soon turned into Jazz: "I began trying to improvise on the piano, imitating the records I'd been hearing from my father's collection, which included a lot of Monk and Bird... it was a gradual process of teaching myself."

As a teenager he worked with Eddie Henderson, and got some big band experience with a 12-piece group led by Chuck Israels. After his graduation, Benny freelanced around the bay area for a year, and then moved to New York in the spring of 1982.

After a short stint with Bobby Watson, Green worked with Betty Carter between 1983 and 1987, the year he joined Art Blakey's band. He remained a Jazz Messenger through late 1989, at which point he began working with Freddie Hubbard's quintet.

In 1993 Oscar Peterson chose Benny as the first recipient of the City of Toronto's Glen Gould International Protégé Prize in Music. That year, Green replaced Gene Harris in Ray Brown's Trio, working with the veteran bass player until 1997. From 1997 on, Benny resumed his freelance career, led his own trios, and concentrated on his solo piano performances.

Graham Dechter

Los Angeles based guitarist, Graham Dechter is one of the most promising young jazz musicians on the scene today. At age 19, Dechter became the youngest member of the acclaimed Clayton-Hamilton Jazz Orchestra (CHJO), which last year was named best big band in JazzTimes magazine.

Through his association with CHJO and other playing experience, he has had the opportunity to perform with jazz greats Jeff Hamilton, John Clayton, Jeff Clayton, Nancy Wilson, John Pizzarelli, Ernie Andrews, Barbara Morrison, Red Holloway, Les McCann, Regina Carter, Stefon Harris, Marlena Shaw, Kurt Elling, Roy Hargrove, Russell Malone, Roberta Gambarini, Gilbert Castellanos, Clark Terry, James Moody, Jimmy Heath, Frank Wess, Phil Woods, John Faddis, Billy Taylor, Quincy Jones and Snooky Young.

Dechter's musical education is also impressive, having studied at the Idyllwild Arts Academy, the Eastman School of Music and California Institute of the Arts. His list of teachers include; guitarists Larry Koonse, Jim Fox and Peter Bernstein, as well as saxophonist George Coleman and bassist Marshall Hawkins, both veterans of the Miles Davis Quintet. As well as being an accomplished guitarist, Dechter also arranges and composes for different ensembles including his own trio, a group that sheds new light on well known standards. Graham Dechter's playing style is forward-thinking yet firmly rooted in swing and the straight ahead jazz tradition.

Paul Keller

Paul began studying the string bass at age 12 and played his first gigs in his hometown of Grand Rapids, MI. He continued his classical music education at the University of Michigan. Today, Paul is one of the busiest bassists in the Detroit area. He leads the 16-piece Paul Keller Orchestra which plays original, obscure and classic big band material collected from all periods of jazz history.

Paul is co-leader of the popular Keller/Kocher Quartet. Formed in 1987, the ensemble is a three-horn sextet featuring some of the best Ann Arbor and Detroit area musicians.

He has also played with jazz greats Joe Williams, Cab Calloway, Panama Francis, Oliver Jones, Guido Basso, Mark Murphy, Jeanie Bryson, Doc Cheatham, Hal Galper, Gene Bertoni, Norris Turney, Eddie Daniels, Mulgrew Miller, Jay McShann, Don Thompson, Branford Marsalis, Barry Harris and James Moody.

In 1993, Paul recorded an album for Columbia Records with guitarist Russell Malone, entitled, "Black Butterfly." With Malone, Paul has played the Blue Note NYC, Lincoln Center and many major jazz festivals including the JVC, Newport, Sunfest and Playboy Festivals, as well as the Istanbul Jazz Festival in Turkey. In 1995, Paul began working regularly with pianist/vocalist Diana Krall. Along with Russell Malone, Paul appears on Diana's Grammy-nominated CD, "All for You."

Paul is currently on the faculty of the University of Michigan in the Jazz Studies Program and conducts improvisation clinics and workshops throughout the mid-west.

Clayton Cameron

Clayton Cameron has a dynamic career that has already crossed many barriers in the world of music. From Sammy Davis Jr. to Tony Bennett, Clayton continues to push the envelope of contemporary drumming and brushes to their very limits.

Born in Los Angeles, California Clayton began playing bongos at the age of seven. By age twelve, his fascination with drums became so apparent his parents decided to buy him his first drum set. Clayton went on to get a degree in music from California State University at Northridge. During college, he played in clubs around L.A

behind artists who were mentors to him. After graduating from college, Clayton moved to Las Vegas to perform. Soon, Clayton was hired to be the drummer for Sammy Davis Jr. During those years Clayton also played for Sammy's Rat Pack friends-Dean Martin and Frank Sinatra. The three toured together in 1988-89 selling out theaters and stadiums alike.

In 1990 Clayton finished production on his instructional video, "The Living Art of Brushes." It was the first video dedicated to the art of playing brushes.

In April 1993, he started what has been an unbelievable six years of world wide touring and recording with the incomparable Tony Bennett. During Clayton's time with Tony Bennett the group has performed with many great artists including Frank Sinatra and more recently with Billie Joel, Sting, Mariah Carey, Brandy, the Back Street Boys, James Taylor, K. D Lang, Elvis Costello and Ricky Martin.

Student Opportunities

The Lionel Hampton International Jazz Festival is proud to be a leading provider of jazz music education to thousands of students from across the nation and Canada. Every year, the Festival kicks off an array of workshops and clinics, student performances and concerts to provide students the skills to enhance their knowledge, understanding and appreciation of the art of jazz. In February, a multitude of acclaimed master musicians, educators and artist educators from all over the world come together to give students and directors a priceless experience in music education.

Workshops and Clinics

As students gather in Moscow during the week of the Festival, a host of clinics and workshops are offered around town. Each clinic and workshop presents one of the Festival's special guest artists, educators or artist/educators.

Clinic participants have the chance to hear main stage artists play, tell stories, and demonstrate the techniques they use every day. At some clinics, presenting artists invite audience members to perform on the main stage with them... be prepared! Bring your music, instrument and voice to these rare and exciting moments. And don't forget your questions; this is your chance to get up close and personal with the finest musicians jazz has to offer.

Workshops are given by educators and artist/educators. The workshops provide instruction, hand-outs and resources for you to improve your playing, singing and understanding of jazz. You can learn inside secrets of jazz history, world jazz influencers, being a better director and how to use music technology. Some of the workshops are held in a master class format allowing you to bring your horn. In the hands-on workshops you will be a full participant experiencing instructions and techniques first-hand. As an added bonus, you can engage in the physical side of the music by joining in on one of many dance clinics which will prepare you to dance the night away at the Wednesday and Saturday concerts.

Hamp's Club

Hamp's Club is the Festival's newest tradition of honoring the excellence and excitement of our student performers. This new venue gives the day's solo performers the opportunity to feel like professionals as they take to their very own stage. Hamp's Club gives students the chance to understand what it's like to play the clubs. It's more than just playing music, it's motivation to pursue a career and stir a drive for a professional lifestyle. Hamp's Club begins one hour before each evening concert and a second Hamp's Club follows the Thursday, Friday and Saturday evening concerts.

Adjudicated Student Performances

What would a jazz festival be without the performances? The Festival offers students the opportunity to take to the stage and astound audiences with their talent and enthusiasm. During the day, students perform in ensembles, combos and as soloists. The Festival staff has taken care to bring adjudicators with educational backgrounds to hear the future stars of jazz and to provide them feedback and tips on how to improve.

In the late afternoons, the Young Artist Concerts allow adjudicator-chosen ensembles to perform on the main stage to the accolades of peers and audience members. Wednesday will feature the elementary, junior and middle school performances. High school performances will show what they've got on Friday and Saturday.

Online Opportunities

The Festival's Web site is designed to inform and be used as a resource tool. In addition to the concert and clinic/workshop schedules you can learn about artists, educators and explore the many opportunities found at the University of Idaho. We have on-line activities to help you prepare for the Festival. You can learn about Lionel Hampton, increase your jazz vocabulary or try out an activity worksheet. In the artist corner section you will learn about the Festival's visiting artists. While you are at the Festival, don't forget to check out the What to do on Campus section.

- You can also share your experiences with fellow classmates by using the Clinic Questionnaire.
- Become an adjudicator and learn from your peer's performances with the You be the Judge worksheets.
- Make the most of your Festival visit by using the Post Festival Rubric and Goal Setting activities when you get home.

See it all at www.jazz.uidaho.edu.

The University of Idaho is more than a 100-year-old residential campus with ivy-covered buildings and rows of old elm trees. It is a place where traditions meet new technologies and where its inspirational staff and free-thinking students share new ideas and perspectives. This is the University of Idaho's legacy. Yesterday, today and tomorrow: we produce leaders, thinkers and global citizens who value independence, innovation, creativity, friendship and fun.

Jazz in the Schools

Jazz in the Schools (JIS) is an energetic, fun and educational outreach program focused on taking jazz into classrooms throughout the Northwest. JIS provides K-12 directors and students with jazz education materials, activities and an interactive presentation with master musicians and educators.

Jazz in the Schools is now sent to schools throughout the year. In 2008, the JIS program visited schools in Idaho, Oregon, Montana and Washington to bring a quality jazz experience to 62 schools and approximately 9,200 students. This year, we will send 10 teams of artists to regional schools the week of the 2009 Festival and visit nearly 7,000 students. More visits are being planned for the spring and fall of 2009. Through the program's 14 years of education thousands of students have experienced and participated in this exceptionally American art form.

Supported by grant funding from the National Endowment for the Arts, the program goals, content, activities and outcomes are guided by a committee under the direction of the Lionel Hampton School of Music. Through the committee process, the program will more closely align with Idaho Humanities standards and the national standards for music education. We are looking forward to releasing new materials, themes and activities for the students and directors we visit.

Open World Russian Jazz All Stars

The Open World Russian Jazz All Stars will return for a fifth tour at the 2009 Lionel Hampton International Jazz Festival, bringing the finest young talents from Russia to America as a part of a musical and cultural leadership exchange program. The United States Library of Congress and the National Endowment for the Arts has awarded the University of Idaho a grant to facilitate this unique opportunity. The goal of the Open World project is to forge better understanding between America and Russia by giving emerging Russian leaders in the arts unique opportunities to observe and experience American cultural and community life firsthand. This year's musicians include:

Anatoliy Kozhayev (bass)

Anatoliy was born in the industrial city of Magnitogorsk. He started his jazz studies at the Magnitogorsk Music College and continued at Rostov Performing Arts College and Moscow Region Arts College. Currently he is a student at the Gnessin Russian Academy of Music, one of the most prestigious music schools in Russia. Anatoly performs at jazz festivals throughout Russia, and works with numerous Moscow jazz club circuit bands, including those led by the Open World alumni Pyotr Vostokov, Vladimir Nesterenko, Pavel Timofeyev, David Petrov-Tkebuchava, and by the famed Russian jazz veterans Alexey Kuznetsov and Lev Kushnir. Currently, Anatoliy is a member of a jazz band directed by the singer Anna Buturlina.

Nikolay Kulikov (guitar)

Born in Severodvinsk, Arkhangelsk Region, Northern Russia, Nikolay studied jazz guitar at Moscow's Gnessin Russian Academy of Music and then returned to Arkhangelsk region to carry on the torch of jazz education there. Nikolay is a part of a busy jazz scene of Northern Europe:

he performs a lot in Norway, next door to the Arkhangelsk region. Together with the Norwegian pianist Tor Egil Braseth he co-leads The Bridge – a Russian-Norwegian band. He also directs two groups in Arkhangelsk - his own trio with veteran bassist Nikolay Klishin and Arkhangelsk Jazz Friends band. In addition, Nikolay performs blues rock in Arkhangelsk-based band called Baskerville Hall. Since 2007 Nikolay has taught jazz guitar at Arkhangelsk Music College.

Sekachev Roman (baritone sax)

Roman is among the very few jazz musicians on the Moscow jazz scene who specializes solely in baritone sax. His powerful playing, clean tone, and great improvisational skills have already gained him recognition among his peers. The quartet Roman co-leads with trumpet virtuoso Pyotr Vostokov made a sensation in Russia's 2007-2008 jazz festival season, when they performed their tribute to the jazz grand baritone player, late Gerry Mulligan. Roman plays in the Blues Party Orchestra which specializes in neo-swing and danceable old-school rhythm'n'blues, and with several other bands.

Armen Sultanyan (drums)

The younger brother of Open World alumnus, sax player Ovagem Sultanyan, Armen studied jazz drums at the Rostov Performing Arts College, then at the Rostov-based Rakhmaninov Conservatory of Music, and now at the Gnessin Russian Academy of Music. In Moscow, Armen studies jazz drumming with Ivan "Vano" Avaliani and jazz ensemble with famed professor Alexander Oseichuk. He is already "in demand" on the Moscow club scene, performing in a variety of groups, from pianist Marina Makarova jazz ensemble to a dance blues band called 2 Breath Brass Band.

2009 Educators and Artist Educators

This year, you will find another remarkable group of nationally renowned educators and artist/educators that have spent many years in the classroom, on the stage; working with students, directors and jazz fans of all ages. They work year round as performers, teachers, summer camp presenters, and many work with other jazz presenting organizations. Take advantage of their knowledge, experience and insight through the many workshops and clinics. You will go home excited, inspired and prepared to become more than you ever imagined!

Bob Athayde

Bob Athayde began teaching privately in 1970 and in the public schools in 1976. Since 1986, he has taught full time at Stanley Intermediate School in Lafayette, California. Recognized for his outstanding teaching and musicianship, Mr. Athayde has garnered a number of awards including the California Music Educator's Don Schmeer Outstanding Band Teacher of California Award. Mr. Athayde has been featured as Guest Artist/Clinician/Adjudicator on trumpet and piano at the Cal-State Stanislaus Jazz Festival, and has served as an adjudicator in all instrumental music areas for the California

Music Educators Association and the University of California at Berkeley Jazz Festival. He also teaches private lesson (trumpet and piano), performs with his own band, Surefire, serves as Director of the Lafayette Summer Music Workshop, and teaches, conducts and adjudicates for various music festivals around the Bay Area.

Clay Jenkins

Clay Jenkins' career as a jazz artist has covered a wide range of musical experiences and responsibilities, bringing him to the forefront of the jazz performing and teaching arenas.

Clay's experience as a performer began at an early age playing with the Stan Kenton Orchestra. Clay moved to Los Angeles in 1978, where he was in demand as both a live performer and studio-recording musician. It was at this time that he toured with the big bands of Harry James, Buddy Rich, and finally, the Count Basie Orchestra.

Since moving to Rochester, NY to join the Eastman faculty in 2000, Clay has maintained a busy performing, recording, and teaching schedule. Clay continues to perform and record with the Clayton/Hamilton Jazz Orchestra, of which he is a charter member.

Clay has a host of solo recordings and his ensemble with co-leader Kim Richmond has released three recordings. Other artists Clay has recorded with include Milt Jackson, The Clayton/Hamilton Jazz Orchestra, Diana Krall, Gladys Knight, Peter Erskine, Rufus Reid, Ray Brown, Joe La Barbera Dr. John, Billy Childs, Ernestine Anderson, Karrin Allyson and Miki Coltrane. His most recent recording project is with Eastman colleagues Jeff Campbell and Rich Thompson.

Clay attended the University of North Texas (then named North Texas State University) where he earned his bachelor's degree in music theory and studied trumpet with John Haynie. He received his master's degree in jazz studies from the University of Southern California.

Clay Jenkins is an artist/clinician for Edwards Instrument Company and plays their trumpets exclusively.

Josh Nelson

A native of Southern California, Josh maintains a busy schedule as a jazz pianist, composer, arranger, and recording artist. Josh has performed with some of the most respected names in jazz, including Christian McBride, Anthony Wilson, Seamus Blake, Matt Wilson, Peter Erskine, Bob Hurst, Queen Latifah and Sara Gazarek.

Josh produced his independent debut album at age 19. While in high school, Josh received the Louis Armstrong Award, the John Phillip Sousa Award, as well as numerous "Outstanding Soloist Awards" and the Tom Talbert Scholarship. Josh received his Bachelor of Music in Jazz Studies from Long Beach State University. Most recently, he was a semi-finalist in the prestigious International Thelonious Monk Jazz Piano Competition in 2006.

He currently serves as Musical Director for jazz vocal sensation Sara Gazarek. Josh's compositions for Sara have garnered him international acclaim, with Sara's album reaching number 10 on the Billboard Jazz Charts. Josh arranges for film and television and maintains a private studio of jazz students, teaches for the Thelonious Monk Institute After School Jazz Program, and is a guest lecturer for the UCLA Jazz Combo Program. Josh recently signed on as Adjunct Faculty at Soka University in Aliso Viejo, California.

Quoting drummer Peter Erskine, "Josh is that rare young musician who has not only a wealth of study and experience under his belt, but he also possesses those rarest of musical attributes: a touch, a tone, and a sound that are all identifiably his own."

Paul Contos

Paul Contos, a woodwind and saxophone artist, combines technical wizardry and musical fluidity, as he continues to impress audiences. Paul's talents and abilities encompass the areas of worldwide performance, musical production, recording, conducting, arrangement and composition.

A San Francisco Bay Area native, Paul has been saxophone clinician for the Monterey Jazz Festival Education Program since 1984. Paul adjudicates and conducts clinics at major educational jazz festivals throughout California, the West and Japan.

Annually since 2000, Paul has been a featured performer and clinician at a jazz festival in São Paulo, Brazil, and has performed and conducted at all major jazz festivals in Europe, as well as jazz festivals in Japan and Canada.

Since 2006, Paul has led the Monterey Bay Jazz Orchestra, a professional big band featuring Monterey Peninsula's finest jazz players, performing weekly at Monterey Live.

Joanna Massey

Joanna Massey is the Assistant Director of Education at Jazz at Lincoln Center in New York, NY. Massey oversees Jazz at Lincoln Center's performance-based education programming, including the Essentially Ellington High School Jazz Band Program, Middle School Jazz Academy, Band Director Academy, Print Music and Master Classes. A Massachusetts native and the daughter of two teachers, Massey holds an Ed.M. in Arts Education from the Harvard Graduate School of Education and a B.S. in journalism from Boston University. Her past experience includes work as an education and program associate at the National Arts & Learning Collaborative, a research assistant at Harvard's Project Zero and four years as a staff writer at The Boston Globe. Massey is also a trained clarinetist and vocalist.

Bob Stoloff

Associate Professor Bob Stoloff is currently the Assistant Chair of the Voice Department at Berklee College of Music in Boston, Massachusetts. Bob is a distinguished guest conductor, clinician and choir/big band/combo adjudicator of jazz festivals throughout the United States, Canada and Europe. His unique and comprehensive workshops include traditional scat singing, spontaneous group improvisation, vocal/body percussion and rhythm section grooves. Bob is author of five publications entitled "Scat! Vocal Improvisation Techniques," "Blues Scatitudes," "Body Beats," "Vocal Improvisation in the Be

Bop Idiom," and "Vocal Drum Grooves."

When talking about his workshops Bob says the following: "Scat singing is an experience that frees the soul. It's more about a spiritual release than about the style. People need an outlet to let go, and in my classes I provide a safe environment to do that. Afterwards, students often come up and tell me, 'I can't believe how free I feel.' Come join Bob Stoloff as he teaches a variety of workshops at this year's Festival.

Dance Instructors

The Dance Clinics offer a variety of "hands-and-feet on" workshops designed just for Jazz Festival participants. This year's theme is: Movin' On. These jazz-related sessions move from Swing to Hip Hop and Steppin'; from Salsa to Broadway. Led by master teachers including Salsa dancer Juliet McMains and tap dancer Andrew Nemr, your chance to dance will have you movin' out. The Jazz Fest Dance Clinics and Workshops are provided by the University of Idaho Dance program; the appearance of Juliet McMains and Saško Despotovski is funded through the University of Idaho Center for Dance by the Florence Wasmer Fund for Arts and Culture of the Inland Northwest Community Foundation.

Juliet McMains

Juliet McMains, Ph.D., is a dance scholar and artist who specializes in partner dance forms. She brings a broad array of perspectives to her teaching, drawn from over twenty years teaching dance, including salsa, ballroom, swing, ballet, jazz, and modern. Her passion is the playful interaction between dancers as they react to each other and musicians on the social dance floor. Juliet has been teaching salsa since 1997 and has introduced thousands of students to the excitement and joy of improvisational social dancing. Her first book Glamour Addiction: Inside the American Ballroom Dance Industry received the Congress on Research in Dance 2008 Outstanding Publication Award. She has also written on swing (I See America Dancing), salsa (Dance Research Journal, Ballroom, Boogie, Shimmy Sham, Shake: A Social and Popular Dance Reader) and rumba (Caribbean Dance into the Twenty-first Century). Juliet is currently writing a book that about mambo/salsa history based on nearly one hundred interviews she has conducted with mambo/salsa dancers. As a ballroom dance professional, Juliet has taught at studios in Boston, California, Florida, and Washington, and traveled internationally to perform and compete, won championships in the U.S. and Canada, and twice been named a U.S. National Rising Star finalist. She has taught dance at the University of Central Florida, Florida State University and California Polytechnic Institute. Juliet has a Ph.D. in Dance History and Theory from the University of California at Riverside and a B.A. in Women's Studies from Harvard University. She is currently an Assistant Professor in the Dance Program at the University of Washington in Seattle.

Saško Despotovski

Saško [Sashko] Despotovski ASC, BSc [h] CFA (in progress) grew up in now non-existent country on the Mediterranean coast and moved to North America at the age of fourteen. An athletic child and multi-disciplinary athlete, he was a late boomer to dance. He began training in rueda and LA salsa styles, until shifting focus entirely to teachings of modern and classic mambo after performing in New York during the 2003 season. After several years of translational pains, he expanded his repertoire through extensive afro-latin funk and jazz training, influenced by the schools of Eddie Torres and Frankie Martinez. Early in his dance career, he cofounded Provocante™ & UBC Salsa Club™ dance programs at the University of British Columbia, in Vancouver, CANADA. The initial group was formed as the original and first Salsa Club of the Alma Matter Society (AMS) at UBC where, now in its 7th season, offers classes focused on musicality through teachings of modern mambo, in addition to offering a variety of workshops from international instructors. The troupe today features a total of 21 dancers, with 3 principals, a Sr. and Jr. programs, and has graduated over 1200 students.

Sashko is best known for his provocative footwork, musicality and creative choreographies [40 and counting]. He performed internationally, in Europe, throughout North America and select Central American locales, has over a decade of various instructional experience and is well recognized for his charismatic persona, effective teaching methodology, and smooth dance style. When he is not hunting for the perfect pair of shoes in Italy or dancing, he is a triple type A personality Investment Banker with a track career in biotechnology [12+ peer reviewed publications]. He is a recognized alumnus of UFV and UBC and is a proud owner of a sickening number of airmiles.

JAZZ PORT TOWNSEND

John Clayton, Artistic Director

July 19-26, 2009

Live, learn, and jam with jazz's most electrifying artists.

Jazz Port Townsend, one of the nation's finest jazz experiences, is the perfect place to meet other excellent musicians, soak up a week of jazz in a seaside paradise, and leave as a better musician.

As part of our jazz community, you'll receive focused instruction as you rehearse daily in combos or vocal classes. Jazz Theory sessions provide valuable information for increasing your skills as an improviser. Master classes are conducted each day by artist faculty who cover topics specific to their chosen instruments. "Faculty Presents" concerts each afternoon give you a chance to hear performances in an intimate setting. The workshop culminates in a series of concerts in which all participants have an opportunity to perform. And of course, included is free admission to the renowned public performances of the Jazz Port Townsend public festival.

Our 2008 faculty includes a diverse and innovative group of artists:

John Clayton, George Cables, Benny Green, Wycliffe Gordon, Gretchen Parlato, Obed Calvaire, Taylor Eigsti, Alvester Garnett, Dayna Stephens, Terell Stafford, Chuck Deardorf Adam Schroeder, Harish Rhagavan, Graham Dechter, Derek Hodge, Justin Brown, Randy Porter, Walter Smith III, Gilbert Castellanos, Joe Sanders, Gerald Clayton Sherisse Rogers, Sachal Vasandani, Ambrose Akinmusire, Clarence Acox and more!

Visit WWW.CENTRUM.ORG/JAZZ for complete information on this and other Centrum jazz offerings.

"Diana Krall (a Jazz Port Townsend alum) often reminds Jeff Hamilton and myself that when she was a teenager, we used to drum into her the importance of keeping in sight that we 'get' to do this. There are so many people who don't have the opportunity to express themselves with this music. As jazz lovers, we all love to listen to it. As jazz artists, we have another kind of experience, another component that keeps us marching. We can laugh or express ourselves however we want, but this music is as much serious as it is fun.

Sarah Bloomsburg started dancing five years ago at the Arthur Murray Studio in Albuquerque, New Mexico. During her two years at the studio, she performed in four Arthur Murray Showcases dancing in 18 different solos and winning first place in the 2005 Open Freestyle Salsa. She started teaching for the University of Idaho in January, 2006. Since coming to Moscow, she has performed in the Latin Dance Club's Extravaganza, Dance Off-Hand, Dance Theatre 2006 and Dancers, Drummers and Dreamers. She also competed in the 2008 National Amateur DanceSport Competition in Provo, Utah.

Natalie DuKane

Natalie DuKane was born in Seattle, Washington and started dancing at age three. Upon graduating from Redmond High School, she began her higher education at the University of Idaho in the fall of 2004 with a double major in Dance and Business Economics. She has been teaching hip hop at the University of Idaho for the past four years and will be graduating in the spring to pursue her career in dance performance while working for a music software company as a database assistant manager.

Greg Halloran

Greg Halloran is Associate Professor and Coordinator of Dance at the University of Idaho. He has taught at Northern Illinois University, Kenyon College and choreographed and directed the touring musical theatre company Louisville's Next Generation. Greg is a leader in directing dances from Labanotation, the written language of movement and most recently staged Sophie Maslow's Folksay for CityDance Ensemble in Washington D.C. He received funding from both the National Endowment for the Arts and the Idaho Commission for the Arts and was named IAHPERD and Northwest AHPERD Dance Educator of the Year.

The Swing Devils

The Swing Devils are a local group of swing dance enthusiasts in Moscow who meet once a week to celebrate the invention of swing music by moving in unison with it. For more than 11 years, the Swing Devils have been promoting jazz dance and jazz music by hosting dances, teaching lessons, and supporting jazz musicians. This merry band of social dancers welcomes those with two left feet as they have extra right ones to spare.

Mary Heller

Mary Heller is a full-time faculty instructor in dance at the University of Idaho. She is from Chicago and holds a Master of Fine Arts Degree in Dance from Florida State University where she was on full graduate assistantship. This included being the assistant and student rehearsal director to Suzanne Farrell in the re-staging of George Balanchine's Western Symphony. A veteran dance educator, Mary was the original director, co-director and instructor of the Buffalo Grove Dance Center in Buffalo Grove, IL for 8 years, and has taught in studios, academies, K-12 public and private schools and higher education. From 2005-2006 Mary was the Artistic Director of the Marion County Center for the Arts Dance Company, and Dance Director of West Port High School's Marion County Center for the Arts Dance Program in Ocala, Florida. Mary has choreographed professional concert and commercial dance for 20 years. Mary's repertory of work has been professionally shown at FSU, numerous theatres, public and private schools and institutions in Chicago, Colorado, Ohio, Florida and Georgia.

Diane Walker

Diane Walker, cofounder, with Dan Bukvich, of Dancers Drummers Dreamers – the University of Idaho's unique music/dance collaboration – has had a lifelong interest in the relationship between movement and music. With a Bachelor of Fine Arts degree from the Boston Conservatory and a Masters degree from Colorado State University she worked her way west to Idaho. As teacher, choreographer and the former head of the University of Idaho dance program she works closely with musicians in a variety of venues. Her goal is to blend music and movement into a seamless whole.

Melissa Woelfel

Melissa Woelfel currently teaches tap and hip hop at the University of Idaho. Most recently, she was the choreographer for the University of Idaho spring musical Urinetown and for the Lionel Hampton School of Music production Broadway Babies. Prior to moving to Moscow, Melissa performed at the Boulder Tap Jam with her tap instructor Gene Gebauer, a former Broadway dancer and participated in tap jams, master classes and workshops given by great artists such as Jason Samuels Smith, Brenda Bufalino, Gregg Russell, Gail Benedict, Robert Reed, Brill Barrett, Chloe Arnold and Acia Gray.

Welcome to the 2009 Clinics and Workshops

Designed to entertain, inspire, educate and inform, the 2009 clinics and workshops feature artists and educators from around the globe. Clinics and Workshops are themed to help you focus on your own educational goals while attending the Festival. Many workshops provide hand-outs and the opportunity to play and sing along with artists and educators. Please note schedules are subject to change. Please check the Directors Check-in in the Student Union Building to find the most updated daily schedule. Any changes will be indicated on the door of the clinic/workshop venues, daily.

Workshop Themes

Artist Features (AF): Come and see your favorite artists – up close and personal. Listen while they play, sing and share stories. Most allow audience questions and sometimes students are invited on stage to play with the world's finest.

Technology (T): Learn how to use Smart Music, i-Tunes, Sibelius and learn about on-line resources in these informative workshops. Hand outs and guidelines are provided.

History and World Jazz (HW): Learn about music of the past and the future of jazz with master performers. These workshops feature a variety of artists and subjects. Each day a concert preview will feature some of the evenings' artists discussing the music you'll hear on stage.

Director Helps (DH): These workshops are designed to help directors as they teach jazz. Topics include: Rhythm Section Tips and Tricks, Rehearsal Techniques, Smart Music, the Role of the Guitar in Jazz Bands and Ensembles, 50 Ways to Improve Your Jazz Band in 50 Minutes and more!

Master Class (MC): These are workshops designed for specific instruments. Learn about fingering, tone, and technique from Master teachers.

Hands On! (HO) This means INTERACTIVE! Bring your horns, bring your charts, be ready to play and sing along. Be prepared to learn about improvisation, scat singing and improving your techniques!

Dance Workshops (DW): Learn to move to the groove with dances such as Salsa, Mambo, Cha Cha, Swing Dance, Broadway and Jazz, Rhythm Tap, and more. Special classes with University faculty, regional instructors and specialty dance instructors from New York and Seattle.

HO Learning from the Jazz Masters: Developing a Jazz Vocabulary – Corey Christiansen

Thurs 3:00pm / SUB Borah Theatre

Sat 1:30pm / Law School Courtroom

Learning patterns can speed up your understanding of the theory of music. Simple short phrases in all keys will help you develop a clear vocabulary rooted in the tradition of jazz masters and will allow you to "speak" with an original voice.

HO Come Watch! – Paul Keller with the Lincoln Middle School 7th and 8th Grade Jazz Band II, Director: Joe Covill; Pullman WA

Fri 9:30am / SUB Ballroom

Watch and learn with Paul Keller as he works with one of the Lincoln Middle School Jazz Band II on stage. They will prepare music and Paul will then help them to bring the performance to a new high!

HO Vocal Improvisation – Bob Stoloff

Fri 9:30am / NuArt Theatre

Join Bob as he instructs on rhythmic, melodic and harmonic considerations for traditional scat singing, including syllables, accents, scales and phrasing. Be prepared to sing!

HO Creating Exciting Combo Charts With or Without a Vocalist – Josh Nelson

Sat 10:30am / First Methodist Church

Learn how to create charts and bring some of your own charts to share with Festival favorite Josh Nelson.

HO Making a Solo Out of One Note – Bob Athayde with guests Ira Nepus and Clay Jenkins

Sat 12:00pm / First Methodist Church

Learn how many of the great jazz improvisers used a minimum of material and a lot of space to produce some of the greatest solos.

HO Saxophone Fundamentals – Vanessa Sielert

Sat 12:00pm / LDS Institute

Saxophonists, bring your instruments and participate! Learn how fundamental practice can take your saxophone playing to the next level, no matter what your level may be. We will focus on such concepts as jazz tone production, jazz articulation, time and melodic practice - and we'll look at creative ways to change up your practice time to keep it interesting!

HO Transcribing Music – Vern Sielert

Sat 3:00pm / Law School Courtroom

Transcribing jazz solos is one of the best ways to get inside the language of jazz. Learn tips for transcription, and how to incorporate what you transcribe into your own solos.

DANCE WORKSHOPS

DW Salsa Fun! Get Ready for the Dance Floor – Sarah Bloomberg

Wed 2:30pm / Physical Education Building (Rm 111)

Sat 1:00pm / Physical Education Building (Studio 212)

Learn the basics of social salsa dancing including step patterns, leading and following and, of course, Latin hip action. Come solo or with a partner. Just be ready to shake your hips and dance!

DW Steppin! – Mary Heller

Thurs 9:30am and Fri 9:30am / Physical Education Building (Studio 212)

Learn a current street dancing style. We'll start with a basic, syncopated step dance with all the sound coming from our feet plus body sounds of hitting our legs, hands and using our voices. With some history background of this African-American dance form, as well as steppin' out a simple challenge at the end, fun will be had by all.

DW Swing Dance – Swing Devils

Thurs 10:00 am, 2:00pm; and Fri 10:00 am, 2:00pm / Physical Education Building (Studio 110)

Sat 11:00am / Physical Education Building (Studio 212)

Swing is still here! Have the time of your life learning to swing dance. Learn how people danced and see why the 30s swing bands survived as you move to the rhythms. If people didn't flock to the large dance halls during the Depression, the Big Bands of the late 20s and 30s would never have survived with their Swing Jazz. This is your chance to groove to the beat and develop some flair in your steps.

DW Move It! Body Percussion Plus – Diane Walker

Thurs 10:30am and Fri 10:30am / Physical Education Building (Studio 212)

Be your own instrument as you improv with body percussion and body "scales", uneven rhythms and syncopation. Then we'll "stage it" to make the blues form both visible and audible. No experience needed. Come ready to move and have fun with it.

DW Hip Hop – Natalie DuKane

Thurs 11:00am and Fri 11:00am / Physical Education Building (Studio 110)

Sat 10:00am / Physical Education Building (Studio 212)

Get the rhythm in your body. Hip Hop dance is cool! Don't miss this workshop. We'll get the music going, learn some steps and start dancing!

DW Broadway! All that Jazz – Greg Halloran

Thurs 11:30am and Fri 11:30am / Physical Education Building (Studio 212)

Dancing from the Big Shows. Learn basic movements and dances from such Broadway favorites as A Chorus Line and Cats.

DW Latin Dance: Salsa/Mambo – Juliet McMains &

Saško Despotovski

Thurs 12:00pm and Fri 12:00pm / Physical Education Building (Studio 110)

Sat 12:00pm / Physical Education Building (Studio 212)

Saucy Steps to Afro-Cuban Jazz...get your feet swiveling, your hips swinging in this movement workshop. Learn solo "shines" and partnered turns to infectious music. No partner or experience required.

DW Roots of Swing – Swing Devils

Thurs 12:30pm and Fri 12:30pm / Physical Education Building (Studio 212)

Have fun with historical swing steps. Discover dances like the Charleston, the Black Bottom, the Shim Shammy or Truckin' and put it all to the music. No partners necessary.

DW Latin Dance: Cha Cha Cha – Juliet McMains & Saško Despotovski

Thurs 1:00pm and Fri 1:00pm / Physical Education Building (Studio 110)

Connect with the Cuban Dance Craze of The 50s. Learn how to get your groove on to the musical style that was invented to meet the needs of dancers – a medium-tempo rhythm full of room for improvisation and play. No partner or experience required.

DW Rhythm Tap – Melissa Woelfel

Thurs 1:30pm and Fri 1:30pm / Physical Education Building (Studio 212)

Find the rhythm in your feet & become a "hooper." Find out how to make a hard-hitting tap sound. This is a great way to be a percussive musician. You can even dance a cappella. Any shoes will do.

DW Latin Dance and Music – Juliet McMains, Saško Despotovski & Musicians from Jose Rizo's Jazz on the Latin Side All-Stars

Thurs 3:30pm / Physical Education Building (Studio 110)

A collective improvisation between musicians and dancers, watch, listen and participate in a demonstration and open discussion about how music rhythms and dance steps interact and inform each other in Latin Jazz. Learn about the parameters of improvisation and enjoy a jam session of music and dance.

DW Tap It On Out! – Andrew J. Nemr

Fri 2:30pm / Physical Education Building (Studio 212)

Andrew Nemr's one-of-a-kind style incorporates Jazz and Tap in a never-before-seen fusion. Join him and learn some great high-energy rhythmic combinations. It's another approach to percussion. Any shoes will do.

DW Latin Dance Pedagogy: Salsa, Cha Cha, Mambo – Juliet McMains & Saško Despotovski

Sat 3:00pm / Physical Education Building (Studio 212)

Professional development for area dance instructors of all levels. Techniques for teaching sound technique while encouraging personal improvisation will be introduced. The workshop will also include a forum for questions such that the content will be tailored to the interests of those enrolled.

We've got every beat covered.

Welcome to the Palouse

Tucked away in southeastern Washington and north central Idaho lies a majestic region of rolling fields and forestland that continues for as far as the eye can see. To the visitor, this is an undiscovered paradise, offering an abundance of outdoor recreational opportunities, theatre and arts, and sportsmanship at its finest.

The Palouse region is defined as the fertile hills and prairies north of the Snake and Clearwater rivers, centered on the Palouse River. The beautiful rolling hills are composed of soft silt that was blown in from glacial outwash during the last ice age. This deep loess soil has created some of the most fertile ground in the United States and is perfect for dryland production of wheat, barley, dry peas, lentils and canola.

Many communities lie within the Palouse region. Pullman, Washington and Moscow, Idaho are the main hub cities, with many smaller surrounding towns nestled among wheat, lentil and dry pea fields, and natural forestlands. The University of Idaho was designed by the same landscape architect that also designed the Capital grounds in Washington D.C. The picturesque setting and refreshing climate provide the perfect atmosphere for a region filled with exuberant life.

The Palouse communities annually open their doors and embrace the sounds and sights of the Lionel Hampton International Jazz Festival. Help us to thank the region for their hospitality and support!

THANK YOU!

Participating Automobile Dealerships

Getting all of our artists – along with their instruments and equipment – around the University of Idaho campus, city of Moscow and to and from the airports requires a lot of support. Thank you to all the volunteer drivers who gave their time to this year's Festival. Our drivers wouldn't be able to be as efficient as they are if it weren't for the generous support of automobile dealerships who donated cars of all shapes and sizes. Without the valuable contributions made by these dealerships the Festival could not be what is today. Thank you!

The first University of Idaho Jazz Festival

took place in 1967, with a dozen student groups and one guest artist, Buddy Brisboe. The Festival continued to grow from there – erupting onto the national stage in 1981 when students and spectators packed into Memorial Gym to hear Ella Fitzgerald. Just a year later, the Festival's most important relationship took shape when Lionel Hampton joined in the excitement in Moscow. Taken aback by the enthusiasm of the students Lionel pledged his support to the Festival that very year.

As we move into the fifth decade of education and performance, the Festival is teaming up with the Lionel Hampton School of Music to enhance the educational materials and reach of the year-round Jazz in the Schools outreach program. The Jazz in the Schools program takes visiting artists into schools throughout Washington and Idaho to give students the chance to experience the unique world of jazz up close.

A look back at the 2008 Festival

- ★ One hundred thirteen workshops and clinics staged on the University of Idaho campus and in the Moscow community.
- ★ More than 10,000 students from almost 350 schools participated in four days of student performances.
- ★ Forty-eight adjudicators brought their skills and experience to the 2008 Festival and its 807 performance sessions.
- ★ Nearly 14,000 Festival guests attended the Young Artists Concerts.
- ★ An exclusive stage at Hamp's Club was set for outstanding student soloists following the evening concerts.
- ★ Web-based activities were made available for students and directors.
- ★ More than 500 volunteers managed 58 performance and clinic venues.
- ★ One hundred three world-class artists from 11 countries performed during the four-day Festival.
- ★ The Jazz in Schools program was expanded to a year-round program and has reached more than 9,000 students in the 2007-2008 school year.

Dear Jazz Connoisseur,

The Lionel Hampton International Jazz Festival welcomes you to a handful of the most exciting nights of the year! We are truly in the presence of great talent, with our Grammy Award winning Artistic Director, John Clayton, and the many artists and students performing this week. The Festival has been a magnet of talent for decades, earning it the National Medal of the Arts in 2007, and this year is no different with our exciting concert line-up.

We need your help in maintaining this legacy and sustaining the Festival. Through your support, we have grown the event to reach more than 10,000 students annually, and we hope to continue to enhance the quality of the Festival to encourage talent in new generations for years to come.

Now is a perfect opportunity to consider giving to the Festival. No donation is too small, and every penny that you give will go toward educating our youth about jazz, promoting the Festival, and preserving Lionel Hampton's legacy here on the Palouse. There are many ways to give, so please see the following pages to learn what you could do to keep the music alive.

Thank you for your support!
