WELCOME TO THE FESTIVAL AT THE UNIVERSITY OF IDAHO!

Dear Fellow Jazz Lovers,

It is with great pleasure that Ruthie and I welcome you to the Lionel Hampton Jazz Festival. For more than four decades, this award-winning festival has been an Idaho jewel and has drawn accolades from around the world.

We also are proud to be a leader in international jazz education through this dynamic festival. Thousands of students flock to the University of Idaho each year for the opportunity to learn from jazz masters through the festival's clinics, workshops and performances – from the vocal to the instrumental arts. Students of all ages, abilities and aspirations have an opportunity to interact with the best artists in the jazz world and are able to hone their own artistry. And, of course, many musicians help us take jazz into classrooms throughout the Pacific Northwest through the Jazz in the Schools program. The educational nature of the jazz festival is distinctive and helped it earn the prestigious National Medal of Arts.

Each festival season is carefully crafted by John Clayton, festival artistic director, to perpetuate and celebrate this truly American art form. The focus this year is on "Explorations of the Heart." To that end, we are thrilled to feature The Manhattan Transfer this year, along with other seasoned performers such as Jimmy Heath, Ed Shaughnessy, Jeff Hamilton, Renee Rosnes, Bill Charlap and Terell Stafford. We are equally proud to host some rising stars of jazz, including pianist Josh Nelson, and vocalists Nikki Yanofsky and Charenee Wade.

You will find much to explore musically during the four days of this year's 44th annual festival. And much more awaits you in the surrounding Palouse region. On behalf of the entire University of Idaho community and the festival, we again extend a warm welcome to you.

Sincerely,

M. Duane Nellis
President, University of Idaho

A WELCOME FROM JOHN CLAYTON

Dear Friends,

It is another year and another chance to be together to share in all of the wonderfulness that happens at each Lionel Hampton Jazz Festival. Thank you for earmarking this time to join in on our events. We will do our very best to see to it that you go away with a wealth of good memories about your time here!

We spend an entire year organizing what we believe is the largest educational jazz festival of its kind, and this year finds us embracing the theme, Explorations of the Heart. This title highlights what you have expressed that you have enjoyed about our festival countless times: "How cool to hear so many artists of all ages play from their hearts!" That is exactly what you will hear and you will hear it every day and evening of the festival.

Let's take a look at our Heart Explorations events.

Wednesday will include longer student performances and workshops (90 minutes per band!) during the day and in the evening, we will combine world-class professionals with our own University of Idaho faculty and student musicians. The Student Union Building (SUB) will feature Vern Sielert leading the University of Idaho Jazz Band I as the University of Idaho students host NEA Jazz Master Live soloist, Jimmy Heath on tenor sax. Presented by the NEA Jazz Masters Live program, Jimmy Heath will be available all week for workshops and performances like this one. Plus, Terell "Dynamite" Stafford will fill the room with his beautiful and exciting trumpet sound and the awesome young vocalist Charenee Wade will wow this year's festival attendees with her beautiful and commanding voice. We will finish our first exciting evening with even more music at "Hamp's Club," where there will be a student led jam session for the local jazz community at Gambino's restaurant.

Throughout the rest of the week, we will have more of the jaw-dropping performances from the thousands of students who come to play, learn and listen, including the daily Young Artist Concerts in the Kibbie Event Center at 4:30 on Thursday, Friday and Saturday. These will be immediately followed by student performances on the Hamp's Club stage, adjacent to the main stage.

Our Thursday evening performances will take place in three venues this year! You can choose to hear one, two or three bands in different settings at the newly remodeled Haddock

Performance Hall, the Administration Auditorium, or in the SUB Ballroom.

The musicians that night will include Atsuko Hashimoto, Jeff Hamilton, Renee Rosnes, Bill Charlap and more! Making her festival debut this year will be the jazz teen sensation, Nikki Yanofsky.

Friday's Kibbie Dome concert is guaranteed to please. We will be presenting two remarkable groups who enthrall audiences and sell out houses all over the world: The Manhattan Transfer, and the Victor Wooten band. You'll want to be with us as these two bands perform sets like you've never heard before.

Saturday night brings back the Lionel Hampton NY Big Band. They will provide brilliant support as we feature more of jazz's top soloists. Drummer Ed Shaughnessy and tenor saxophonist Pete Christlieb, both formerly with The Tonight Show with Johnny Carson, will be joined by vocalist Carmen Bradford from the Count Basie band, and this year's NEA jazz master and saxophonist, Jimmy Heath. But wait—there is more!

As a special treat and tribute to Lionel Hampton's world, guest conductor David Zerbe will present his Legacy Percussion Ensemble, all the way from Michigan to give us the unforgettable sounds that illustrate the mallet universe that Hamp lived in.

This year is another unforgettable opportunity to explore jazz together, to make new friends, to reunite with our musician family members, and to learn and laugh together. It's our year to celebrate Explorations of the Heart, and we're so glad you are here. Please enjoy.

Your fan,

John Clayton, Artistic Director

AT THE LIONEL HAMPTON JAZZ FESTIVAL WE HAVE A SINGLE FOCUS: YOU!

The festival has many components: evening concerts, workshops, Hamp's Club and— most importantly— student performance clinics. We strive to make an impact on you and your students by providing the opportunity for ensembles, combos and soloists to perform for and work with nationally renowned clinicians. Groups receive written and verbal comments as well as a recording of their performance.

Performance clinics provide a rewarding, life-changing and educational opportunity for students of all backgrounds, ages and abilities. Set in an enriching environment, student performances are designed to offer a powerful experience that builds confidence and an appreciation for jazz.

This year, we have created an intensive opportunity for a select group of the festival's instrumental and vocal ensembles, combos and soloists. The participating groups started in November by hosting festival Artistic Director John Clayton in their classroom prior to the festival. John's visits throughout a three-state region gave him the opportunity to share his knowledge and enthusiasm for jazz and work directly with the groups in preparation for this year's festival. Those groups then registered to participate in Wednesday's day long intensive experience.

During Wednesday's program, student groups will have the opportunity to be on-stage for a 90-minute session with two performance clinicians. These clinicians come from across the United States and bring their knowledge, experience, inspiration and technical skills to the students and directors. These sessions are something the director and the students design as they perform; learning from and rehearsing with the clinicians.

In addition, there are special workshops on-campus that will focus on skills and concepts specially selected for each group. These workshops feature leaders in the industry and cover topics such as "Jazz Culture and Swing Rhythm" for combos, and "Finding Your Own Voice" for vocal groups. Master musicians such as Charenee Wade and NEA Jazz Master Live artist Jimmy Heath also will be presenting special small group workshops specifically for these students.

Wednesday's students will attend a group lunch with John Clayton and their fellow band mates, allowing them the opportunity to meet and exchange ideas with each other. The workshops and clinics are structured so that each group can also watch their peers participate in their specific performance clinic. Artistic Director John Clayton will wrap up the day with an overview of the day's progress before sending the students off to enjoy and learn from the artists performing in Wednesday night's concert in the SUB Ballroom.

Workshop Themes

Artist Features: Come and see your favorite artists up close and personal. Listen while they play, sing and share stories. Most allow audience questions, and sometimes students are invited on-stage to play with the world's finest.

Director Helps: These workshops are designed to help directors teach jazz. Directing workshops include: rehearsal techniques, elementary jazz curriculum, teaching improvisation, directing a jazz ensemble, and more!

Master Classes: These are workshops designed for specific instruments. Learn about fingering, tone and technique from master teachers.

Explorations of the Heart: Visit the theme of the festival, and find greater understanding as you play, listen and participate in the world of jazz.

Hands On!: This means INTERACTIVE! Bring your instrument and charts, and be ready to play and sing along. Be prepared to learn about improvisation, scat singing and improving your techniques.

NEW IDEAS!: Come and see what is new with jazz. We want to introduce you to collaborations with other jazz art forms. You won't want to miss this!

Dance Workshops: Join the fun in a variety of "hands- and feet-on" workshops led by university faculty, regional instructors and specialty dance instructors. Grab your dance shoes! Our swing and Latin dance classes will get you ready for the dance floor at the Saturday night concert.

LEGACY PERCUSSION ORCHESTRA

Saturday 2/26 8:30 PM - ASUI Kibbie Dome

The Legacy Percussion Orchestra, directed by Dave Zerbe, formed in May 2010. The group members live in five states, but they all hail from Michigan where the group is in residence at Alma College. Many of the ensemble members have performed together over the last 20 years. The group performs on a myriad of percussion instruments including vibes, marimba, steel drums, ocean drums, crotales, chimes and bells as well as piano and bass. The group performs an eclectic mix of music by artists such as Al Dimeola, Pat Metheny, Buddy Rich and Dave Brubeck as well as some original pieces. They play in various forms from quintets to the full 20-member ensemble. The ensemble combines a wide, often unique, range of instruments with a diverse mix of songs to create a captivating performance.

Dave Zerbe, percussionist, is currently the director of bands and percussion studies at Alma College. He is a founding member of the internationally acclaimed DMP recording group the Robert Hohner Percussion Ensemble.

University of Idaho
A LEGACY OF LEADING

LIONEL HAMPTON LEGACY

As a National Medal of Arts recipient the Lionel Hampton Jazz Festival is following in some very big footsteps — including those of Lionel Hampton who was awarded the medal in 1996. The National Medal of Arts, the nation's most prestigious arts award, was presented to the festival in November 2007 by President George W. Bush. The University of Idaho is the first public university to receive the award since it was created by Congress in 1984.

The first University of Idaho Jazz Festival took place in 1967 with a dozen student groups and one guest artist: Buddy Brisboe. The festival continued to grow from there, erupting onto the national stage in 1981 when students and spectators packed in to hear Ella Fitzgerald.

In 1984, the festival's most important relationship took shape when Lionel Hampton joined the excitement in Moscow. Inspired by the enthusiasm of the students, Hamp pledged his support to the festival. This was the beginning of a longstanding partnership between Hampton, Emeritus Executive Director Lynn J. Skinner and the festival. In 1985, the festival took on Hampton's name and became the first and only jazz festival named for an African-American jazz musician.

Lionel Hampton was one of the most extraordinary musicians of the 20th century, and his artistic achievements symbolize the impact jazz music has had on our culture. Given his first drum lessons by a Dominican nun at the Holy Rosary Academy of Wisconsin, Lionel Hampton evolved into a well-respected and well-developed musician.

In 1930, Hampton was called to a recording session with Louie Armstrong, and during a break Hampton walked over to a vibraphone and started to play. He ended up playing the vibes on a song during the session, and the song became a hit. Hampton had introduced a new voice to jazz, and he soon became the "King of the Vibes."

Hampton went on to create more than 200 works including the jazz standards "Flying Home," "Evil Gal Blues" and "Midnight Sun." He also composed the major symphonic work, "King David Suite."

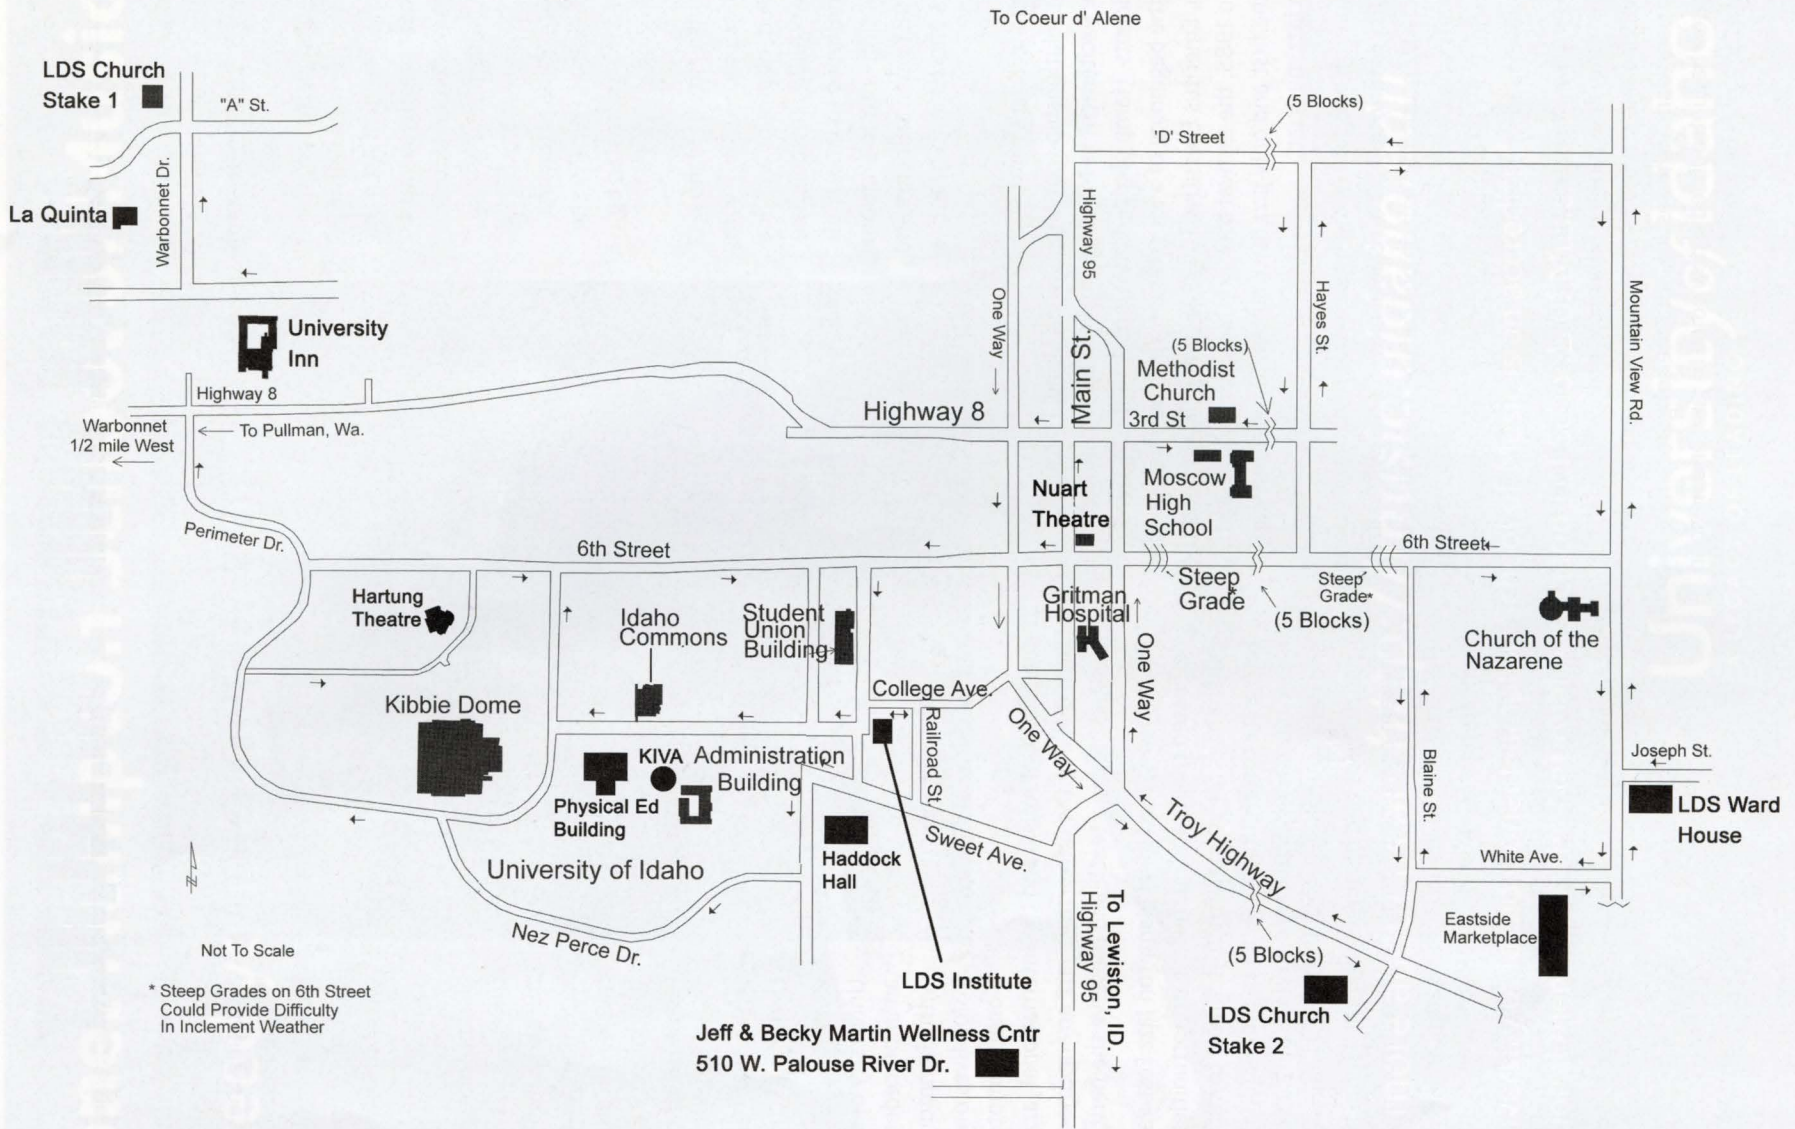

Hampton began working with the University of Idaho in the early 1980s to establish his dream for the future of music education. In 1985, the university named its jazz festival after him, and in 1987 the University's music school was named the Lionel Hampton School of Music.

Over the next 20 years, the University of Idaho developed an unprecedented relationship with Hampton to ensure his vision lives on through the Lionel Hampton Jazz Festival, the school of music and the International Jazz Collections. Each piece of the university's jazz arrangement has been designed to help teach and preserve the heritage of jazz.

For 44 years, the Lionel Hampton Jazz Festival has been dedicated to enhancing musical opportunities and educational experiences for young artists. It strives toward a bright future by connecting students to professional masters in the music industry. Adjudicated student performances, artist and educator workshops and clinics, online educational opportunities and resources, and the Jazz in the Schools program combine to bring the mission of the festival to life.

The University of Idaho Lionel Hampton Jazz Festival is dedicated to celebrating and maintaining jazz music for future generations. We inspire students, educators, artists and audiences of all ages to enhance their appreciation, understanding and performance of jazz through educational programming and inspirational performances.

Jimmy Heath

Jimmy Heath has long been recognized as a brilliant instrumentalist and a magnificent composer and arranger. Jimmy is the middle brother of the legendary Heath Brothers (Percy Heath/bass and Tootie Heath/drums), and is the father of Mtume. He has performed with nearly all the jazz greats of the last 50 years, from Howard McGhee, Dizzy Gillespie, and Miles Davis to Wynton Marsalis. In 1948 at the age of 21, he performed in the First International Jazz Festival in Paris with McGhee, sharing the stage with Coleman Hawkins, Slam Stewart, and Erroll Garner. One of Heath's earliest big bands (1947-1948) in Philadelphia included John Coltrane, Benny Golson, Specs Wright, Cal Massey, Johnny Coles, Ray Bryant, and Nelson Boyd. Charlie Parker and Max Roach sat in on one occasion.

During his career, Jimmy Heath has performed on more than 100 record albums including seven with The Heath Brothers and twelve as a leader. Jimmy has also written more than 125 compositions, many of which have become jazz standards and have been recorded by other artists including Art Farmer, Cannonball Adderley, Clark Terry, Chet Baker, Miles Davis, James Moody, Milt Jackson, Ahmad Jamal, Ray Charles, Dizzy Gillespie, J.J. Johnson and Dexter Gordon.

After having just concluded eleven years as Professor of Music at the Aaron Copland School of Music at Queens College, Heath maintains an extensive performance schedule and continues to conduct workshops and clinics throughout the United States, Europe, and Canada. He has also taught jazz studies at Jazzmobile, Housatonic College, City College of New York, and The New School for Social Research.

Terrell Stafford

Terrell Stafford has been hailed as "one of the great players of our time, a fabulous trumpet player" by piano legend McCoy Tyner. Known for being a gifted and versatile player with a voice all his own, Stafford combines lyricism and a deep love of melody with a spirited, adventurous edge. This uniquely expressive, well-defined musical talent allows Stafford the ability to dance in and around the rich trumpet tradition of his predecessors while making his own inroads.

Terrell picked up his first trumpet at the age of thirteen, and even though he was drawn to jazz, initially he studied classical music. While pursuing a music education degree at the University of Maryland, Terrell played with the school's jazz band. It was during this time he began to immerse himself in jazz, listening to everything that he could get his hands on. He cites as one of his most profound musical includes Clifford Brown's rendition of Cherokee.

Since the mid-1990's Stafford has performed with groups such as Benny Golson's Sextet, the Kenny Barron Sextet, the Frank Wess Quintet, the Jimmy Heath Big Band, and the Jon Faddis Orchestra. Currently, he is a member of the Grammy-nominated Vanguard Jazz Orchestra and has recorded with the Clayton Hamilton Jazz Orchestra and currently is touring with the Clayton Brothers Quintet, and is heard on over 80 albums as a sideman.

An educator as well as a performer, Stafford currently holds the positions of Professor of Music and Director of Jazz Studies at Temple University. He has also served as a member of the faculty for the Juilliard Institute for Jazz Studies in New York.

Charenee Wade

Inspired by Sarah Vaughn, Brooklyn native Charenee Wade began singing jazz at the age of 12. Through her 12 years of intense studies in jazz as well as classical music, she has grown to become a notable singer, composer, arranger and educator. She completed her Master's Degree at Manhattan School of Music. Charenee has been featured in many configurations from jazz trios to Big Band to the conservatory's 100-piece Jazz Philharmonia Orchestra.

She has received various scholarships, including the ASCAP Foundation Award and Scholarship and the International Women in Jazz's Youth in Jazz Award. She is currently studying with Peter Eldridge, Luciana Souza, and Cecil Bridgewater. She has performed at Festival du Riou, the Montreaux Jazz Festival, and the Ascona New Orleans Jazz Festival, and opened for Herbie Hancock at the Clifford Brown Jazz Festival in 2003. She recently returned from Russia on tour with the Oleg Butman Trio.

She was accepted into Betty Carter's Jazz Ahead Program and performed her original music at the Kennedy Center in Washington, DC; she returned to the Kennedy Center for the 2004 Thelonious Monk Competition, where she placed fourth in the finals. In 2006, she was 1st Runner-Up in the Jazzmobile Vocal Competition. In the 2007, and 2009 she was selected for the JAS Academy Summer Sessions, directed by Christian McBride. In 2010, she was 1st Runner-up at the Thelonious Monk Competition. Most recently, she served as a judge at the Jazzmobile Vocal Competition alongside Dr. Billy Taylor and Grady Tate.

Kevin Kanner

Despite his age, over the years Kevin has amassed a large summary of jazz credits including records with: Paul Anka, Bill Holman (including grammy nominated 2006 recording, and grammy nominated 2007 recording), Bud Shank, Gilbert Castellanos, Melissa Morgan, Annie Sellick, and Gail Wynters. Performance and tour credits include: John Pizzarelli, Maureen

McGovern, The Gilbert Castellanos Quintet, The Bill Holman Band, The Gerald Clayton Trio, The Clayton Brothers, The Clayton/Hamilton Jazz Orchestra, Lee Konitz, Bob Brookmeyer, Larry Goldings, Charles McPhearson, Benny Green, Bob Hurst, Eric Reed, Peter Washington, Terrell Stafford, Russell Malone, Stefon Harris, Johnny Mandel, Larry Koonse, Anthony Wilson Trio and Nonette.

Josh Nelson

Josh Nelson, born and raised in Southern California, maintains an active and creative schedule as a jazz pianist, composer, teacher, and recording artist. At 30 years old, he has already performed with some of the most respected names in jazz, including Natalie Cole, Anthony Wilson, Jeff Hamilton, Albert "Tootie" Heath, Seamus Blake, Matt Wilson, Sara Gazarek, and Peter Erskine, to name a few. Josh has recorded for countless albums, films, and TV shows, but also makes time for his own projects: Stories (1998), Emergence (2001), The Leadwell Project (2002), and Anticipation (2004) and the critically acclaimed Let it Go (2007), which garnered critical claim and boasts an all-star lineup.

His writing and performance credits include various prime-time and Cable TV shows and films, including "Jack and Bobby", "The Division", "Lucky", and "First Daughter" (directed by Forest Whittaker). He has also worked with film composer Michael Kamen, and actors Eric Idle, Clint Eastwood, and Jon Lovitz.

Josh has earned many awards, scholarships, and accolades over the years, including the Louis Armstrong Award and the John Philip Sousa Award. A semifinalist in the 2006 Thelonious Monk International Jazz Piano Competition, Josh is the musical director for vocal talent Sara Gazarek, for whom he penned the title track, "Yours" on her debut record. Sara's second studio album, Return to You (2006), also featured Josh's songwriting talent. Josh is currently on a world tour with Natalie Cole.

Look for his latest album, I Hear a Rhapsody at this year's festival.

Graham Dechter

Guitarist and Los Angeles native Graham Dechter is one of the most promising young jazz musicians on the scene today. Born into a family of musicians, Graham's musical journey began at the age of 5 when he started taking violin lessons and composing various orchestral pieces. His talents as both a violinist and a composer led him to the Idyllwild Arts Academy in Idyllwild, CA, one of three prestigious residential arts high schools in the country. It was there that Graham discovered his passion for guitar and began pursuing his life's calling: jazz.

After his initial forays studying violin and composition, Dechter discovered his passion for guitar and jazz at Idyllwild Arts Academy, the prestigious residential arts high school. Upon graduation, Graham entered the Jazz Studies program at the Eastman School of Music. In 2005, after completing a year at Eastman, Graham moved back to Los Angeles after being invited by Jeff Hamilton to join the Clayton-Hamilton Jazz Orchestra (CHJO). He was 19 at the time and became the youngest member of the acclaimed orchestra. He has toured extensively in the United States and Europe with CHJO and has performed with some of the most respected names in jazz including Bill Charlap, Benny Green, Wynton Marsalis among many others.

His debut album, "Right On Time", is a collection of both well known and seldom played jazz standards featuring songs written by Duke Ellington, Thad Jones and Antonio Carlos Jobim, among others. Joining Graham for his debut album are jazz luminaries Jeff Hamilton on drums, John Clayton on bass and Tamir Hendelman on piano.

Shawn Conley

Shawn was born in Honolulu, Hawaii. Shawn Conley studied with George Wellington, Sr. for the first five years of his life as a bass player. While still in high school, he won a position with the Honolulu Symphony, as well as both state and southwest divisions of the MTNA Solo String Competition.

He studied at Rice University with Paul Ellison, receiving bachelor and master degrees in performance, and with François Rabbath in Paris on a Wagoner Fellowship, earning performance and teaching diplomas. Shawn was on the faculty of the Hawaii Contrabass Festival in 2006 and 2008, and has attended the Henry Mancini Institute and Domaine Forget Academy. He previously won third prize in the 2007 ISB jazz competition before taking top honors this year. A new resident of Brooklyn, Shawn is making his way in the jazz and classical music scenes in New York. He is currently spending his second summer as a Fellow at the Tanglewood Music Center.

Atsuko Hashimoto

Born in Osaka, Japan, Atsuko started to play the organ at the age of four.

She began to explore the B3 starting with popular songs and cutting her teeth on such jazz classics as Duke Ellington's Take the A Train. She studied classical music for several years before choosing to dedicate herself to jazz music and the jazz organ.

In 1992 she fronted her own quartet at the Osaka Jazz Festival and Naniwa Arts Festival. In 1999 she debuted in the US, playing at clubs in New Orleans and Pearl's club in San Francisco, where she performed with guitarist Bruce Forman's group. In 2000 she shared the stage with Brother Jack Mc-Duff and his band on tour in Japan, and in September appeared with Dr. Lonnie Smith at Blue Note Osaka. That year she released her first CD, "Jazz Organ Tribute".

2001 saw Atsuko return to California, playing at the San Jose Jazz Festival and The Baked Potato in Los Angeles, Kuumbwa Jazz Center in Santa Cruz.

At the 40th [Osaka] Naniwa Arts Festival in 2003, Atsuko received several awards for her outstanding achievements in music including the Shoji Nakayama Jazz Award, the Progressive Musician's Prize, and Awards from the Osaka Governor and Mayor. In 2005, Atsuko released Songs We Love with performances by Yutaka Hashimoto, drummer Juasa Kano, and featuring singers Harvey Thompson, Toni Scruggs and Elijah Levi.

Look for the new CD of the Atsuko Hashimoto organ trio featuring Jeff Hamilton and Graham Dechter at this year's Festival.

Nikki Yanofsky

Nikki Yanofsky is a 16-year-old musical prodigy. Since her debut at the 2006 Montreal International Jazz Festival, where she won the hearts of the 100,000+ audience, Nikki has never looked back. She was the youngest singer ever on a Verve Records release when she recorded "Airmail Special" for the Ella Fitzgerald tribute album, We All Love Ella: Celebrating the First Lady of Song, alongside such musical luminaries as Etta James, Linda Ronstadt, Diana Krall and Natalie Cole.

She has also recorded the swing-era classic, "Stompin' at the Savoy" with Grammy Award-winning artists Herbie Hancock and Will.i.am for Kareem Abdul-Jabbar's audio book, On the Shoulders of Giants. Also, in the realm of popular music, Nikki was asked to record "Gotta Go My Own Way" for Disney's smash hit High School Musical 2. The song was included in French and English on the Canadian release of the soundtrack, and in the bonus features of the worldwide DVD release. In 2008, Nikki released Ella... of Thee I Swing – a live CD/DVD package recorded in Montreal. Garnering critical acclaim, it earned Nikki two Juno nominations including New Artist of the Year and Vocal Jazz Album of the Year.

Nikki's first studio album, Nikki, has been released by Decca records. Produced by 15-time Grammy Award-winning producer Phil Ramone, it features new arrangements of classic jazz songs as well as some of Nikki's first original music. It includes collaborations with fellow Canadian Ron Sexsmith and Grammy Award-winning songwriter Jesse Harris as well as a song written for Nikki by Feist.

Jeff Hamilton

When you want originality and versatility, you want Jeff Hamilton. It is the reason why he is in demand as one of today's top drummers, whether recording or performing with his trio, Oscar Peterson, Diana Krall, the Clayton Brothers or the Clayton/Hamilton Jazz Orchestra. As well as recording and performing throughout the world, Jeff teaches, arranges and composes.

Leonard Feather described Jeff's work with Oscar Peterson as "the drummer whose intelligent backing and spirited solo work met Peterson's high standards."

Born in Richmond, Indiana, Jeff grew up listening to his parent's big band records and at the age of eight, began playing drums to Oscar Peterson records. He attended Indiana University and later studied with John Von Ohlen.

In 1974, he joined the New Tommy Dorsey Orchestra; the Lionel Hampton Big Band in '75; and then, with bassist John Clayton, the Monty Alexander Trio. He attained a childhood goal when he joined Woody Herman and the Thundering Herd. He was then invited by Ray Brown to join the LA4, replacing Shelly Manne. From 1983 to 1987, Jeff performed with Ella Fitzgerald, the Count Basie Orchestra, Rosemary Clooney and Monty Alexander. Jeff began his association with the Ray Brown Trio at the Lionel Hampton Jazz Festival in 1988 and in 1995, began concentrating on his own trio. Jeff was named the #1 mainstream jazz drummer by readers of Modern Drummer magazine in 2004, 2006 and 2007.

Check out the latest Jeff Hamilton Trio CD, Symbiosis and the soon to be released recording with Atsuko Hashimoto and Graham Dechter.

Bill Charlap

One of the world's premier jazz pianists, Bill Charlap has performed with many leading artists of our time, ranging from Phil Woods and Tony Bennett to Gerry Mulligan and Wynton Marsalis. He is known for his interpretations of American popular songs and has recorded albums featuring the music of Hoagy Carmichael, Leonard Bernstein and George Gershwin. Time magazine wrote, "Bill Charlap approaches a song the way a lover approaches his beloved...no matter how imaginative or surprising his take on a song is, he invariably zeroes in on its essence."

In 1997, Charlap formed the Bill Charlap Trio with bassist Peter Washington and drummer Kenny Washington (no relation), now recognized as one of the leading groups in jazz. In 2000, he was signed to Blue Note Records and has since received two Grammy Award nominations for Somewhere: The Songs of Leonard Bernstein and most recently The Bill Charlap Trio: Live at the Village Vanguard. In 2009, Charlap was pianist and musical director for the Blue Note 7, an all-star jazz septet celebrating the legacy of Blue Note Records on its 70th anniversary. The septet performed a 50-city tour and released the CD, Mosaic: A Celebration of Blue Note Records.

In addition to performing and recording, Charlap is the artistic director of New York City's Jazz in July Festival at the 92nd Street Y, and he has produced concerts for Jazz at Lincoln Center, the JVC Jazz Festival and the Hollywood Bowl.

Charlap is married to renowned jazz pianist Renee Rosnes. The two artists often collaborate in a duo piano setting. In the Spring of 2010, Charlap and Rosnes released Double Portrait on the Blue Note label.

Renee Rosnes

Renee Rosnes is one of the premier jazz pianists and composers of her generation. Canadian born, she began classical studies at age three and began to play jazz during her high school years. Shortly after relocating to New York from Vancouver in 1986, she swiftly established a reputation as a major talent. She toured and recorded with many of the greatest masters, attracting international attention and building a resume that reads like a who's who of jazz, including stints with Joe Henderson, Wayne Shorter, the Carnegie

Hall Jazz Band with Jon Faddis, James Moody, and Bobby Hutcherson.

Rosnes has released a series of twelve diverse recordings, nine of which are on the legendary Blue Note label. Four have garnered Juno Awards, the Canadian equivalent of a Grammy. Her 2008 release Black Narcissus is an album celebrating the music of Joe Henderson with longtime collaborators bassist Peter Washington and drummer Lewis Nash. It was honored with a "Gold Disc Award" from Japan's Swing Journal magazine.

From its inception in 2004 through 2009, Renee Rosnes held the piano chair for the SFJAZZ Collective, an all-star ensemble that featured many contemporary luminaries including saxophonists Joshua Redman, Joe Lovano, alto saxophonist Miguel Zenon and trumpeter Nicholas Payton among others. During her tenure with the octet, Ms. Rosnes contributed six commissioned works and several original arrangements of music by Thelonious Monk, Wayne Shorter and McCoy Tyner.

In addition to performing with her trio and quartet, Rosnes often collaborates with her husband, pianist Bill Charlap, in a two piano setting. Look for their latest release Double Portrait on Blue Note Records.

Smooth with generous notes of...

There is something special about wine and jazz—we speak of the meeting of friends and family, of different generations coming together, and the harmony of tones both bright and soft, smooth and full. In the end, the result must be more than the sum of the parts that make it up, a cue for memories and feelings.

Our winery supports the Lionel Hampton Jazz Festival's commitment to a world class musical experience by releasing a limited Jazz Blend wine during the Festival. 10% of the proceeds of the sale of this wine are donated to the Festival to support its ongoing success.

We hope you will take time to visit us during Jazz Festival to try this exciting new release.

The tasting room is currently open Friday and Saturday from 11:00 to 6:00 PM and Sunday from 11:00 to 4:00 PM and is located on the Pullman-Moscow Highway. For more information, please visit us online at wawawacanyon.com or visit our Facebook page.

WAWAWAI CANYON WINERY

Manhattan Transfer

It's been nearly thirty-five years since Tim Hauser, a former Madison Avenue marketing executive, paid his bills by driving a New York City cab while aspiring to form a harmony vocal quartet sui generis that could be authentically embrace varied musical styles, and still create something wholly unique in the field of American popular song.

Originally formed in 1969, the quartet recorded several albums of jazz standards as well as much material closer to R&B/pop. Still, they were easily the most popular jazz vocal group of their era, and the most talented of any since the heyday of Lambert, Hendricks & Ross during the early '60s.

If one is judged by the company they keep, this decade found the group recording with some impressive company indeed – Tony Bennett, Bette Midler, Smokey Robinson, Laura Nyro, Phil Collins, B.B. King, Chaka Khan, James Taylor, and the original Jersey Boy, Frankie Valli.

The Chick Corea Songbook, which marks the quartet's first new record in five years, was inspired by the classic work of jazz great Chick Corea, and features fresh and exciting vocal interpretations of many of his popular compositions, including "Spain" and "500 Miles High." Corea, who plays on the CD, has also contributed an original composition entitled "Free Samba" especially for this album. This release also features special guest appearances by some of the finest musicians in the industry including Christian McBride, Airto, Alex Acuña, Fred Hersch, Edsel Gomez and Lou Marini, among others.

Victor Wooten

Bassist Victor Wooten began his musical career early. At age three, his brother Regi taught him to play bass, and at age five he made his stage debut with his four older brothers in the Wootens, playing songs by R&B mainstays like

James Brown, Sly & the Family Stone, War, and Curtis Mayfield. After playing regional tours and opening for acts like Mayfield and War, the Wootens recorded an album in 1985. By 1988, Victor Wooten moved to Nashville to join a rock band, and the following year met Béla Fleck, the banjo player for New Grass Revival. As the Flecktones, the group earned numerous accolades, including four Grammy nominations and a number one album on the jazz charts.

As the '90s progressed, Wooten added a solo recording career and numerous collaborations to his duties in the Flecktones. Along with solo albums like 1996's A Show of Hands and the following year's What Did He Say?, Wooten contributed to albums by friends like David Grier, Paul Brady, and Branford Marsalis' Buckshot LeFonque. His third solo album, Yin-Yang, which featured appearances by Fleck, Bootsy Collins, and the Wooten Brothers, was released in 1999. Live in America from 2001 documented four years on the road in a double-disc package. After tours with the Flecktones and a 2001 release/tour with the group Bass Extremes, Wooten returned to his solo career in 2005 with the album Soul Circus. Released in 2008, Palmystery included turns by violinist Eric Silver and harmonica player Howard Levy.

Victor Wooten's Bass/Nature Camp, now in its tenth year, has helped hundreds of musicians of all ages from all corners of the world. The camp's recent move to its own location Wooten Woods will provide even more opportunities for Wooten and his staff to share their lifelong experiences with others.

JOHN CLAYTON

Excitement, inspiration and education – those are the hallmarks of the Lionel Hampton Jazz Festival. Since he was named the Festival's artistic director in 2008, John Clayton has brought an extraordinary new level of excitement, inspiration and education to the Festival. The legacy of Lionel Hampton and Professor Lynn (Doc) Skinner is something John keeps close to his heart, and their love of jazz and the Festival continue to influence the Festival's plans, designs and actions.

John is a major force in the jazz world as a bassist, arranger, bandleader, educator, articulate spokesman for the music and as artistic director to festivals and summer campus.

As the Festival's artistic director, John shapes the vision and themes of the concerts. He reaches into the jazz world to bring the finest groups and musical collaborations to the main stage. His passion and experience shape the educational programming the Festival presents in collaboration with the Lionel Hampton School of Music. His influence is evident in everything, from the website, to the adjudicated student performances and workshops, Young Artist Concerts, Jazz in the Schools program and Hamp's Club. John spends time with University of Idaho students, faculty and staff to discuss jazz, work with student ensembles and combos, and inspire each individual to become a better player, listener, contributor and fan.

John is co-leader, along with Jeff Hilton and his brother, Jeff Clayton, of the acclaimed Clayton-Hilton Jazz Orchestra. He is a key member of the Clayton Brothers Quintet, is the education director for the Vail Jazz Foundation, director of the Port Townsend Jazz Festival, has been nominated for eight Grammys, and was awarded his first Grammy Award in 2008 for his arrangement of "I'm Going to Live Til I Die" featured on Queen Latifah's CD entitled Travlin Light. He recently produced recordings for Regina Carter, Sachal Vansandani and Sara Gazarek. He arranges for Michael Buble, Quincy Jones and Natalie Cole, and has recorded and played with Gladys Knight, John Pizzarelli, Diana Krall and many more. He is a past president of the International Society of Bassists and serves as president of the American Society of Music Arrangers and Composers.

Did you know that John Clayton was born in Venice, California in 1952 as the oldest of seven children? John remembers, "My mother played the earliest role in my introduction to music. She played piano and organ for our Baptist church and conducted the choirs."

He began playing the piano around the age of eight and says his mother inspired both he and his brother, Jeff, to play. When John was 13, he was allowed to choose an art/music elective at junior high school. He chose music and walked into the band room where Mr. Wallace, the band director, asked him what instrument he wanted to play. He first selected a neat, nice and big, complex instrument across the room – the tuba. When leaving the room, he saw four gorgeous brown things standing in a rack. He asked if he could play that instrument instead, so Mr. Wallace crossed off tuba and wrote down John's destiny...bass.

What about the bass continues to appeal to him?

"The supportive role of the bass fits my personality. Everything is built on what the bass contributes in 95 percent of the situations I can think of. Secondly, it's the vibrations of the bass that just feel so good."

In his high school years, John began working with local jazz pianist Eddie Mitchell, and soon took lessons from Ray Brown.

We encourage you to take the time to learn more about this remarkable man, our artistic director, John Clayton.

LIONEL HAMPTON NEW YORK BIG BAND

Saturday 2/26 8:30 PM - ASUI Kibbie Dome

Lionel Hampton was always a lightning rod for exceptional talent. He discovered, nurtured and trained some of the most talented jazz musicians over the last 60 years and employed many of them in the Lionel Hampton Big Band, including Quincy Jones, Wes Montgomery, Clark Terry, Dexter Gordon, Charlie Mingus, Cat Anderson, Ernie Royal, Joe Newman, Dinah Washington, Joe Williams, Fats Navarro and Illinois Jacquet – the soloist on Hamp's hit song from 1942, "Flying Home." His protégés included Betty Carter and Aretha Franklin.

To this day, a formidable array of seasoned professional musicians has performed in the Lionel Hampton New York Big Band, led by Cleave Guyton, Jr. on alto saxophone and flute. This year's line-up includes Lance Bryant on tenor saxophone and 'high-note' trumpeter Claudio "Tony" Barrero. The other members include Clarence Banks, Christian Fabian, Ray Gallon, Aaron Johnson, Anibal Martinez, Marshall McDonald, Jon Mark McGowan, Kuni Mikami, Andrae Muchinson, John Simon, and James Stewart.

Sadly, 2010 marks the passing of one of the Lionel Hampton New York Big Band's most likeable characters, drummer Wally "Gator" Watson. Filling in this year on drums is "Brush Master" Clayton Cameron. Cameron has played or toured with Sammy Davis Jr., Frank Sinatra, and Tony Bennet, George Shearing, Joe Pass, Joe Williams, Billy Joel, Sting, Mariah Carey, the Backstreet Boys, James Taylor, K. D Lang, Elvis Costello, and Ricky Martin...just to name a few.

Adding to this exciting line-up will be drummer Ed Shaugnessy and tenor saxophonist Pete Christlieb from Johnny Carson's Tonight Show, NEA Jazz Master Live artist Jimmy Heath, and vocalist Carmen Bradford.

Carmen Bradford

Born in Austin, Texas and raised in Altadena, California, Carmen Bradford grew up with music in her home and in her heart. It was only natural that Carmen would follow in the footsteps of her great family legacy being the daughter of legendary trumpeter/ composer Bobby Bradford and world renowned vocalist/ composer Melba Joyce. Her grandfather Melvin Moore sang with Lucky Millender's Big Band in the 1940s making Carmen the third generation of incredible musicians. She has carved out a place in music history for herself and is playing an integral role in this uniquely American art form called jazz.

Carmen's 2004 release, "Home With You," (Azica Records) is a warm and beautiful collection of piano/vocal duets with talented artist Shelly Berg. The album offers her fans a stripped down, intimate portrait of the artist they have grown to love. Carmen Bradford returned to her big band roots with her new release, "Sherrie Maricle & The DIVA Jazz Orchestra," featured on Live From Jazz At Lincoln Center's Dizzy's Club.

At present, Carmen Bradford is doing it all whether it's a duo concert with Shelly Berg, Big Band with the ladies of DIVA, or her new favorite performing with Symphony Orchestras around the world. Carmen Bradford's body of work reflects a vast depth of musical experience and technical brilliance. She is also recognized for the overwhelming passion she brings to the lyric. She has truly contributed to the perpetuation and preservation of this Great American art form called jazz, and continues to do so.

Ed Shaughnessy

Ed Shaughnessy was born 29 January 1929, in Jersey City, New Jersey. A self-taught drummer, Shaughnessy came to prominence, mainly in the New York area, in the late '40s working with George Shearing, Jack Teagarden, Georgie Auld and especially Charlie Ventura. In the '50s he became more widely known owing to engagements with bands led by Benny Goodman and Tommy Dorsey and he also worked with Johnny Richards. In the '60s he was with Count Basie and also worked extensively in New York studios, securing a 29-year engagement with The Tonight Show band.

Although best known as a big band drummer, Shaughnessy's considerable skills spilled over into small group work with Gene Ammons, Roy Eldridge, Billie Holiday, Charles Mingus, Jack Sheldon, Horace Silver and many others. For several years Shaughnessy was a member of the house band at

Pete Christlieb

From the 1970s through the 1990s, the sound of Pete's tenor could be heard on television and motion picture sound tracks and recordings. The son of a famous bassoon player, Don Christlieb, Pete began his musical journey on the violin at age 7. At 12, he was introduced to the sounds of jazz through the recordings of Gerry Mulligan and Chet Baker, Zoot Sims and Al Cohn, Eddie "Lockjaw" Davis and Johnny Griffin, John Coltrane and Cannonball Adderley. The violin was replaced by the tenor sax, but not without opposition. At 17, Pete enrolled in the Greyhound school of music through his association with the bands of Si Zentner, Woody Herman, Louis

Bellson and even a short but delightful stint with Count Basie. Pete is also well known for his 20 year stint with Johnny Carson's Tonight Show Band.

Today he can be heard with his wife, Linda Small, in their recently formed 10 piece group, The Tall and Small Band, and their quintet Tall & Small. Pete can also be heard with his own quartet, and with the Bill Holman Orchestra, both live and on CD. Electing to follow in his father's footsteps as a studio musician, Pete has played in the wind section on the Star Trek shows, and has had featured solos on CDs like Natalie Cole's "Unforgettable."

During this long career, Pete has maintained a healthy interest in drag racing and is the proud owner of two national championships for Blown Alcohol Dragsters. Some people will do anything to avoid practicing the clarinet!

Birdland and other New York clubs. In the early '70s he was doing similar work in Los Angeles and is credited with discovering Diana Schuur, whom he introduced at the 1976 Monterey Jazz Festival.

Shaughnessy's consummate skills have allowed him to become a sought-after teacher, an activity which he pursued through the '80s and '90s while simultaneously maintaining a busy recording and live performance schedule. His percussion credits have appeared on more than 500 recordings. Come meet this lively, funny and hard swinging drummer as he performs and offers a variety of workshops at this year's festival.

CONCERTS

The International Jazz Collections

The International Jazz Collections of the University of Idaho Library was established in 1992 with the donation of historical materials from jazz legend Lionel Hampton. The Collections are a growing repository dedicated to the preservation, promotion, and study of one of the world's great art forms.

Now the primary historical jazz archive in the Pacific Northwest, the Collections include the papers of jazz critic Leonard Feather, trombonist Al Grey, and trumpeter Conte Candoli. Other jazz performers represented include vocalists Ella Fitzgerald, Joe Williams, and Lee Morse; trumpeters Dizzy Gillespie and Doc Cheatham; pianists Roland Hanna and Jane Jarvis; sax players Gerry Mulligan and Buddy Tate; publisher and collector Neil McCaffrey; and band leader Stan Kenton. The Collections also serve as the official archive of the Lionel Hampton International Jazz Festival.

Access to the International Jazz Collections is through the Special Collections & Archives at the University of Idaho Library. More information is available at www.ijc.uidaho.edu/, or by calling (208) 885-0845. Hours are 9:00 am to 4:00 pm Monday through Friday during the academic year as well as over the summer.

OPPORTUNITIES ARE EVERYWHERE!

The Lionel Hampton Jazz Festival is proud to be a leading provider of jazz music education to thousands of students from across the nation and Canada. Every year the festival offers an array of workshops, student performance clinics and concerts to give students the skills to enhance their knowledge, understanding and appreciation of jazz. In February a multitude of acclaimed master musicians, educators and artist educators from around the world come together to give students and directors a priceless experience in music education.

Workshops

As students gather in Moscow during the week of the festival a host of workshops are offered around town. Each workshop presents one of the festival's special guest artists, educators or artist educators.

Workshop participants have the chance to hear main stage artists play, tell stories and demonstrate the techniques they use every day. At some workshops presenting artists invite audience members to perform on the main stage with them, so be prepared! Bring your music, instrument and voice to take advantage of these rare and exciting moments. Don't forget your questions. This is your chance to get up-close and personal with the finest musicians jazz has to offer.

Educators and artist educators also give workshops. The workshops provide instruction, handouts and resources for you to improve your playing, singing and understanding of jazz. You can learn about jazz history, world jazz influencers, being a better director and how to use music technology. Some of the workshops are held in a master class format allowing you to bring your instrument. In the hands-on workshops, you will be a full participant experiencing instructions and techniques first-hand.

You can engage in the physical side of the music by participating in one of many dance clinics that will prepare you to dance the night away at the Saturday concert. Come see what's new with the jazz drama workshops.

Student Performance Clinics

What would a jazz festival be without the performances? The festival offers students the opportunity to take to the stage and astound audiences with their talent and enthusiasm. During the day, students perform in ensembles, combos and as soloists. The festival staff has taken care to bring adjudicators with educational backgrounds to hear the future stars of jazz and provide them feedback and tips for improvement.

In the late afternoons, the Young Artist Concerts allow adjudicator-chosen ensembles to perform on the main stage to the accolades of peers and audience members. Thursday will feature the elementary, junior high, middle school and college performers. High school vocalists will show what they've got on Friday, and high school instrumentalists will perform on-stage Saturday.

Hamp's Club

Hamp's Club is the festival's newest tradition of honoring the excellence and excitement of our student performers. This new venue gives the day's solo performers the opportunity to feel like professionals as they take to their very own stage. Hamp's Club gives students the chance to understand what it's like to play the clubs. It's more than just playing music; it's motivation to pursue a career and stir a drive for a professional lifestyle.

Online Opportunities

The festival's website is designed to inform and be used as a resource tool. In addition to the concert and clinic/workshop schedules, you can learn about artists and educators as well as explore opportunities at the University of Idaho.

We have online activities to help you prepare for the festival. You can learn about Lionel Hampton, increase your jazz vocabulary or try out an activity worksheet. In the Artist Corner section you will learn about the festival's visiting artists. While you are at the festival don't forget to check out the What to do on Campus section.

- You also can share your experiences with classmates by using the Clinic Questionnaire.
- Become an adjudicator, and learn from your peers' performances with the You be the Judge worksheets.
- Make the most of your festival visit by using the Post Festival Rubric and Goal Setting activities when you get home.

See it all at www.uidaho.edu/jazzfest.

The World is Our Stage

JAZZ IN THE SCHOOLS...

Jazz in the Schools (JIS) is an energetic, fun and educational outreach program focused on taking jazz into classrooms throughout the Northwest. JIS provides K-12 directors and students with jazz education materials, activities and an interactive presentation with master musicians and educators.

In 2010, the JIS artist educators visited schools in Idaho and Washington where more than 7,000 students in Washington and Idaho participated in the 2010 Jazz in the Schools program.

We will send 10 teams of artists to regional schools Feb. 22-23, 2011 and visit nearly 6,500 students at 32 schools over two days of jazz education and fun.

BECAUSE SOUND MATTERS

2011 CLINICIANS AND ARTIST EDUCATORS

Bob Athayde

Bob Athayde began teaching privately in 1970 and in the public schools in 1976. Since 1986, he has taught full time at Stanley Intermediate School in Lafayette, California. Recognized for his outstanding teaching and musicianship, Mr. Athayde has garnered a number of awards including the California Music Educator's Don Schmeer Outstanding Band Teacher of California Award. Mr. Athayde has been featured as Guest Artist/Clinician/Adjudicator on trumpet and piano at the Cal-State Stanislaus Jazz Festival, and has served as an adjudicator in all instrumental music areas for the California

Music Educators Association and the University of California at Berkeley Jazz Festival. He also teaches private lesson (trumpet and piano), performs with his own band, Surefire, serves as Director of the Lafayette Summer Music Workshop, and teaches, conducts, and adjudicates for various music festivals around the Bay Area. He has worked with a wide array of musicians including Mic Gillette, Mary Fettig, Raoul Rekow, Paul Welcomer, Victor Goines, Steve Turre, to name but a few.

Justin DiCioccio

Justin DiCioccio is internationally recognized as one of the foremost jazz educators of our time. In January 2001, he was inducted into the Jazz Education Hall of Fame, which took place at the 28th Annual International Association of Jazz Educators (IAJE) conference in New York City. His keen insight into the teaching of conceptual and inventive ideas has earned him the title of "the musician's teacher."

Mr. DiCioccio was named assistant dean of Manhattan School of Music in June 2002, where he chairs the School's jazz department, a position that he has held since 1999. Under his leadership, a complete restructuring of the jazz curriculum has taken place, which includes the creation of a new Jazz DMA program. He also directs international summer jazz programs in partnership with Manhattan School of Music that take place in Amsterdam, The Netherlands and at the Brevard Music Festival in North Carolina.

Mr. DiCioccio serves as program director for Carnegie Hall Jazz Education and under his direction in January 2001, the Manhattan School of Music Jazz Orchestra performed at Carnegie Hall as part of its Family Concert Series. He also acts as a consultant to Wynton Marsalis and Jazz at Lincoln Center, with whom he also performs and gives clinics, as well as conductor of the Henry Mancini Summer Institute in Los Angeles, CA.

He is a three-time recipient of the Presidential Scholars teaching recognition award in the jazz field by the U.S. Department of Education.

Corey Christiansen

Widely heralded as a gifted young player with a passionate sound, jazz-guitarist Corey Christiansen took up the instrument at the age of five. Corey earned a Bachelor's Degree in Music from Utah State and a Master's Degree in Jazz Performance from the University of South Florida.

Corey maintains a very active international teaching and playing career. Corey first started coming to the Hampton Festival in 1995 and 1996 when he won back-to-back "Best Jazz Guitar Soloist" and "Best Big Band Guitarist" in 1995.

Corey served as senior editor for Mel Bay Publications from 2000 to 2007 and has written or co-written more than 70 books for the company. As well as maintaining an active international performance and touring schedule he currently teaching full time at Utah State University and is a visiting professor at Indiana University. He has also been an "artist in residence" at the Atlanta Institute of Music since 2007.

Corey Christiansen has a number of publications with Mel Bay and has conducted countless guitar clinics and concerts across the country and beyond. He has also performed and/or recorded with many outstanding jazz artists including Jimmy Bruno, John Pisano, James Moody, Dr. Lonnie Smith, Ralph Bowen, Jamey Aebersold, Pat Harbison, Steve Houghton, Joe Negri, Willie Akins, Chuck Redd, Sid Jacobs, Jack Wilkins, Christian McBride, George Duke, Terri Lyne Carrington, Danny Gottlieb, and many, many others.

J. B. Dyas

Dr. JB Dyas has been a leader in jazz education for the past three decades. Currently Vice President for Education and Curriculum Development at the Thelonious Monk Institute of Jazz, Dyas oversees the Institute's education and outreach programs including Jazz in America (www.jazzinamerica.org), one of the most significant and wide-reaching jazz education programs in the world.

Throughout his career, Dyas has performed across the country, designed and implemented new jazz curricula, directed large and small ensembles, and taught a wide variety of jazz courses to students at virtually every level of musical development - age seven to seventy, beginner to professional, learning-challenged to prodigy. He has conducted jazz and tune-learning clinics, adjudicated high school and collegiate jazz festivals, and presented seminars at high schools and universities in the United States, Canada, Mexico, and South America. He has also served on the Smithsonian Institution's Task Force for Jazz Education in America and has presented numerous jazz education events nationwide with such artists as Dave Brubeck and Herbie Hancock.

Dyas received his Master's degree in Jazz Pedagogy from the University of Miami and PhD in Music Education from Indiana University. A professional bassist, he continually performs in a wide variety of commercial, studio, and jazz settings and has appeared with such artists as Jamey Aebersold, David Baker, Jerry Bergonzi, Gary Campbell, Ellis Marsalis, Bill Prince, Red Rodney, Ira Sullivan, and Bobby Watson.

2011 CLINICIANS AND ARTIST EDUCATORS

Sherry Luchette

Ms. Luchette earned her BM in Music Education from Youngstown State Univ. and her MM in Double Bass from Cleveland State Univ. While maintaining her coursework, ensemble rehearsals, and concerts, Sherry performed for five years in the Downbeat award-winning Jazz Ensemble I. After obtaining her master's degree in classical bass performance in Cleveland in 1999, Sherry moved to Los Angeles to further her performance career. Her teaching experience includes early childhood education, elementary and middle school general music, as well as music theory and high school jazz combo coaching. For the last eight years, Sherry taught general music in grades K-3 and 6-8 at The Buckley School in Sherman Oaks, Ca. Currently she is teaching privately on both bass and piano, teaching music classes for 3 and 4 year olds at The Sherman Oaks Nursery School, and continues to freelance as a jazz bassist in the Los Angeles area. Sherry has combined her love and expertise as a jazz bassist with her love of introducing jazz music to young students. She continues to be in demand as a clinician for teachers interested in implementing jazz into their general music programs, as well as working with young children in various music camp and residency programs.am

Eli Yamin

Eli Yamin is Artistic Director of The Jazz Drama Program and Director of Jazz At Lincoln Center's Middle School Jazz Academy. He is a jazz pianist, composer, educator, broadcaster, bandleader and Steinway artist. Eli's joyful and swinging piano playing has led him to perform at top concert halls and festivals in the United States, India, China, Mali, Japan and throughout Europe. Through his touring experiences, Eli is continually blown away by the power of jazz to uplift, inspire and build community all over the world.

As a leading educator passionately committed to expanding the jazz audience, Eli is teaching jazz to business leaders, middle school students, music teachers and college professors. He is a consultant for The Rhythm Road: American Music Abroad, produced with the U.S. State Department, the National Endowment for the Arts, Fordham University Graduate School of Business and WBGO Radio.

Eli's six jazz musicals for children have been performed for thousands of people by hundreds of young folks. They include Message From Saturn, about the healing power of the blues and Nora's Ark, a modern retelling of the biblical tale. He has recorded numerous CD's including Suns of Cosmic Consciousness, with the group Solar, and most recently, You Can't Buy Swing, with the Eli Yamin Quartet. Eli has played, recorded and taught with Barry Harris, Wynton Marsalis, Illinois Jacquet, Walter Perkins, Perry Robinson, Mercedes Ellington, Kate McGarry, Claire Daly and Bob Stewart. Eli holds a Master's Degree in Music Education from Lehman College, City University of New York and has appeared on CBS Saturday Morning, PBS, Fox News and National Public Radio.

Dr. Willie Hill Jr.

Dr. Willie Hill is director of the fine arts center at the University of Massachusetts-Amherst and a professor in music education. He received his B.S. degree from Grambling State University and earned M.M. and Ph.D. degrees from the University of Colorado-Boulder. Dr. Hill was a professor in music education and the assistant dean at the University of Colorado-Boulder College of Music for 11 years. He was also the director of education for the Thelonious Monk Institute in Los Angeles. Prior to his tenure at the University of Colorado, Hill taught instrumental music for 16 years and served as instrumental music supervisor for four years in the Denver Public Schools (DPS).

He is president of The National Association for Music Education (MENC). He previously served as president of the International Association for Jazz Education (IAJE). He is also a member of the writing team for MENC's Vision 2020. In January 2001 Dr. Hill was the recipient of the prestigious Lawrence Berk Leadership Award presented by the International Association for Jazz Education. In 1998 he was inducted into the Colorado Music Educators Hall of Fame. He is a national artist/clinician for the Yamaha Musical Instrument Company and an author.

Hill is listed in the first edition of Who's Who among Black Americans and Who's Who among International Musicians.

Rosana Eckert

With her smooth sounds, dynamic spontaneity, exciting rhythms and selfless musical sincerity, Rosana Eckert embraces and captivates her listeners, taking them on a musical journey that is often described as joyous, breathtaking and inspiring. Formerly an accomplished French horn player, Rosana was schooled in music at the University of North Texas. She earned a degree in music theory with a minor in French horn performance. Somewhere along the way, she became immersed in the school's incredible jazz program and transitioned into a solo vocalist. Rosana currently teaches vocal jazz at the University of North Texas both privately and in the classroom. Her original songs and arrangements have been performed worldwide, and she is a published arranger with Hal Leonard Corporation.

She is in demand as a jazz choir conductor and festival clinician/adjudicator. She also performs regularly at clubs, concert venues and jazz festivals around the country. In addition to her teaching and live performing, Rosana works regularly in Dallas as a studio singer and producer. She has sung back-up vocals for various recording artists, and she can be heard on hundreds of jingles and radio IDs around the world.

Jon Harnum

Jon Harnum began playing trumpet 30 years ago in Sitka, Alaska. He says it was one of the best decisions he's ever made. Jon has a bachelor's degree from the University of Oregon, a master's degree from Northwestern University and is a Ph.D. candidate at Northwestern University. His interests include high school general music, community music, the effects of deliberate practice and older-adult music education. Jon primarily plays a Monette B flat trumpet and occasionally a Schlike Jeff Tyzik model as well as a LeBlanc flugelhorn.

Jon Pugh

Jon Pugh has been a Conn-Selmer Holton/Cornet recording artist and clinician since 1982. He was the trumpet and cornet featured soloist for the legendary saxophonist Don Lanphere for 30 years. Jon and Don recorded more than a dozen albums and CDs together and played worldwide receiving rave reviews. He has also recorded many CDs with his own group.

Alan Durst

Dr. Alan Durst is currently on the faculty of California State University, Fresno, where he teaches courses in saxophone and jazz studies while directing the jazz orchestra. He is a member of the Idyllwild Summer Arts faculty and has given clinics and judged festivals throughout the United States and all over the world. As a performer, he has appeared throughout North and Central America, Asia, and Europe. Durst can be heard on radio and television broadcasts such as NPR, WB, BRAVO, CBS and WAO. Alan Durst plays Selmer Saxophones.

Roger Treece

Composer, arranger, producer and singer Roger Treece has spent the past several years developing a new kind of choral music that combines traditional classical elements with jazz, gospel and the vocal innovations of his frequent collaborator Bobby McFerrin. Roger has more than 30 albums and hundreds of commissions to his credit as a producer and arranger. He has done commissions for Bobby McFerrin, the Manhattan Transfer, the New York Voices, Barry Manilow and others. He has also done music for film and television in the U.S. and Europe including the Discovery

Channel, Disney World, Microsoft, McDonalds, ABC Comedy Network and The United Way. His hard work has earned him five Grammy nominations, 14 Downbeat awards and industry accolades (including a first place at the Hollywood Film Festival) for his music education projects for children. His latest world tour celebrated his 2010 collaboration with Bobby McFerrin: VOCAbuLarieS. The album earned Roger three Grammy Award nominations. Roger tours worldwide as a vocal soloist and a member of Bobby McFerrin's 12-piece vocal ensemble, Voicestra. He also travels the U.S. and Europe as a clinician and guest teacher. His clinics cover a wide range of topics including: improvisation and creativity, harmony and arranging, rhythm and groove, and solo vocal technique. Roger's compositions and arrangements for choir, orchestra, jazz band, jazz choir and combos are published through UNC Jazz Press, Lindalamama Music and Edition Ferrimontana.

Ray Briggs

Ray Briggs is assistant director of jazz studies at California State University, Long Beach, where he coordinates the jazz combo program and teaches courses in jazz history and ethnomusicology. Dr. Briggs hold a Ph.D. and M.A. degree in Ethnomusicology from the University of California, Los Angeles, a M.M. in Music Performance (Woodwind Doubling) from the University of Redlands and a B.M. in Music Education from the University of Memphis. He has worked with John Clayton, Jeff Clayton, Rufus Reid and Benny Green. He is currently completing a manuscript on the history of the jazz tradition in Memphis, Tennessee (forthcoming via University of Michigan Press). With a passionate interest in the triumvirate disciplines of jazz studies—performance, research and pedagogy—Briggs seeks to utilize the synergy of a unique and combinative approach to the music.

Doc Skinner

Dr. Lynn "Doc" Skinner has been part of the jazz festival since he arrived in Moscow. Doc moved from his native Montpelier, Idaho, to Moscow to teach music at the University of Idaho. Doc offered to help music professor and festival director Rich Werner in 1972, and he's been involved ever since. When the jazz festival needed a new director in 1976 Doc was asked to take over. He served as executive director until 2007.

Doc worked with concert and jazz bands as a judge and clinician, so festival clinics and workshops were important to him. He worked hard to make the festival an educational and enjoyable experience. In 2010 Doc received one of the 2010 Governor's Awards in the Arts for Support of Arts Education from Gov. C.L. "Butch" Otter.

He is also a musician and composer. The Lionel Hampton New York Big Band has performed some of his compositions.

Doc brought some of the biggest jazz artists to Moscow including Ella Fitzgerald, Dizzy Gillespie and Sarah Vaughan. It was Doc who brought Lionel Hampton to the festival in 1984. Doc and Hamp's friendship was a major and inspiring part of the festival.

Doc is a well-loved figure in the festival, and his work will continue through the students, directors, artists and audiences he has inspired.

LIONEL HAMPTON SCHOOL OF MUSIC

The Lionel Hampton School of Music (LHSOM) at the University of Idaho offers undergraduate and graduate programs that include music performance, education, musical theatre, composition and pedagogy. LHSOM delivers a well-rounded educational experience that is comprehensive, nationally competitive and utilizes a faculty of visionary educators, scholars and musicians. The Jazz Festival features several LHSOM jazz faculty in concert and in clinics and they appear regularly throughout the Pacific Northwest. For more information on the degrees offered, performing ensembles and educational opportunities, please visit us on the Web at <http://music.uidaho.edu> or e-mail us at music@uidaho.edu.

Al Gemberling

Alan Gemberling is an associate professor of music at the Lionel Hampton School of Music and is in his 18th year as professor of trombone. His conducting responsibilities include the Wind Ensemble, Jazz Band IV and the Hampton Trombone Ensemble. Gemberling is active throughout the Northwest and Canada as an adjudicator, clinician, performer and guest conductor. He has performed with the Dizzy Gillespie Tribute Big Band, Cab Calloway Orchestra, Gene Krupa Orchestra, Lou Rawls, Jon Hendricks, Bob Newhart, The Supremes, The Temptations, Dee Daniels, Jim Nabors, Bill Watrous and Al Grey.

Vanessa Sielert

Vanessa Sielert is assistant professor of saxophone at the Lionel Hampton School of Music at the University of Idaho. She has served as professor of saxophone on the faculties of Pacific Lutheran University, Seattle Pacific University and the University of Southern Illinois. Vanessa has performed with a wide range of performing groups including the Emerald City Jazz Orchestra, the Tacoma Symphony Orchestra, the Federal Way Symphony, Orchestra Seattle and the Civic Orchestra of Chicago.

Dan Bukvich

Daniel Bukvich has been a member of the faculty of the Lionel Hampton School of Music since 1978. His compositions and arrangements are performed world wide by symphonic bands, wind ensembles, orchestral winds, choirs, jazz bands, symphony orchestras and marching bands. He is professor of music at the Hampton School of Music at the University of Idaho. He teaches percussion, freshman music theory and ear training, composition and jazz choirs.

Vern Sielert

Vern Sielert is assistant professor of trumpet and jazz studies at the University of Idaho. From 2001-06 he was director of jazz ensembles at the University of Washington and he also has served on the faculties of Baylor University, Illinois State University and Millikin University. Sielert has directed jazz ensembles at Normal Community West High School in Normal, Ill. He has performed with artists such as Rosemary Clooney, Freddie Hubbard, Bobby Shew, Don Lanphere, Gerald Wilson and Ralph Carmichael, and in such diverse settings as the Illinois Symphony Orchestra, the Illinois

Chamber Orchestra, the Jimmy Dorsey Orchestra and Walt Disney World. Vern was also a member of the University of North Texas One O'Clock Band, which has recorded several of his compositions and arrangements.

UNIVERSITY OF IDAHO CENTER FOR DANCE CLINICIANS

With support from Gritman Medical Center

Greg Halloran

Greg Halloran is associate professor and coordinator of dance at the University of Idaho. He taught at Northern Illinois University and Kenyon College. He choreographed and directed the touring musical theatre company Louisville's Next Generation. Greg is a leading director in Labanotation, the written language of movement. He recently staged Sophie Maslow's Folksay for CityDance Ensemble in Washington, D.C. Greg received funding from the National Endowment for the Arts and the Idaho Commission for the Arts. He was the 2005 Idaho Association for Health, Physical Education, Recreation and Dance (IAHPERD) Educator of the Year and the 2006 Northwest AHPERD Dance Educator of the Year.

Sadie Champlin

Sadie Champlin has been dancing for as long as she can remember. What started as just basic training in ballet, tap and jazz grew into a huge love for all genres of dance from hula to swing! Sadie teaches beginning hip-hop at the University of Idaho and has thoroughly enjoyed every minute of it. She is a choreographer and performer as well as a teacher. Sadie plans on graduating with her B.S. in dance in May. She hopes to, one day, have her own dance studio where she can share her love and passion for dance with others.

Mary Heller

Mary Heller is a full-time faculty instructor in dance at the University of Idaho. She is from Chicago and holds a master of fine arts degree in dance from Florida State University. Mary was the original director, co-director and instructor of the Buffalo Grove Dance Center in Buffalo Grove, IL, where she taught for eight years. Mary has taught in studios, academies, K-12 public and private schools and higher education. She was dance director of West Port High School's Marion County Center for the Arts Dance Program in Ocala, FL, from 2005 to 2006. Mary is a certified BeMoved® instructor.

Kayla Williams

Kayla Williams' love for dance began at an early age. She started her dance experience with jazz and branched into ballet, hip-hop and tap. Kayla attended the University of Idaho and received her B.S. in dance in the fall of 2010. She has been teaching for 6 years ranging from combo classes with 3-year-olds to hip-hop and jazz classes at the University of Idaho. Kayla loves teaching because she gets to see her students learn to enjoy dance and express themselves and their personality through movement.

Diane Walker

Diane Walker, cofounder, with Dan Bukvich, of Dancers Drummers Dreamers - the University of Idaho's unique music/dance collaboration - has had a lifelong interest in the relationship between movement and music. With a Bachelor of Fine Arts degree from the Boston Conservatory and a Masters degree from Colorado State University she worked her way west to Idaho. As teacher, choreographer and the former head of the University of Idaho dance program she works closely with musicians in a variety of venues. Her goal is to blend music and movement into a seamless whole.

Betsy Hamill

Betsy Hamill began her West African dance journey 12 years ago. She studied Ewe drumming and dance at the California Institute of the Arts under Alfred Ladzekpo. She received her BFA in world music with a focus on Ewe drumming. She has studied under master dancers from Ghana, Mali and Guinea and performed with two dance troupes: Logo Ligi and Kuma Tunyale. Her love of West African music and dance propelled her into teaching African dance.

Shelly Werner

Shelly Werner loves making music with her feet. She received a bachelor's degree in dance from the University of Idaho and is completing her master's degree with a dance pedagogy emphasis. She has owned her art and dance studio for more than 16 years. She also teaches at the University of Idaho, the Festival Dance Academy and Moscow Charter School. She is a big fan of rhythm tap and hoofing, finding inspiration from Stomp, Tap Dogs, and tap dance masters such as Savion Glover and Gregory Hines but not forgetting the elegance and style of Gene Kelly and Fred Astaire.

UNIVERSITY OF IDAHO CENTER FOR DANCE CLINICIANS

With support from Gritman Medical Center

Patrick Barnes

Patrick Barnes has been Latin dancing for five years and teaching group lessons for two years at Washington State University and the University of Idaho. He also gives private lessons to students and faculty. He has studied under Jami Josephson, Jose DeCamps, Carlos Cinta and Sheryl Bentz-Sipe and has studied at various workshops and programs across the country. He loves Latin dancing and sharing his knowledge— especially helping people learn to dance. This is his second year teaching at the Lionel Hampton Jazz Festival.

Julie Strobel

Julie Strobel is a dancer, educator, performer and choreographer with 20 years experience. She has taught many dance genres and specializes in hip-hop and break'n. She earned her bachelor's degree in corporate fitness in Minot, ND. During this time she owned and directed a dance company and taught for numerous dance organizations. Julie received a master's in dance pedagogy at the University of Idaho. Her goals are to instill a lifetime commitment to dance and have FUN!

The Swing Devils

The Swing Devils are a group of swing dance enthusiasts in Moscow who meet weekly to celebrate the invention of swing music by dancing. For more than 12 years the Swing Devils have been promoting jazz dance and music by hosting dances, teaching lessons and supporting jazz musicians. This merry band of social dancers welcome those with two left feet as they have extra right ones to spare.

WORKSHOPS

DANCE TO YOUR HEART'S CONTENT!

Lionel Hampton, Benny Goodman, Tommy Dorsey, Glen Miller and Count Basie all knew how to throw a party. They put the best musicians in the world on the bandstand and turned them loose to swing hard and long. This year, the Lionel Hampton Jazz Festival invites you to pick up your feet and dance! On Saturday night, the evening's attendees are invited to dance the night away to the sounds and rhythms of the Lionel Hampton New York Big Band featuring: Ed Shaughnessy and Pete Christleib from Johnny Carson's Tonight Show, NEA Jazz Masters Live artist Jimmy Heath, and vocalist extraordinaire Carmen Bradford. All ticket holders for Saturday night will be allowed to bust a move on the Kibbie Dome's dance floors: Special space has been added allocated on either side of the stage for you to dance! Approximately 100 people will be allowed on each floor at a time with rotations made every two songs. Due to the high demand for dancing in past years, guided lines will allow orderly entrance into the dance area. If you are interested in touching up your footwork, be sure and check out the free lessons offered during the day by the University's Center for Dance. These dance clinics are held on each day of the festival in the Physical Education Building. See the workshop and clinic schedule on page 68-69 for full details. Come out and "bust a move" this year at the Lionel Hampton Jazz Festival. Dance programs and floor space supported by Gritman Medical Center.

Welcome to the 2011 Workshops

Designed to entertain, inspire, educate and inform, the 2011 workshops feature artists and educators from around the globe. Workshops are themed to help you focus on your educational goals while attending the festival. Many workshops provide handouts and the chance to play and sing with artists and educators. Please note: schedules are subject to change. Any changes will be indicated on the door of the workshop venues.

Workshop Themes

Artist Features: Come and see your favorite artists up close and personal. Listen while they play, sing and share stories. Most allow audience questions, and sometimes students are invited on-stage to play with the world's finest.

Director Helps: These workshops are designed to help directors teach jazz. Directing workshops include: rehearsal techniques, elementary jazz curriculum, teaching improvisation, directing a jazz ensemble, and more!

Master Classes: These are workshops designed for specific instruments. Learn about fingering, tone and technique from master teachers.

Explorations of the Heart: Visit the theme of the festival, and find greater understanding as you play, listen and participate in the world of jazz.

Hands On!: This means INTERACTIVE! Bring your instrument and charts, and be ready to play and sing along. Be prepared to learn about improvisation, scat singing and improving your techniques.

NEW IDEAS!: Come, and see what is new with jazz. We want to introduce you to collaborations with other jazz art forms. You won't want to miss this!

Dance Workshops: Join the fun in a variety of "hands-and feet-on" workshops led by university faculty, regional instructors and specialty dance instructors. Grab your dance shoes! Our swing and Latin dance classes will get you ready for the dance floor at the Saturday night concert.

Terell Stafford

All That Jazz!

Thursday 10 a.m. NuArt Theatre

Terell is the director of jazz studies at Temple University. He has been hailed as "one of the great players of our time, a fabulous trumpet player" by piano legend McCoy Tyner. Terell is known for being a gifted and versatile player with a voice all his own. You'll learn techniques, habits and behaviors that will help you to become a gifted musician. Listen and learn with this festival favorite as he shares his knowledge, stories and insights into the beauty, passion and dedication found in jazz music.

The Manhattan Transfer

Celebrate Vocal Jazz at its Finest!

Friday 11 a.m. SUB Ballroom

It's been more than 40 years since Tim Hauser, a former Madison Avenue marketing executive and New York City cabbie, aspired to form a harmony vocal quartet sui generis that would authentically embrace many varied musical styles, yet still create something wholly unique in the field of American popular song.

Originally formed in 1969, the Manhattan Transfer recorded several albums covering jazz standards, R&B and pop. They were easily the most popular jazz vocal group of their era and the most talented of any since the heyday of Lambert, Hendricks and Ross during the early '60s.

During the '70s through the '90s the group recorded with Tony Bennett, Bette Midler, Smokey Robinson, Laura Nyro, Phil Collins, B.B. King, Chaka Khan, James Taylor and the original Jersey Boy, Frankie Vallie, to name a few.

The Manhattan Transfer is a group of Grammy-winning musicians, featuring classics as well as surprisingly adventurous musical selections, presented in a must-see show that never fails to delight newcomers and satisfy their legions of fans.

Carmen Bradford

Sing and Swing with Carmen Bradford

Friday 10:30 a.m.–12:30 p.m. KIVA Theatre

Saturday 2:30–4 p.m. SUB Borah Theatre

Bring your song (and accompanist), and sing for Carmen Bradford. Carmen will work with student soloists on stage. Listen to the emerging and talented young voices at the festival, and watch the transformation of their songs and skills as Carmen Bradford works with them on the stage. This is exciting for students and audiences alike!

All-Star Rhythm Section (Josh Nelson, Kevin Kanner, Graham Dechter, Shawn Conley)

Tips, Tricks and Song!

Saturday 9:45 a.m. NuArt Theatre

These guys have come together on our stage to demonstrate the power, style and finesse that all musicians require. Come listen to the heat found in the soul of every group – the rhythm section! You'll hear great music and advice. Topics of discussion will cover everything from how to transcribe what you listen to, small group concepts, how to practice and how to listen.

Jeff Hamilton and Ed Shaughnessy

Drumming through the Years!

Thursday 2:30 p.m. NuArt Theatre

The festival's powerhouse drummer, Jeff Hamilton, interviews drum legend Ed Shaughnessy. Ed will talk about his life and career including his 29 years in the Tonight Show's orchestra. Ed shares stories of his work in big bands and combos that help us to better understand, enjoy and learn about jazz.

Josh Nelson

The Music of Pianist/Composer Michel Petrucciani

Saturday 1:30 p.m. Administration Auditorium

Acclaimed jazz pianist, composer, arranger, and teacher Josh Nelson will share his experience in an interactive solo piano workshop. Josh continues his look at recent influential jazz pianists in this performance- and discussion-centered workshop. He will discuss the music of Michel Petrucciani.

Petrucciani is a brilliant pianist with a debilitating physical handicap who beat the odds to become one of the most important French jazz pianists of his generation or any other.

Josh Nelson

Solo Piano Vocalist Accompaniment Techniques

Friday 3 p.m. Nazarene Church

Josh works with some of the finest vocalists today including Sarah Gazarek and Erin Bode. He currently is touring with Natalie Cole! Josh will discuss and demonstrate the concepts and techniques he utilizes in his accompaniment playing that makes him one of the most sought after pianists for vocalists. This will help accompanists and directors.

Jimmy Heath

Life Stories, Techniques and Peace

Thursday 1 p.m. NuArt Theatre

Jimmy Heath has long been recognized as a brilliant instrumentalist and a magnificent composer and arranger. Jimmy is the middle brother of the legendary Heath Brothers (Percy Heath: bass, Tootie Heath: drums), and is the father of Mtume. He has performed with nearly all the jazz greats of the last 50 years, from Howard McGhee, Dizzy Gillespie, and Miles Davis to Wynton Marsalis. During his career, Jimmy Heath has performed on more than 100 record albums including seven with The Heath Brothers and twelve as a leader. Jimmy has also written more than 125 compositions, many of which have become jazz standards and have been recorded by other artists. Come and visit with this NEA Jazz Master.

Jimmy Heath— Interviewed by Bob Athayde

I Walked with Giants

Saturday 3 p.m. NuArt Theatre

NEA Jazz Master Jimmy Heath shares his new autobiography I Walked with Giants. Festival favorite workshop presenter, Bob Athayde, interviews and visits with our master musician of the 2011 festival. Composer of more than 100 jazz pieces, three-time Grammy nominee, and performer on more than 125 albums, saxophonist Jimmy Heath has earned a place of honor in jazz history. During his long career, Heath knew many jazz giants, such as Charlie Parker, and played with other innovators, including John Coltrane, Miles Davis and Dizzy Gillespie. Along the way, Heath won both their respect and their friendship.

In this extraordinary autobiography, the legendary Heath creates a "dialogue" with musicians and family members. As in jazz, where improvisation by one performer prompts another to riff on the same theme, I Walked with Giants juxtaposes Heath's account of his life and career with recollections from jazz giants about life on the road and making music on the world's stages.

Bill Charlap/Renee Rosnes

Preview of Double Portrait

Thursday 11:30 a.m. Administration Auditorium

Bill Charlap and Renee Rosnes were already powerhouse pianists when they were married three years ago in the Jazz Club at Lincoln Center in New York. Now, the couple has released a new album of duets titled Double Portrait.

The record draws from the American songbook, as well as some less-covered jazz standards, including pieces by Wayne Shorter, Gerry Mulligan and Joe Henderson. Also included is "Double Rainbow" by Brazilian composer Antonio Carlos Jobim. "There's something about the lyricism, romanticism and beautiful rhythmic energy of Brazilian music that really speaks to us," Charlap said.

Come listen to this duo before they perform on the Administration Auditorium stage Thursday night. Feel the magic, and enjoy the music this dynamic duo brings to Idaho.

Ed Shaughnessy

Basic Indian Rhythms for Jazz Players and Singers

Friday 3:30 p.m. KIVA Theatre

Ed Shaughnessy is a master musician and celebrated workshop presenter. Learn about Indian rhythms and how you can apply them to your playing and singing. This is fun, informative and will propel your playing/singing to the next level. Be prepared to play and sing!

Ed Shaughnessy

Jazz Drumming Basics

Saturday 3 p.m. First Methodist Church

This master class is another great opportunity for anyone interested in learning more about jazz drumming. Ed continues to share his love of jazz and playing with beginners and advanced musicians. Bring your sticks and brushes, and be prepared to participate. This is a great opportunity for directors to learn more about jazz drumming, too.

Pete Christlieb

Saxophone Techniques

Saturday 1:30 p.m. First Methodist Church

Tenor saxophonist Pete Christlieb has been a driving force in West Coast jazz for more than 30 years. For 20 years he was a member of Doc Severinsen's Tonight Show Band, where he played roaring solos during the station breaks. Christlieb also played in big bands led by Bob Florence, Bill Holman and Louie Bellson. He shares his saxophone expertise with students of all ability levels.

Victor Wooten Band

Amazing Brothers, Amazing Musicians

Friday 2 p.m. SUB Ballroom

Victor Wooten is the youngest of the five amazing Wooten brothers: Regi, Roy, Rudy and Joseph. Victor grew up in a military family where his older brothers all played and sang. Realizing that the family band would be complete if they had a bass player, 10-year-old Regi began showing 2-year-old Victor how to play. By the time he was 3, Victor was performing neighborhood concerts with his brothers in the front yard of their home in Hawaii. At age six, he was touring with his brothers as the opening band for soul legend Curtis Mayfield. After living in Sacramento, Calif., for a few years, the family moved east where the Wooten Brothers continued to hone their skills playing countless clubs and concerts along the East Coast. This is upbeat, high intensity fun and an opportunity no one should miss!

Victor Wooten

Solo Bass/ The Music Lesson

Saturday 10:30 a.m. Administration Auditorium

Bring your bass! Victor is an innovator, composer, arranger, lecturer, producer, vocalist and multi-instrumentalist. He is a skilled naturalist and teacher, published author, magician, husband, father of four and five-time Grammy award winner. Come learn about the bass and Victor's latest book The Music Lesson.

In this parable, life lessons are broken down into 10 major elements of music: notes, articulation, technique, emotion, dynamics, rhythm, tone, phrasing, space (rests), and listening. Each element gets its own chapter and becomes a piece of the "big picture" of life. Written with insight and humor, The Music Lesson demonstrates an appealing, Zen-like approach to making music – and changing lives.

We encourage you to purchase the book and be prepared before you come to the workshop. Copies can be ordered at: <http://www.victorwooten.com/learnmusic.html>

Jonathan Harnum

The Practice of Practice

Friday 9 a.m. First Methodist Church

Talent is a myth. Practice is everything. A bold statement perhaps, but rigorous research has begun to show us that "talent" is essentially accumulated practice. But, practice isn't just amassing hours. Practice is not crop-dusting, going over and over the same passage until your time is up. As education researchers begin to discover what successful musicians actually do when they practice, this information can help both teachers and students gain a deeper understanding of the most effective practice techniques. What exactly is practice anyway? Does time of day matter? Does length of practice time matter? How about starting age, context, self-concepts or competition? How about goals? What role does motivation play in practice? How about naps? The answer to these questions and more will be presented in this presentation, and all information will be drawn from actual research on practice. Extensive reading list provided.

Josh Nelson/Graham Dechter

Playing Duet and Comping Alongside a Guitarist

Friday 10:30 a.m. Administration Auditorium

Learn how to make the most of this difficult but rewarding relationship with your students. It isn't as hard as you might think. Sherry Luchette

Elementary Jazz Curriculum— "HELP! I don't know what to do!"

Thursday 11:30 a.m. NuArt Theatre

Friday 9 a.m. KIVA Theatre

This session is for music band directors, general music teachers, student teachers and elementary music students alike. With budget cuts, music directors are finding themselves teaching elementary music K-5 along with their own middle and high school programs. Come learn simple ways to infuse jazz into your elementary music program so your kids will be ready for your future instrumental and vocal programs. The key is age-appropriate activities that work with younger students. Learn how to use body movement and games with jazz repertoire. Join us in creating a jazz music story that will introduce jazz style while utilizing classroom percussion. Classroom management techniques will be shared using music activities to keep younger children on-task. Other concepts that will be covered through activities include echoing jazz phrases, emphasizing beats 2 and 4, feeling syncopated swing rhythms, using the blues form and identifying instruments in a jazz context.

Sherry Luchette

Eli Yamin

Jazz Culture and Swing Rhythm

Thursday 1 p.m. KIVA Theatre

The missing link in jazz education today is an emphasis on culture and rhythm. Everybody knows jazz grew out of African American experiences, but what does that mean to us in 2010? How do we translate culture into an educational experience, regardless of our own ethnicity and/or that of students we work with? Singing the spiritual is the doorway to the soul of the music, and it also connects us with the roots of music in its most universally human and elemental form: rhythm, call-and-response, protect, and healing through communal emotional expression. We'll find the foundation in swing rhythm, taught in the historical context of spirituals and the blues. We'll provide the renewable energy needed for a rich, exciting discovery of the miraculous, infinite, and magical world of jazz.

Ray Briggs

Keepin' It Real, Part I: Developing a Pedagogy Rooted in the Methods of the Masters

Friday 12 p.m. First Methodist Church

This workshop will present ideas on how jazz educators can invigorate their teaching methods with the full richness jazz tradition has to offer. Make Your Trumpet Talk: Trumpet Sound Effects

Friday 1:30 p.m. First Methodist Church

In this hands-on workshop (bring your horn and maybe some earplugs) you'll learn techniques that are essential to jazz trumpet playing. We'll cover: vibrato; half-valve techniques such as the fall, the doit, and the scoop; flutter-tonguing; the growl; the rip; the flip; alternate fingerings; and the shake (also known as a lip trill). Listen to any good jazz trumpet player, and you'll hear all these techniques. The good news is that most of them are pretty easy to do. These techniques will help your playing sound more interesting and allow you to create voice-like inflections with your music. If you want to just listen and not play that's cool, too. Music teachers who need to teach these techniques to their trumpet players are encouraged to attend.

Corey Christiansen

Patterns for Improvisation: Do a Lot With a Little

Thursday 12:30 p.m. SUB Borah Theatre

What is Jazz? Why is it Important to America?

Thursday 10 a.m.–12 p.m. SUB Borah Theatre

Friday 12:30–2:30 p.m. Nazarene Church

Saturday 10 a.m.–12 p.m. KIVA Theatre

Participants will get a detailed description of the five essential elements of jazz, an overview of the music's history and its importance in American history and culture. They will also learn effective ways to teach the subject matter to middle school and high school music students.

Jimmy Heath

Life Stories, Techniques and Peace

Thursday 1 p.m. NuArt Theatre

Jimmy Heath has long been recognized as a brilliant instrumentalist as well as a magnificent composer and arranger. Jimmy is the middle brother of the legendary Heath Brothers (Percy Heath, bass, and Tootie Heath, drums), and is the father of Mtume. He has performed with nearly all the jazz greats of the last 50 years including Howard McGhee, Dizzy Gillespie, Miles Davis and Wynton Marsalis. During his career, Jimmy Heath has performed on more than 100 record albums including seven with the Heath Brothers and 12 as a leader. Jimmy has also written more than 125 compositions, many of which have become jazz standards and have been recorded by other artists. Come and visit with this NEA Jazz Master.

Jimmy Heath – Interviewed by Bob Athayde

I Walked with Giants

Saturday 3 p.m. NuArt Theatre

NEA Jazz Master Jimmy Heath shares his new autobiography I Walked with Giants. Festival favorite workshop presenter, Bob Athayde, interviews and visits with our master musician of the 2011 festival. Composer of more than 100 jazz pieces, three-time Grammy nominee, and performer on more than 125 albums, saxophonist Jimmy Heath has earned a place of honor in jazz history. During his long career, Heath knew many jazz giants, such as Charlie Parker, and played with other innovators, including John Coltrane, Miles Davis and Dizzy Gillespie. Along the way, Heath won both their respect and their friendship.

In this extraordinary autobiography, the legendary Heath creates a "dialogue" with musicians and family members. As in jazz, where improvisation by one performer prompts another to riff on the same theme, I Walked with Giants juxtaposes Heath's account of his life and career with recollections from jazz giants about life on the road and making music on the world's stages.

Doc Skinner with guests Christian Fabian and Kuni Mikami

Wally "Gator": The Man with the Soul for Today's Young People

Saturday 11 p.m. NuArt Theatre

The man who was the Lionel Hampton International Jazz Festival director for nearly 40 years remembers drummer Wally "Gator" Watson. Doc and Lionel Hampton Big Band Rhythm Section members Kuni Mikami and Christian Fabian will discuss and remember this well-loved festival musician. Attendees will hear about the remarkable friendship between Wally and the students he visited here in Idaho.

Wally spent his life focusing on the young musicians and their needs. He provided truth, reality and support for them as they grew musically and in their personal lives. Come spend time remembering this festival friend and mentor.

HANDS ON!

Carmen Bradford

Sing and Swing with Carmen Bradford

Friday 10:30 a.m.–12:30 p.m. KIVA Theatre

Saturday 2–4 p.m. SUB Borah Theatre

Bring your song (and accompanist), and sing for Carmen Bradford. Carmen will work with student soloists on stage. Listen to the talented young voices at the festival, and watch the transformation of their songs and skills as Carmen Bradford works with them on the stage. This is exciting for students and audiences alike!

Ed Shaughnessy

Basic Indian Rhythms for Jazz Players and Singers

Friday 3:30 p.m. KIVA Theatre

Ed Shaughnessy is a master musician and celebrated workshop presenter. Learn about Indian rhythms and how you can apply them to your playing and singing. This is fun, informative and will propel your playing/singing to the next level. Be prepared to play and sing!

Eli Yamin

Free Improvisation: A Great Place to Start

Thursday 10 a.m. First Methodist Church

How can you use free improvisation to free your voice and project your energy through your horn? This workshop helps musicians at any skill or experience level to experience the flow of masterful and meaningful improvisation in real time. Bring your HORNS!

Roger Treece

Circlesongs

Thursday 11:30 a.m. and 2:30 p.m. KIVA Theatre

Friday 12:30 p.m. SUB Ballroom and 3 p.m. Administration Auditorium

Saturday 12 p.m. and 3 p.m. Administration Auditorium

A Circlesong is a spontaneously composed choral piece. This technique for group vocal improvisation was invented by Bobby McFerrin to harness the individuality, broad stylistic range, spirit and community of his touring ensemble Voicestra. Roger has toured with this group and Bobby for many years and has emerged as the primary teacher of this technique. Circlesongs require careful listening and a willingness to take risks. The practice builds basic musical skills: intonation, blend, balance, articulation and responsiveness. At a Circlesong workshop profound learning takes place in an atmosphere of play. The process is simple and flexible, using the assembled choir as an instrument. Roger will design exercises to include each member of the circle and challenge singers of all levels.

Rosana Eckert

Vocal Improvisation: Letting Rhythm Lead the Way

Friday 1:30 p.m. Administration Building Auditorium

Whether you are an experienced improviser or just beginning the journey, putting rhythm at the front of your focus can unlock your creativity, improve your delivery, and help you compose a more musical solo. In this workshop, we will discuss practice techniques for strengthening your inner sense of time, communicating rhythms cleanly through effective scat syllables, developing rhythmic motives and telling a story through rhythm.

Rosana Eckert

The Best Musical Advice I Was Ever Given

Saturday 1 p.m. SUB Borah Theatre

This is a workshop that highlights the four pieces of musical advice that affected me most and has stayed with me throughout my career. The people from whom I learned these concepts are Dianne Reeves, Michele Weir, John Clayton, and Paris Rutherford. The four points concern vocal technique, sincere phrasing of a lyric, focus and selflessness in performance, effective visual presentation and connection with an audience.

Rosana Eckert

Finding Your Voice

Friday 10:30 a.m. First Methodist Church

Who do I want to be as an artist, and what do I want to say with my music? Jazz offers a tremendous amount of musical freedom, and sometimes it is difficult to know what to do with that freedom. From listening techniques to transcription to thoughtful repertoire to vocal exploration and technique, this workshop is about the steady path toward musical self-discovery.

Palouse Jazz Project

Putting Together a Combo

Saturday 10:15 a.m. SUB Borah Theatre

Jon Pugh

Elements for Giving a Great Performance

Friday 9 a.m. NuArt Theatre and 1:30 p.m. SUB Borah Theatre

Do you ever wonder what great musicians do to be prepared mentally, physically, technically and emotionally? In this popular session Jonathan Pugh will discuss personal thoughts and experiences that deal with these four topics and how they relate to producing a great performance every time you play. All ability levels and instruments are welcome. There will be live demonstrations and discussions about each area. Jonathan Pugh is a Conn-Selmer Corner/Trumpet artist.

Jonathan Harnum

The Practice of Practice

Friday 9 a.m. First Methodist Church

Talent is a myth. Practice is everything. A bold statement perhaps, but rigorous research has begun to show us that "talent" is essentially accumulated practice. But, practice isn't just amassing hours. Practice is not crop-dusting, going over and over the same passage until your time is up. As education researchers begin to discover what successful musicians actually do when they practice, this information can help both teachers and students gain a deeper understanding of the most effective practice techniques. What exactly is practice anyway? Does time of day matter? Does length of practice time matter? How about starting age, context, self-concepts or competition? How about goals? What role does motivation play in practice? How about naps? The answer to these questions and more will be presented in this presentation, and all information will be drawn from actual research on practice. Extensive reading list provided.

Jonathan HarnumMake Your Trumpet Talk: Trumpet Sound Effects
Friday 1:30 p.m. First Methodist Church

In this hands-on workshop (bring your horn and maybe some earplugs), you'll learn techniques that are essential to jazz trumpet playing. We'll cover: vibrato; half-valve techniques such as the fall, the doit, and the scoop; flutter-tonguing; the growl; the rip; the flip; alternate fingerings; and the shake (also known as a lip trill). Listen to any good jazz trumpet player, and you'll hear all these techniques. The good news is that most of them are pretty easy to do. These techniques will help your playing sound more interesting and allow you to create voice-like inflections with your music. If you want to just listen and not play that's cool, too. Music teachers who need to teach these techniques to their trumpet players are encouraged to attend.

Sherry LuchetteElementary Jazz Curriculum— "HELP! I don't know what to do!"
Thursday 11:30 a.m. NuArt Theatre

Friday 9 a.m. KIVA Theatre
This session is for music band directors, general music teachers, student teachers and elementary music students alike. With budget cuts, music directors are finding themselves teaching elementary music K-5 along with their own middle and high school programs. Come learn simple ways to infuse jazz into your elementary music program so your kids will be ready for your future instrumental and vocal programs. The key is age-appropriate activities that work with younger students. Learn how to use body movement and games with jazz repertoire. Join us in creating a jazz music story that will introduce jazz style while utilizing classroom percussion. Classroom management techniques will be shared using music activities to keep younger children on-task. Other concepts that will be covered through activities include echoing jazz phrases, emphasizing beats 2 and 4, feeling syncopated swing rhythms, using the blues form and identifying instruments in a jazz context.

Carmen BradfordSing and Swing with Carmen Bradford
Friday 10:30 a.m.–12:30 p.m. KIVA Theatre
Saturday 2:30–4 p.m. SUB Borah Theatre

Bring your song (and accompanist), and sing for Carmen Bradford. Carmen will work with student soloists on stage. Listen to the emerging and talented young voices at the festival, and watch the transformation of their songs and skills as Carmen Bradford works with them on the stage. This is exciting for students and audiences alike!

J.B. DyasTune Learning
Thursday 1–3 p.m. First Methodist Church
Saturday 2–4 p.m. KIVA Theatre

This hands-on demonstration/lecture will help you memorize and retain jazz's must-know standard repertoire. This includes instruction in "instant memorization," tune categorization, ear learning, and instant transposition. Tune learning and review schedule check-off sheets and definitive recording list are provided to all participants.

Willie HillA User-Friendly Approach to Learning How to Improvise
— You Can Do It!*Friday 3 p.m. SUB Borah Theatre

This clinic is an innovative approach to learning jazz improvisation for all students. It is centered on developing jazz vocabulary and aural skills. Audience participation is encouraged, so bring your horns or voice! Handouts will be available.

Corey ChristiansenThe Role of the Guitar in the Jazz Band and Small Combo
Thursday 10 a.m. KIVA Theatre

Corey Christiansen will present a clinic for band directors and students on the role of the guitar in jazz groups. What does the guitarist do in the big band or combo? What are its limitations? What are its strengths? How can it work with a piano? Corey will also present numerous voicings and concepts for the guitarist to help younger players break out of sounding like a "rock guitarist" in a jazz setting.

Corey ChristiansenLearning from the Jazz Masters: Developing a Jazz Vocabulary*Friday 10:30 a.m. SUB Borah Theatre
Saturday 12:15 p.m. KIVA Theatre

Learning to improvise is like learning a second language. Knowing the alphabet is very important, but after that it's crucial to learn some phrases. Learning a musical language is the same way. It's just as important to learn phrases and patterns as it is to learn theory. In fact, learning patterns can speed up your learning and help you understand the theory of music when it's presented. Corey Christiansen will help streamline your understanding and speed up your learning curve for learning to improvise.

Justin DiCioccioHow to Swing and Groove!*Friday 12 p.m. SUB Borah Theatre
Saturday 1:30 p.m. Hartung Theatre

Justin DiCioccio will explain and demonstrate of the roles of individual instruments in the jazz rhythm section. This workshop will focus on jazz swing feel, style and interplay in combo and big band settings. Participants will learn that rhythm is key, and everyone is a drummer.

Alan DurstEvery Scale is a Chord and Every Chord is a Scale
Saturday 12 p.m. Hartung Theatre

This workshop will take a close look at chord changes and how to interpret them. This will help take some of the confusion out of reading chord changes and bridge the gap between these symbols and improvised solos. This workshop will focus on not only the what, but also the how and why. Asymmetric and symmetric scales, modes, melodic development and harmonic generalization will be examined. Additionally, participants will design practical approaches to organizing practice sessions to include scales and chords. This workshop is hands-on, so bring your horn or voice.

Alan DurstIt's All About the Rhythm—Developing Stronger Improvised Solos
Saturday 3 p.m. Hartung Theatre

Duke Ellington said it best: "It don't mean a thing if it ain't got that swing." It's All About the Rhythm examines the use of rhythm in improvised solos combined with voice leading and melodic development. A strong rhythmic sense is one of the most challenging aspects to develop for improvisers. It plays a huge role in the development of solos and their melodic content. This workshop will examine strategies to improve rhythm within improvised solos. It will also include voice leading and melodic development approaches—essential skills for any improviser. Combining these two skills makes learning tunes fun. This workshop is hands-on so, be sure to bring your horn.

Bob AthaydeAnyone Can Improvise*Friday 9 a.m. Borah Theater

Hands On! workshops are designed to get YOU involved! Bring your instrument or your voice, and experience the fun that improvisation can be with Bob Athayde's Anyone Can Improvise. You'll learn a bit about where jazz improvisation comes from, how to overcome your fear of soloing, what to practice to improve your improvisations and, best of all, that Anyone Can Improvise!

Bob AthaydeStudent Ensembles on Stage*Thursday 3 p.m. Borah Theater*Saturday 12 p.m. First Methodist Church

Master Class workshops bring YOU into the rehearsal to watch as student ensembles are taught and rehearsed by our outstanding festival clinicians. Be ready to take notes as renowned educator Bob Athayde works with our very special guest performers to provide you with proven techniques for improving any ensemble (guest ensembles TBA).

Bob AthaydeMaking a Solo Out of One Note*Friday 3 p.m. First Methodist Church

Learn how many of the great jazz improvisers used a little material and a lot of space to produce some of the greatest solos.

Eli YaminJazz Culture and Swing Rhythm*Thursday 1 p.m. KIVA Theatre

The missing link in jazz education today is an emphasis on culture and rhythm. Everybody knows jazz grew out of African American experiences, but what does that mean to us in 2010? How do we translate culture into an educational experience, regardless of our own ethnicity and/or that of students we work with? Singing the spiritual is the doorway to the soul of the music, and it also connects us with the roots of music in its most universally human and elemental form: rhythm, call-and-response, protect, and healing through communal emotional expression. We'll find the foundation in swing rhythm, taught in the historical context of spirituals and the blues. We'll provide the renewable energy needed for a rich, exciting discovery of the miraculous, infinite, and magical world of jazz.

Vanessa SielertSaxophone Fundamentals—*Middle School and Junior High Students*Thursday 1:45 p.m. SUB Borah Theatre

Saxophonists: bring your instruments, and participate! Learn how fundamental practice can take your saxophone playing to the next level—no matter what your level may be. We will focus concepts such as jazz tone production, jazz articulation, time and melodic practice. We'll also look at creative ways to change up your practice time to keep it interesting.

Vern SielertTrumpet Techniques and Jazz Improvisation*Saturday 9 a.m. Borah Theatre

Saxophonists: bring your instruments, and participate! Learn how fundamental practice can take your saxophone playing to the next level—no matter what your level may be. We will focus concepts such as jazz tone production, jazz articulation, time and melodic practice. We'll also look at creative ways to change up your practice time to keep it interesting.

NEW IDEAS!Eli Yamin with Charenee Wade—NEW IDEAS!*Challenging, Inspiring and Motivating Today's*Youth Through Jazz and Storytelling*Rehearsal Friday 10:30 a.m.–2:30 p.m. NuArt Theatre*Presentation Saturday 12:30–2:30 p.m. NuArt Theatre

The combination of jazz and storytelling will be explored in this hands-on workshop. What opportunities does the language of jazz bring to telling stories? How can telling stories with jazz make blues, bebop and swing useful, positive and essential lifelong tools for self and group expression for today's youth? After a sequence of activities involving all participants, a student group will perform live excerpts from Nora's Ark, the jazz musical by Eli Yamin and Clifford Carlson.

Since their meeting in the mid-1990s Yamin and Carlson, a teacher at the Louis Armstrong Middle School in Queens, NY, have created five jazz musicals. The Jazz Drama Program creates, records and licenses original jazz musicals for children to perform for their peers. So far, Yamin and Carlson's musicals have seen 18 full productions across the nation. In 2010, the Jazz Drama Program produced the CD recording of Nora's Ark featuring the Eli Yamin Quintet and members of the Grammy Award-winning Brooklyn Youth Chorus.

OUR PALOUSE COMMUNITY

Tucked away in southeastern Washington and north central Idaho lies a majestic region of rolling fields and forestland that continues for as far as the eye can see. To the visitor, this is an undiscovered paradise, offering an abundance of outdoor recreational opportunities, theater and arts, and sportsmanship at its finest.

The Palouse region is defined as the fertile hills and prairies north of the Snake and Clearwater rivers, centered on the Palouse River. The beautiful rolling hills are composed of soft silt that was blown in from glacial outwash during the last ice age. This deep loess soil has created some of the most fertile ground in the United States and is perfect for dryland production of wheat, barley, dry peas, lentils and canola.

Many communities lie within the Palouse region. Pullman, Wash. and Moscow, Idaho, are the main hub cities, with many smaller surrounding towns nestled among wheat, lentil and dry pea fields, and natural forestlands. The University of Idaho was designed by the same landscape architect that also designed the Capital grounds in Washington, D.C. The picturesque setting and refreshing climate provide the perfect atmosphere for a region filled with exuberant life.

The Palouse communities annually open their doors and embrace the sounds and sights of the Lionel Hampton Jazz Festival. Help us to thank the region for its hospitality and support!

THANK YOU!

The first University of Idaho Jazz Festival

took place in 1967, with a dozen student groups and one guest artist, Buddy Brisboe. The Festival continued to grow from there – erupting onto the national stage in 1981 when students and spectators packed into Memorial Gym to hear Ella Fitzgerald. Just a year later, the Festival's most important relationship took shape when Lionel Hampton joined in the excitement in Moscow. Taken aback by the enthusiasm of the students Lionel pledged his support to the Festival that very year.

As we move into the fifth decade of education and performance, the Festival is teaming up with the Lionel Hampton School of Music to enhance the educational materials and reach of the year-round Jazz in the Schools outreach program. The Jazz in the Schools program takes visiting artists into schools throughout Washington and Idaho to give students the chance to experience the unique world of jazz up close.

A look back at the 2010 Festival

- ★ In 2010, there were 101 workshops and clinics staged on the University of Idaho campus and in the Moscow community.
- ★ Nearly 8,900 students from 293 schools participated in four days of student performances.
- ★ 56 adjudicators/educators brought their skills and experience to the 2010 festival and its 807 performance sessions.
- ★ Nearly 7,000 festival guests attended the Young Artists Concerts.
- ★ More than 600 parents, grandparents and jazz enthusiasts unable to attend the Young Artist Concerts watched the performances via live webcast.
- ★ The Wednesday evening concert was moved to the newly-renovated SUB Ballroom where enthusiasts were treated to an intimate night of jazz by inspiring, new musicians.
- ★ More than 700 volunteers managed 51 performance and clinic venues.
- ★ 46 world-class artists performed during the four-day festival.
- ★ More than 7,000 students in Washington and Idaho participated in the 2010 Jazz in the Schools program.

Participating Automobile Dealerships

Every year we bring in hundreds of artists and educators into the Spokane, Lewiston and Pullman/Moscow airport that are then transported to their respective hotels. During the four days of festival, they are taxied by our volunteer and staff drivers to the various concerts, workshops and clinics. This effort requires more than 40 drivers and an equal number of vehicles to keep everything flowing smoothly. Without the assistance of the following dealer contributions (as of 2/8/11), we could not manage the festival's transportation needs.

WALLY GATOR WATSON

1951-2010

"Prior to his recent death, Wally was interviewed by local UI PhD candidate Brad Howey. Here is an excerpted version of his article published with permission by JAZZed Magazine in the January, 2011 issue. www.jazzedmagazine.com"
Excerpted with permission from an article and interview with Wally Gator Watson, written by Brad Howey, published in the January edition of JAZZed Magazine.

BH
Welcome, Wally—we're so grateful for this time to be able to visit with you.
WG

Thank you, I'm happy to be here.

BH
Like so many of our readers, you began playing music when you very young and it has been a part of your life ever since. I wonder if you wouldn't mind telling us the story of how you got your start.

WG
Well, my father was a drummer. He worked with Dinah Washington, and Jimmie Lunceford—a bunch of folks; and he used to drive me around to rehearsals, though at the time I really didn't want to be a musician. My brother and I were into airplanes, and so that's what I wanted to do. But my father made me play drums until I was about eight, when he and my mother split up and I went with her and was able to pursue my dream of becoming a pilot. As it turned out, up the street from where we lived there was a band that needed a drummer. And though I hadn't played in years, my mother contacted my father and got me a snare drum and a big 22' ride cymbal and that launched me back into music. One thing led to another, and since I had had some formal training I was the best in the neighborhood. We were asked to play a retirement party and got paid $5 each (which equaled my entire weekly allowance at the time), and I thought: "This is great—I can do this!" Eventually we started playing gigs around New York. I made a record with The Five Star Steps called 'Moon Child', moved on to join Wilson Pickett, and the rest is history.

BH
Who were your idols through those years—the people you looked up to or admired?

WG
Most of the drummers I heard growing up were local drummers that most people have never heard of. But once I got up into the upper levels of the business there were great drummers everywhere. I do remember this drum shop in New York where we used to go and look at the new gear, and this short older gentleman was there and walked up to me and said, "Hi there—I'm Philly Jo Jones." But at that time I didn't know who he was! Truth is, I met a lot of great people in those days, but I never bothered to seek their wisdom—which probably would have put me on a different level. I was a drummer then because I could play drums; I wasn't pursuing the idea of becoming some great drummer. I just took what came along. I do remember going into a club where Steve Gadd's band was playing, and by the middle of the first song I started thinking it was time to look for a new job 'cause these guys were killin' me! I had thought I was pretty good, but I'm like, "Whoa." Later on I remember a gig where Steve walked in and pulled out a piece of rumbled-up notebook paper that he had written all of these notes on, and he began to play. For the first time I really began to analyze how he approached a song that he's never played before, and builds it up. He came over after that gig and recognized me, and we've been friends ever since. He is such a down-to-earth, humble guy, and has been an incredible influence on me.

BH
And yet you have built a successful career over all of these years. What do you believe was the quality that kept them coming back to you—that you see as the real strength of your playing?

WG
Well, through those early years I had no real respect for what I could do. I didn't over-analyze things; I just put it out there. And I have maintained that approach to this day. I play from my heart, and use my ears and eyes to keep me where I need to be. And, I recognize that I play a supportive role. If I never get a drum solo, it never bothers me (which is part of why I worked so well with Lionel Hampton, 'cause Lionel seldom gave out solos, and that was fine with me)—though when I do solo, people love it. Ultimately I'd say I just play from the heart.

BH
You have performed with some of the finest musicians in the world and played some really incredible gigs, Wally. Which were your favorites, and why?

WG
That list is pretty long, and it's really a matter of who respects me. I respect every artist I work with for who they are, and what achievements they've made—until they take that respect away. There are some artists who will talk down to you, and want to make you think you're less than them. I don't have time for that. I'll fire an artist in a heart-beat, and have actually told artists: "You're fired--I'm outa' here." It's all a matter of respect. I used to tour with an artist named Carrie Flynn, and the first time I worked with her we went to North Carolina. We walked into the hotel and the hotel clerk said, "Miss Smith, we're glad to have you," and he handed her three keys—one for her and two for the rest of us. Now, there were four members of the band and each of us was supposed to have our own room. Carrie asked, "Where are the rest of the keys? My contract says that my band gets what I get, so I'm going to need four more suites." He refused, so she told him to get the car back as we needed to head back to the airport. The next thing we knew, we had four suites! A similar thing happened on tour with Benny King in Japan. A lot of artists won't do that, but they did. It's not a matter of ego to me—it's a matter of respect. Now, The Five Star Steps came before the Jackson Five, and were a famous group at that time. As a kid it was very exciting for me to work with them. And I enjoyed the opportunity to work with Wilson Pickett and the exposure that came from that gig. But Lionel Hampton was the biggest legend I've ever worked for. Lionel really took me under his wing and became the grandfather I never had. We became great friends."

BH
Tell me, Wally—what's something about Lionel that folks may not know that they should know; something you really appreciated?

WG
Well first of all, Lionel was a very religious man. He often read the bible several times a day on the bus, and did not go anywhere without it. And second, Lionel really loved kids. I think the reason he put so much into the festival in Moscow is because of what they do for kids there. I don't know many festivals that have that kind programming for the kids. And you know, Lionel was really a sweetheart of a guy—a really phenomenal guy."

BH
I wonder if you could say a few words about the kids, Wally—you have such an ability to connect with them and to inspire them.

WG
Well, when I look at kids, I see myself 'cause I really enjoyed being a kid; and I guess in a way I'm still just a big kid. I love the innocence in children, and look at the older kids as having the opportunity to go through life and make something positive happen. So many kids today don't think they count; they don't believe that what they do makes a difference in the world. But it won't make a difference if they don't MAKE it make a difference. So if there's something I can say to even one young person that will help them to make that difference, then I feel like I have really accomplished something. I also feel like a small part of my spirit lives on in any child I talk to, just as a small part of Lionel's spirit is living on in me. It's a legacy.

BH
Wonderful, Wally. We're so grateful for your time. Any last words you'd like to leave us with?

WG
I guess the last thing I'd like to say is that kids have to remember that they count—that they have the power to change the world; that no matter how bad you think your situation is, there are those around that have it worse than you and that in a moment, it can all change. You're gonna have your fun in life, but fun can wait. Work hard and then you can play hard. Buckle down and get your education. There are things you can do in music if that's what you want to do, but whatever you do, you've gotta find that passion—talent, desire, and passion. Put them in line and you'll have success.
