

My dear friend and fellow Student:

We have your request that we hold your Lessons until further notice.

We regret, however, that this will not be possible as we cannot make special arrangements or keep special accounts of any one Member. The volume of mail sent daily and the scale of our operations do not permit us to do this. In a Movement as large as this every Member's Lessons go out on a definite schedule, and you will understand how impossible it is for us to vary the schedule for any individual Member. Your Lessons will continue to be mailed to you according to the agreement in our contract. I am sure you will understand.

Sincerely your friend and Teacher,

Frank Robinson
