The letters of testimonial, speaking as loud as words can speak, continue to pour into our Headquarters here. They are the proof of the truth of the Teaching. Without them, we could not and we would not operate. They come from all corners of the land and from many foreign lands, although with the war in Europe, very little communication is to be had with that country. Canada is still heard from, and today we received a wonderful letter from Haiti. These manifestations of the Power of the Spirit of God in human lives all over the world, give us confidence to go forward in a superstitious world full of quasi-religious philosophies. It's a wonder why someone did not see the great though simple truth of the Spirit of God ages ago. I suppose ~~they~~ ^{one} could not see ~~them~~ ^{it} then, on account of the false religious theories which were so abundantly spread round by the differing and competing systems of so-called religion.

But as these precious truths, with their power become more and more ~~known~~ ^{better}, we can look forward with absolute assurance to the day when the whole world will know God, and then, we shall be ~~supremely~~ ^{supremely} happy that we did our little bit towards bringing in those wonderful truths.

Our greatest battle is going to be in the field of religion itself. Rather should I say in the field of theology, for there can be no true religion but one on the earth, and we know which one that is. But the organizations which operate under a false philosophy of God are not going to give up that philosophy as long as so many priests and preachers are dependent upon those systems for a living. They don't seem to care whether they can do anything for the world or not, just as long as they can keep in existence. That is not as it should be. Yet religious superstition is a terrible thing. It's really nothing more nor less than fear. Fear, and the love of the dollar in many instances.

I am of the opinion, though, that the weight of public opinion against these organizations will do more than anything else to bring to them the seriousness of the situation, and they may, yes, they may finally come to see what the truths of God really are, and once they do that, then of course all this talk about God being crucified on a cross will automatically go over the dam into oblivion, where it should be, and instead of that useless theory, the church and the world will know these plain simple truths of the Power of the Spirit of God.

There will, in all probability, be rather an unusual demonstration of Spiritual Power made on this earth through this Movement. I am of the opinion that our leader will be given the work of making this Spiritual demonstration. For something must happen which will focus the eyes of the world on this little City of Moscow, Idaho. Of course, we are depending absolutely and completely on the guidance of the Spirit of God for this. When that guidance comes, it will be so clear and so plain that none will mistake it. Those good Christians who look for Jesus to come back on the clouds of heaven, will be rather disappointed in the form this renewing of Spiritual Power on the earth will take. They will be amazed when they learn that what they have been dispensing as the truths of God are nothing of the sort. They will be greatly surprised when they find the one whom they thought was God, to be nothing of the sort--just another old pagan story of God. But, sad though their plight will be, it will be a glorious day.

For these good folks I believe are inherently honest. They actually believe that there is no true religion outside of their own Christian religion. But, when they see the Power of the Spirit of God come to this earth in brightness and Power, they will be honest enough, I think, to come and partake of the bounties of that day. Many of them even now are halting between two opinions. Seldom a week passes ~~but~~ what some minister or another ~~does~~ does not write us telling us that we have the truths of God while he ~~did~~ did not have them. I do not suggest that these good ministers leave their parishes as some have been doing. Let them stay there, ~~are~~ preach the truth, ~~and~~ let the men ~~###~~ in authority over them take the initiative against them and prefer the charges. It will make the "powers that be" look rather ridiculous when they try to oust one of their own ministers for preaching the Power of the Spirit of God instead of some old heathen tradition which has been masquerading as being of the true God.

They will be face to face with a problem the like of which they have never faced before ~~then~~. They won't know what to do. But with men and women all over the world, learning of this Teaching, there won't be much else they can do than give in, and admit they have been wrong in their religious emotions and beliefs. All things change. ~~And~~ the religion of today will be quite different from the religion which will be one universal religion when the truths of the Spirit of God become fully known. a

So the only word we have for you is that you keep very close to the Realm of the Spirit of God. Allow the Power of God to work in you, and realize the divine presence more and more each day. Keep your thoughts on the Power within, and men and women will know the Power is demonstrating without. Do whatever you can to bring the message to others, and keep as quiet as you can until we advise you of some definite move to make.
