

Now Let's Fearlessly Face the Facts

It would be very easy to show that origin births, baptism, crucifixion, resurrection, atonement, etc., are old pagan and Oriental teachings. Candidly—we of "Psychiana" do not believe them. We tried to find God that way and did not succeed—we did succeed another way. If these old traditions are not true—let's find it out. Certainly they will never save either you or the world. They've had a long time in which to prove their efficacy—and we think they have failed.

Can you believe, after a moment's reflection, that a Being who is too vast, infinitely too vast in power and ubiquity to be grasped by the human understanding, did become a helpless, senseless, unconscious, human infant; a suckling, crying, squalling babe, powerless of speech, and unable to walk? Ay, worse, more startling still, we are shocked with the thought that this mighty World-builder, this infinite, omnipotent Creator, was reduced so near to the verge of nonentity, so near to the last glimmering spark or speck of existence, and the world so near without a God, as to become an inanimate foetus, a monad in the matrix of a human virgin? Shocking the thought! Blasphemous the doctrine! Believe it who will; believe it who can! We of "Psychiana" can not; we would not; we are infinitely beyond it. Such a belief may be deposited by educational tradition in the affections, but to enter the temple of Reason, it never did, it never can. She never unbarred her doors to admit such monstrous, such enormous incongruities. And all these logical absurdities, and a thousand more, grow legitimately out of the doctrine of the divine incarnation—out of the postulate which would (following in the line of pagan superstitions) elevate the finite, humble, mortal babes to the throne of heaven, the exclusive prerogative of Almighty God. Come away, my friends, from such disparaging, such dishonorable views of the Deity, such blasphemous caricatures of Almighty God. Come away from such morally darkening and such intellectually dwarfing superstitions, the moldering relics of oriental mythology, the expiring embers of childish credulity and tradition, which originated far back in the dark cradle of human existence, in the infancy of an undeveloped age, ruled by ignorance, superstition, and priestcraft. Yet millions of people laying claim to sense and intelligence, even now profess to believe it! Talk not to me of infidelity or blasphemy for denying the divinity or Godhead of "God-men." The blasphemy lies in the other direction. The infidelity is with the opposite party. It is with those who thus make the dignity and character of Deity the sport of childish baubles, the game of priestly tawdryism. And be assured, dear friends, one and all, that coming generations will mark the man who now worships these "God-men" as being "very God" as an idolator, if not a blasphemer—for worshipping a finite man for an infinite God, even though the motives for such worship may be as pure as the pearly stream that issues forth from the golden fount which rolls and sparkles beneath the throne of Almighty God.

What Is The TRUTH?

We of "PSYCHIANA" believe that there exists today a Spiritual Power so dynamic that all other powers or forces fade into insignificance beside it. We believe this Spiritual power to be omnipotent, omnipresent, and omniscient. We believe it to be God. We believe and teach that this great power which we call the Spirit of God and which created this universe is abundantly able to bring to every one of us an unlimited supply of spiritual power, abundant health, and a fullness of material and financial success here and now.

We believe furthermore that the Power of the Spirit of God exists for the express purpose of revealing itself to men and women without the intervention of any man-made creed or dogma. We do not believe that God at any time came down to the earth, suffering the death of the cross that only those believing that story may be "saved." We believe that story originated in the dark ages of a pagan and Oriental past, and we do not believe there is a scrap of truth in it. We believe, (as is our right to believe) this entire story to be pagan myth and tradition.

DO YOU WANT BUSINESS SUCCESS?—THE SPIRIT OF GOD CAN BRING IT TO YOU
DO YOU WANT PERFECT HEALTH?—THE SPIRIT OF GOD CAN BRING IT TO YOU
DO YOU WANT INFINITE PEACE?—THE SPIRIT OF GOD CAN BRING IT TO YOU
DO YOU WANT MATERIAL SUPPLY?—THE SPIRIT OF GOD CAN BRING IT TO YOU

If the Spirit of the Omnipotent God can not do these things, then there isn't any God. We of "PSYCHIANA" know there is a God—and we know that there are no limitations to this great Power. Our files teem with letters proving this. Why not YOU learn of and use the Power of God for the achievement of the things your God-given desires demand? There can be no limitations to God—your common sense tells you that. You also know instinctively that God exists.

It seems that every conceivable effort has been made to stop this Teaching and get its Founder out of the way and into the penitentiary. We think we know where these attacks have come from. In fact we are sure we do. But how foolish—this Teaching IS PROTECTED BY THE GOD IT TEACHES, AND NO ONE MAN NOR NO GROUP OF ORGANIZATIONS WILL BE ABLE TO SUCCESSFULLY FIGHT THE TRUTH. IT PROTECTS THOSE WHO HAVE IT. Its hard medicine for some to take—the truth always hurts—but it only hurts them who are opposed to it. At Last the Truth About

Religion and God

Is Being Told

Old Oriental myths and superstitions which have masqueraded as truths of God are being exploded—as they should be. If they ever had any merits they are passe now for Americans are really thinking: and the more they think the more they are convinced that the actual truth of God has never yet been given to them.

A new revelation of the power of the Spirit of God is necessary or our present civilization might crumble.

Certainly there is no religious teaching on the earth today capable of stemming the tide of atheism and infidelity which is sapping the very life-blood of America. But Americans instinctively know that some new revelation of God must come, and they are accepting these new truths as given to them.

In its first year, "Psychiana" went into 67 different countries. Amazing results in human lives followed—

Through the Power of the Spirit of God.
