

"YE MEN OF ATHENS"

When the Apostle Paul was walking along the road going to Damascus he saw a sign, we are told, which had on it this inscription: "TO THE UNKNOWN GOD." Then he told the people of Greece that they were too superstitious about all things.

We agree with the Apostle Paul, only find people more superstitious today than they were then. In this book Dr. Robinson has gone into the heart of the matter and has painted a picture of God which is so realistic that even a fool can understand it.
