

CREATOR OF 'PSYCHIANA' WILL LECTURE IN CITY

1938
Dr. Frank B. Robinson, Moscow, Idaho, creator of "Psychiana," will give a series of three night lectures at the Shrine auditorium, starting next Sunday. Dr. Robinson, who is also owner of the daily News-Review at Moscow, has become widely known through radio lectures.

He is a registered pharmacist and worked for Frank Nau, Portland druggist, for a time before going to Moscow in 1928 to enter the employ of a drug store there.

Spokane (Wn) Spok. Valley Times
February 16, 1938

TIME MAGAZINE
CITES "PSYCHIANA" 3517

Moscow, Idaho, received more national publicity when an issue of Time, the weekly news magazine claiming more than a million subscribers, published a lengthy article on "Psychiana" and a picture of Dr. Frank B. Robinson, founder of the psychological religion.

The magazine announced that Dr. Robinson will make "Psychiana" more like a church. Half a million letters will shortly go out to "Psychiana" students throughout the world informing them how to organize study groups (resembling religious congregations) in their cities.

The magazine tells of Robinson's efforts to build up "Psychiana," of its phenomenal growth and how he first operated. The issue is now on sale at local news stands.

New York Post

MONDAY, AUGUST 8, 1938

. . . A new religious sect, stemming in Idaho and now spreading eastward, is called, intriguingly, Psychiana . . .