This book about the Bible. You have never heard of it. You have never read it. You have never used it. You have never seen it. You have never heard anyone speak of it. But you have used it. You have used it today. All unconsciously, 'tis true. But you have used it. You have used it in writing this book. As a matter of fact, I am using the Bible in writing this book. And you are using the Bible as you read and understand it. By the time you close this book, your mind will be fully made up to consciously use the Bible, and through it's influence, you will begin at once to draw to you, and actually produce these things which are absolutely necessary to your complete happiness. For the Bible can do this. In fact, the Bible exists for that specific purpose.

Is the Bible then, something tangible? Yes and no. It is tangible in that you may use it for the achievement of every good thing you can possibly need throughout your earthly life, and through whatever other life there may be after this one, if any. It is intangible in that while it is possible for you to come as close to it, you will never be able to explain just what the Bible is. Before you have perused this book very long, you will begin to experiment with the Bible. You will find that while you cannot see it, the Bible is the most powerful thing ever to come into your life.

The above statement is not strictly correct. The Bible does not make an entrance into your life at some unspecified time between page one

Dear Mr. Zimmerman:

I have your letter of February 17, and we appreciate the interest which you have taken.

It has been decided that the remainder of the material which my mother and I have in our possession will remain with us, the reason being that much of it has not been copyrighted and we do not want them available, as the ramifications could be quite troublesome, which I am sure you must understand. However, the remaining literature and copy will be in a very safe place, and it may be that in coming years this literature may find its way into your archives.

Thank you for your consideration.

Very truly yours,

Dear Mr. Zimmerman:

I decided that the best and most secure place for my father's books would be in the University Library, and therefore I took my own copies in order that they all could be in one place.

I appreciate your interest, and I was more than happy to do all I could, as I know that from this point forward my father's writings will be preserved in the University of Idaho Library.

Again, thank you.

Very truly yours,
