Dr. Frank B. Robinson,
Moscow, Idaho.

Dear Dr. Robinson:

During a day or two of May 22nd, this year, a friend of mine invoked your aid during a very critical operation which was performed on me. About a week after the happening the medical men and nurses were amazed at the turn for the better, also they couldn't account for the change in condition. So I write to thank you for such effort as you put forward on my behalf at that time. I hope some day to thank you personally—and possibly reciprocate in some manner.

I am,

Yours sincerely,

G. S. HOSKINS.
