

PS. Herb, I was doing some printing of copies of photos I made at the Winchester Museum last summer and this one puzzles me.

They stated that one of the locos in the background was the one you had a hand in restoring and is now at South Dakota.

Is that correct?

I knew you were involved removing one of the NezPerce and Idaho locos which was cosmetically restored and did go to a museum in South Dakota (have I got that information correct too?)

Can you help me out, because in this photo these locos look like Shays to me.

(Don't worry about photo being folded; it's only a proof. But send it back when you reply so I'll be sure to have the right identification on the right photo.)

we think this is Craig Hill Lumber Co. Some of these engines is #3 it is now on a Wisconsin Tourist RR. Kettle Valley & Moraine

Hal. Looks like the 2 locos are Heistlers not Shays. Jerry Quinn & Charlie Mitchell

*Reggie
Trace disposal of #3 (2-3-61)*