

TOKYO SUKIYAKI is the way this sign at 228 N. W. 4th avenue once read. First the 'Tokyo' was removed and then, with evacuation orders in the offing, the place, once popular with American lovers of Japanese food, closed its doors.