Dear Deb:

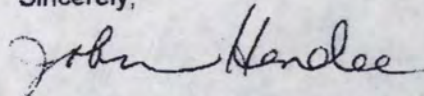

Thank you for your letter of July 8th on behalf of Steve Zettel and Taylor Ranch Outfitters. We want to be good neighbors to our outfitting colleagues who operate near Taylor Ranch.

Taylor Ranch is owned by the University of Idaho and dedicated to wilderness research and education. Resident manager, Dave Duncan, and his wife, Stephanie, live there year around. We have at least two student interns there in the summer. Our long-term plan for Taylor Ranch calls for maintaining university autonomy in ranch operations and expanding our teaching and research. Should we need outfitting services as this activity expands, we will keep you in mind.

Enclosed is a copy of our operating policies for the ranch and use of the airstrip. We are glad to help by letting you make use of the Taylor Ranch airstrip per arrangements you will make with David Duncan while the Cabin Creek airstrip is out of service.

Stop by Taylor Ranch and get acquainted with Dave and Stephanie. I know you will like them.

Sincerely,

John C. Hendee
