

TAYLOR RANCH SUMMER STUDENT INTERNS 1989

Gear List

backpack	daypack	sleeping bag
sleeping pad	tent	backpack stove
water-bottle	backpack cook set	hiking and work boots
rain gear	wool pants	coat, gloves, and hat
field notebook	flashlight	watch & alarm clock
work gloves	personal items	appropriate clothing
15+ days of backpacking food		(see weather below)
insect repellent	binoculars

Weather is variable: from below freezing and snowing to 100 degrees. Temperatures near Taylor Ranch are conducive to short sleeves, while long sleeves and a jacket are best for the high country temperatures and mosquitoes. We will be spending part of May and June above the snow line. A gasoline powered washing machine is available for laundry.

Food

Canned goods and non-perishable foods should be packed in boxes to fly to Taylor Ranch. Perishable items can also be brought in, or ordered on the weekly mail plane via Arnold Aviation. An account can be set up with Arnold Aviation for groceries when you arrive in Cascade. There is a 5% service charge for shopping if you leave money on account, there is an extra 5% charge if you are billed later.

A shared student cooking facility will be provided, including gas stove, refrigerator, dishes, and cooking utensils. You can decide among yourselves whether and how to share meal planning and cooking responsibilities.

Optional Items

fishing rod and license (fly or lure only)
camera & film	tennis shoes	swim suit
bow and arrows	camera	sun screen
topographic maps	compass

Paperwork

Each student must register for 1 credit of RcMgt 397 or Wlf 397 through summer school registration. Bring your receipt to Taylor Ranch. W-4 forms must be filled out and signed in the Dean's office before you can be paid.

Phone Numbers

Arnold Aviation
(Ray and Carol Arnold)
Cascade, ID 83611
Office: 382-4844

Summer address:
Taylor Ranch Field Station
HC 83
Cascade, ID 83611
Backcountry radio: 382-4336

Dr. Jim Fazio, Acting Director
Wilderness Research Center
College FWR
University of Idaho
Moscow, ID 83843
885-7911

Jim and Holly Akenson can be reached at the backcountry radio number. This is also the emergency number through which you can be contacted this summer.

TAYLOR RANCH SUMMER STUDENT INTERNS 1989

Gear List

backpack	daypack	sleeping bag
sleeping pad	tent	backpack stove
water-bottle	backpack cook set	hiking and work boots
rain gear	wool pants	coat, gloves, and hat
field notebook	flashlight	watch & alarm clock
work gloves	personal items	appropriate clothing
15+ days of backpacking food		(see weather below)
insect repellent	binoculars

Weather is variable: from below freezing and snowing to 100 degrees. Temperatures near Taylor Ranch are conducive to short sleeves, while long sleeves and a jacket are best for the high country temperatures and mosquitoes. We will be spending part of May and June above the snow line. A gasoline powered washing machine is available for laundry.

Food

Canned goods and non-perishable foods should be packed in boxes to fly to Taylor Ranch. Perishable items can also be brought in, or ordered on the weekly mail plane via Arnold Aviation. An account can be set up with Arnold Aviation for groceries when you arrive in Cascade. There is a 5% service charge for shopping if you leave money on account, there is an extra 5% charge if you are billed later.

A shared student cooking facility will be provided, including gas stove, refrigerator, dishes, and cooking utensils. You can decide among yourselves whether and how to share meal planning and cooking responsibilities.

Optional Items

fishing rod and license (fly or lure only)
camera & film	tennis shoes	swim suit
bow and arrows	camera	sun screen
topographic maps	compass

Paperwork

Each student must register for 1 credit of RcMgt 397 or Wlf 397 through summer school registration. Bring your receipt to Taylor Ranch. W-4 forms must be filled out and signed in the Dean's office before you can be paid.

Phone Numbers

Arnold Aviation
(Ray and Carol Arnold)
Cascade, ID 83611
Office: 382-4844

Summer address:
Taylor Ranch Field Station
HC 83
Cascade, ID 83611
Backcountry radio: 382-4336

Dr. Jim Fazio, Acting Director
Wilderness Research Center
College FWR
University of Idaho
Moscow, ID 83843
885-7911

Jim and Holly Akenson can be reached at the backcountry radio number. This is also the emergency number through which you can be contacted this summer.