Congressman Stallings has been appointed to the Forests subcommittee of the House Ag Committee. He is looking for Idaho issues and I certainly volunteered our help. He has a seasoned aid, Cary Jones, who did graduate work at FWR, is oriented to Fayio and is a good friend of ours. The Congressman (and Cary) are trying to develop non nuclear, non military initiatives for INEL and are eager to help us build the environmental monitoring and assessment research program in RNRW. I think the time is right to develop the proposal so Oz, Fayio and I can present as a short slide presentation to him when we are at the North American wildlife conference in March. Jim Peck could join us -- they loved his presence at the fire oversight hearings. If Bruce Wierswa could join us all the better. We need to meet soon to conceive a plan.
