Subject: Minutes - Meeting of December 14, 1993

Dear Colleagues:

My apologies for taking so long to get out minutes of our last meeting. Our next meeting is scheduled for Wednesday, February 2, so I'm attaching a draft agenda indicating some important business and discussions planned for that meeting. Let me know if there are additional items you want to discuss.

The meeting was called to order at 3:00 p.m. on December 14, 1993.

WRC Logo:

Hendee reported on a meeting attended with Yeo, Krumpe and Vice-President Harry Peterson and staff from the communications office to discuss design of a Wilderness Research Center logo. Subsequently, two additional meetings have been held and it may be possible to share designs prepared by UI communications at the next WRC Advisory Committee Meeting. Hendee, Krumpe, and Yeo contributed ideas in great detail about symbolism surrounding the WRC (rivers, peaks, eagles, salmon) but the artists have prevailed insisting on a sleek corporate design to appear on all WRC materials in order to acquire visual recognition—but with plenty of opportunity for t-shirts, hats, posters, notecards, etc. to contain more detail of the WRC vision/image. The theme for the logo and potentially for the WRC is "Wilderness-the World's Living Laboratory". We should have a lively session discussing the logo proposal. Keep your minds open. It is uncertain whether a design mock-up will be ready by our next meeting.

Inter-Office Memorandum

Subject Taylor Ranch Use

Date August 27, 1976

As you know, John Hartung is a Master's student and is doing a primary source study of The Idaho Primitive Area. We are presently planning his course and field work. It looks like the Taylor Ranch would be ideal as a headquarters for much of his field work during June, July and August of next year. He may also be accompanied by a photographer part of the time. Is there any problem with housing John plus one at the ranch next summer?

No problem if they don't mind living in a tent.

Subject: Strengthening focus for the '92-'93 academic year.

Position descriptions for administrators and exempt professional staff are not completed in September as they are for faculty. During our performance evaluation interviews in January it is my custom to establish jointly with each of you a list of "big ticket" items reflecting your agenda targets for the next year. So that I can review progress with you on these items for the year to date, and agree on adjustments and additions or deletions, I would like to meet with each of you during the next month. Nancy will arrange one-hour meetings to fit our respective schedules. Please consider the targets we identified last winter, our interactions since then, and propose adjustments/revisions. Please consider how I can help you achieve your goals.

I look forward to these meetings with anticipation. You have already achieved much this year but the challenges facing us are imposing, i.e., enrollment increases, curricula integration, space adjustments, managing increased productivity, expanding our leadership for Idaho's natural resources—all in the face of reduced state funding. Staying focused on your (and the college's) most important priorities will be important to our continuing progress. Helping your faculty identify their most important targets for the year will also be a key to their progress.

I want to work with each and all of you to make this an outstanding year.

CONFIDENTIAL MEMORANDUM

DATE: May 22, 1992

TO: Jeff Yeo
Ed Krumpe

FROM: John C. Hendee, Dean John C. Hendee

SUBJECT: Wilderness Research Center

I appreciate the work Jeff did on the annual report, and for this year. I suggest we go with the last edited version I have enclosed, appended with my letter to Dr. Bell. I favor limited distribution for now until we can meet and discuss how to further broaden UI involvement.

The past two years we have consolidated management to accomplish some changes (hiring Jeff, the Lanham addition, WRC directorship) but the future of WRC and Taylor Ranch depend on building an expanded program with broader UI support and involvement. We may not survive, much less thrive, without it. I would like the three of us to meet and consider how to move in that direction and make it next year's goal to progress in that direction. We need more shared leadership. The composition of an advisory committee and charter for its responsibilities is a key, and a very well planned convening of that group is essential to address issues. CFWR domination of the WRC and Taylor Ranch is a potential weakness, but I don't know who outside of the college to involve in planning expanded involvement. Continued progress toward achieving potential of the WRC and Taylor Ranch, including shared leadership and removing a lingering stigma from long past, will be essential to getting UI support for WRC and Taylor Ranch.

Nancy will plan a meeting among the three of us. In the meantime I will chat with each of you as occasions permit, and maybe talk with some other individuals.

Thanks for your good work and help.
