UNIVERSITY OF IDAHO AGRICULTURAL BULLETIN SERVICE

The bulletins you find listed here are available to all Idaho citizens free of charge. You need not send postage for their delivery but be sure to give the name and number of each bulletin you wish sent to you. And don't forget to write your name and address plainly so there can be no mistake or delay in our service to you.

If you want a bulletin on a particular subject and do not find it listed in our catalog, drop us a card or letter explaining your need. We may have such a bulletin among bulletins from other states or from the United States Department of Agriculture.

Your county agent has a supply of University bulletins and most of the other bulletins that we carry. He will be glad to have you visit his office or call him by phone if he can help you.

You will notice that we have placed stars or asterisks at the side of our new bulletin numbers. These publications are in our new series. We no longer publish circulars and mimeos as we formerly did. All publications of the Extension Service and all Experiment Station bulletins come under this series and are numbered consecutively. Research Bulletins are under another series and are numbered and listed as formerly.

The University of Idaho College of Agriculture is dedicated to the progress of Idaho agriculture and to serving Idaho's farm people. It's classroom studies and laboratories aim at the scientific and practical education of Idaho's young men who choose to make farming or its allied industries their way of life. It's agricultural Experiment Station searches constantly for scientific information that will make Idaho farming more profitable and more pleasant and secure. Its Agricultural Extension Service, through its specialists and county personnel, brings scientific farm and home information to the doorsteps of Idaho farm people.

For authentic information that fits your farming conditions, call your University of Idaho representative, your county agent. You will find him eager to serve you.

Order from or call for your bulletins at any of these three addresses. Make your choice according to your own convenience.
