IDAHO'S FIRST NEWSPAPER FOR WOMEN:

Idaho Women's Times is a new newspaper dedicated to in depth coverage of women's health, sports, employment, education and other issues. Publisher Patricia Goldmann is committed to bringing information about a variety of issues to women throughout the state. She will also feature women throughout the state who are active in different areas that affect women's lives. In addition to the paper, printouts on specific subjects will be available to the public. The idea of a statewide newspaper evolved from Goldmann's work with Mujeres Unidas de Idaho and their newsletter which she created two years ago. She found that many women were interested in the articles about health and wanted more information.

Idaho Women's Times will be available this month. The first issue is free, after that it will appear on the 15th of every month for $1.25 an issue or $15 for a year's subscription. Write to Idaho Women's Times, Ketchum, ID 83340-0827 or call 208-726-2346.

ATHENA MARCH MEETING will be held on March 3rd in the Morin Room of Wallace Complex. The social begins at 6:00pm with dinner at 6:30. The meeting/presentation will begin at 7:15. Prof. Marvin Henberg will present the 'Ethnic Diversity Task Force Report'. For dinner reservations please call Gail de Santis, 885-6050 by Feb. 24th.

CANDIDATE TRAINING FOR WOMEN The Idaho Women's Network, League of Women Voters and the Boise YWCA are co-sponsoring a campaign skills workshop in Boise on March 19th to train women and people of color to run for elective office or to manage and work on campaigns. For more information please call the IWN office in Boise at 208-334-5738.

"IN EVERY GENERATION, ACTION FREES OUR DREAMS" is the theme for National Women's History Month, March 1994. The Women's Center is pleased to offer a variety of programs that look to our foremothers for wisdom and lessons, and to the present for actions and policies that will shape a future filled with realizable dreams. One of those dreams will be coming to fruition with the advent of the Women Studies minor on the U of I campus. The Women's Center extends a warm congratulations to all the women and men who have worked hard over many years to bring Women's Studies to the campus. Hurrah for Dreams!!

Commemorative posters for National Women's History Month are available for $6, plus $3.50 for s&h from the National Women's History Project, Dept. P, 7738 Bell Road, Windsor, Ca 95492 or call (707) 838-6000.
